'72-'73 at Southwest has included not only school activities, but involvement with our churches,
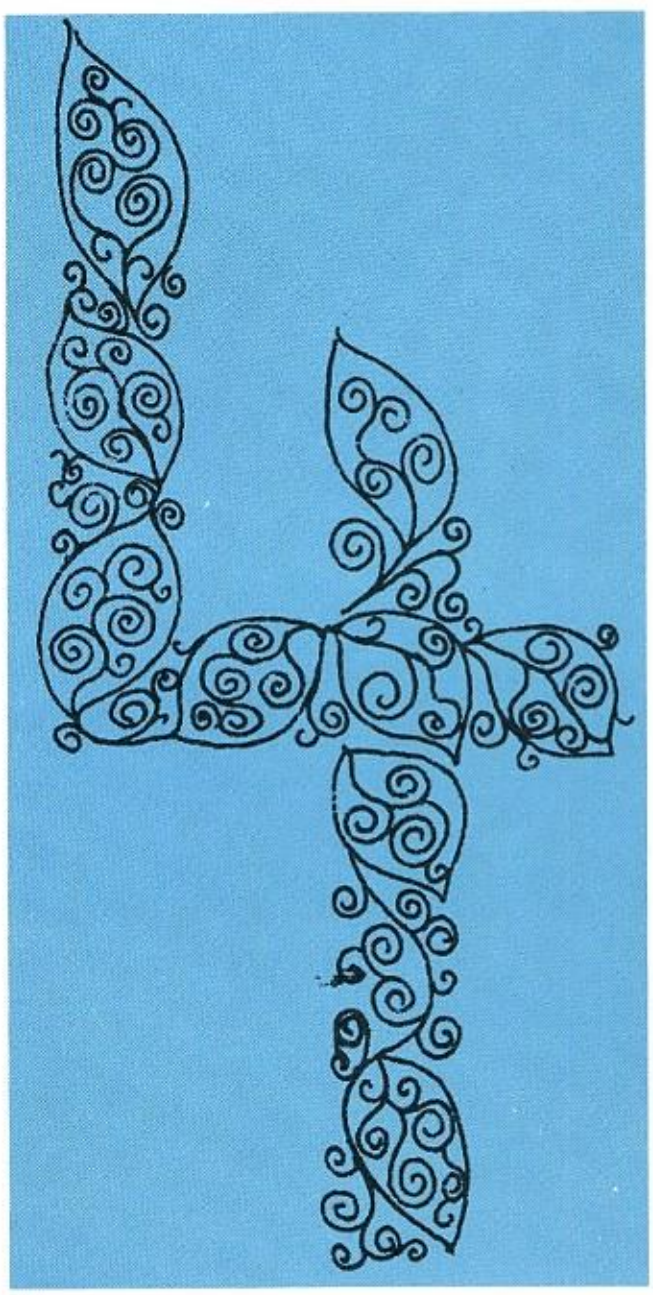
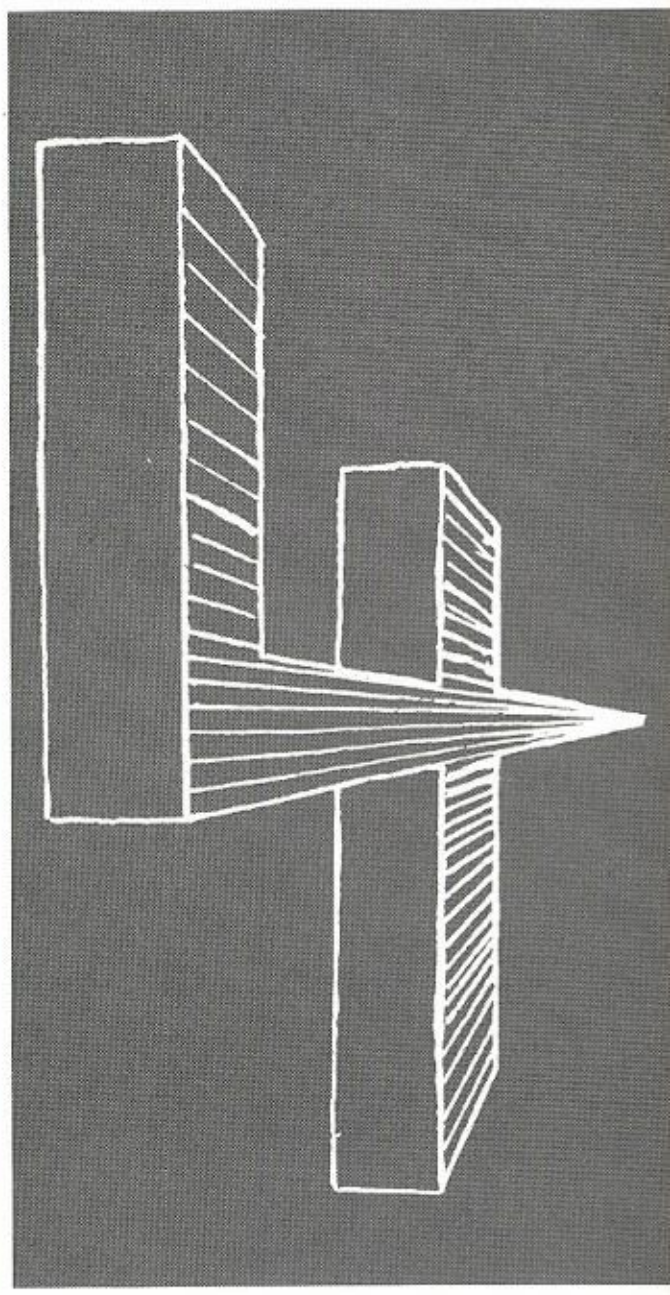
our families, and our jobs.





Each one of us has given of himself to the memories we hold in common: favorite subjects, tests, field trips, assemblies, sports, dances, lunch in the cafeteria or off-campus — for juniors and seniors.

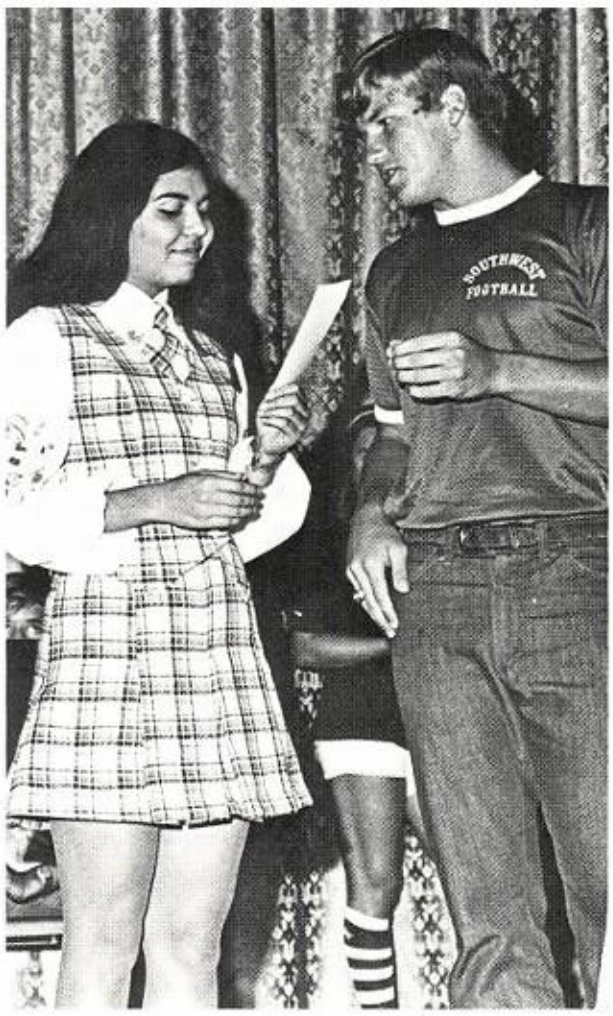
Howdy Week, Open House Honor New Students, Parents

For some, the end of summer means a return to familiar surroundings; for others, it's the beginning of their high school years. Southwest says "howdy" to these new faces with a special night of fun at Putt-n-Par. Kevin Denny welcomes SW exchange student Shahla Tatari at the first pep rally. Freshmen (even the four-legged ones) enjoy an evening of miniature golf. Senior girls show their strength in a skit at the pep rally. (Top to bottom, l.-r.)



The days of showing Mommy and Daddy their fingerpainting masterpieces are gone, but students still welcome them to meet their teachers. Each fall, Southwest opens its doors to parents during Open House Night, sponsored by the Booster Club. "According to this map, we're now in the Teachers' Lounge." Some parents decide to have a drink before trying to locate 007, 154, et al. Open House can really be a riot, as Mrs. Jones and Miss Martinez will tell you. (Top to bottom, l.-r.)

Exesfest Offers Fun, Food, and Memories During Rebel Homecoming 1972

For the Exes, Homecoming Week is a time to be reunited with old friends and a time to bring back memories. With this in mind, Southwest honors its graduates with the annual Exesfest. "Gee, I bet we look stupid holding these balloons!" Some people just aren't ready for matrimony, even if it only costs a dime. Varsity cheerleader tryouts won't be held until next spring, but a few candidates auditioned during the Exesfest.

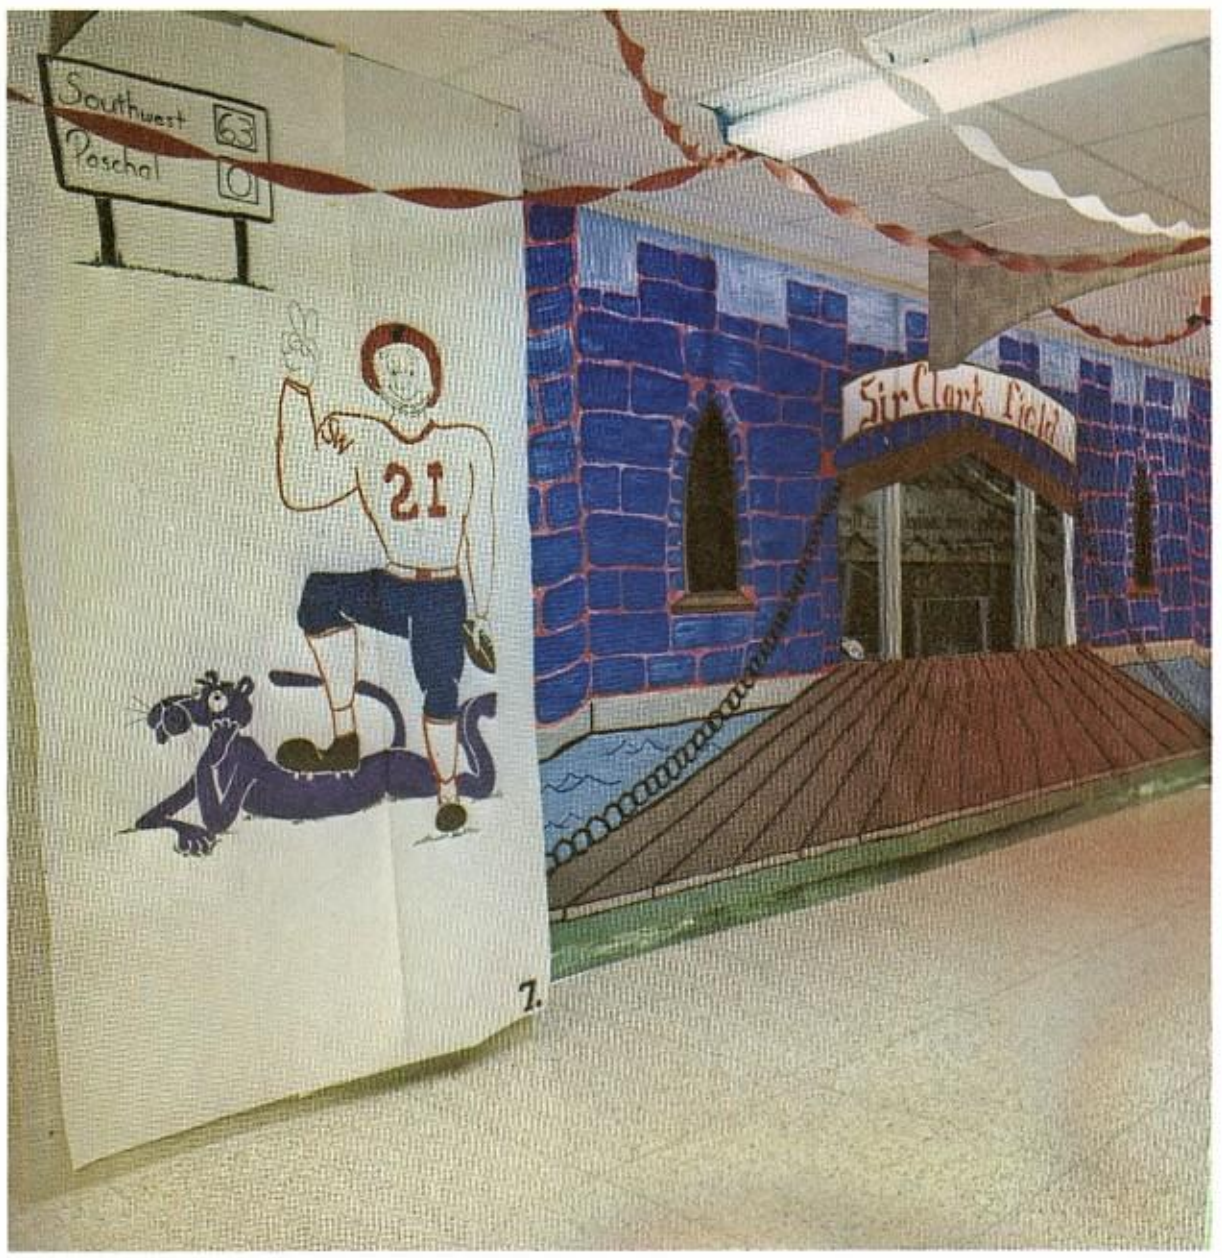
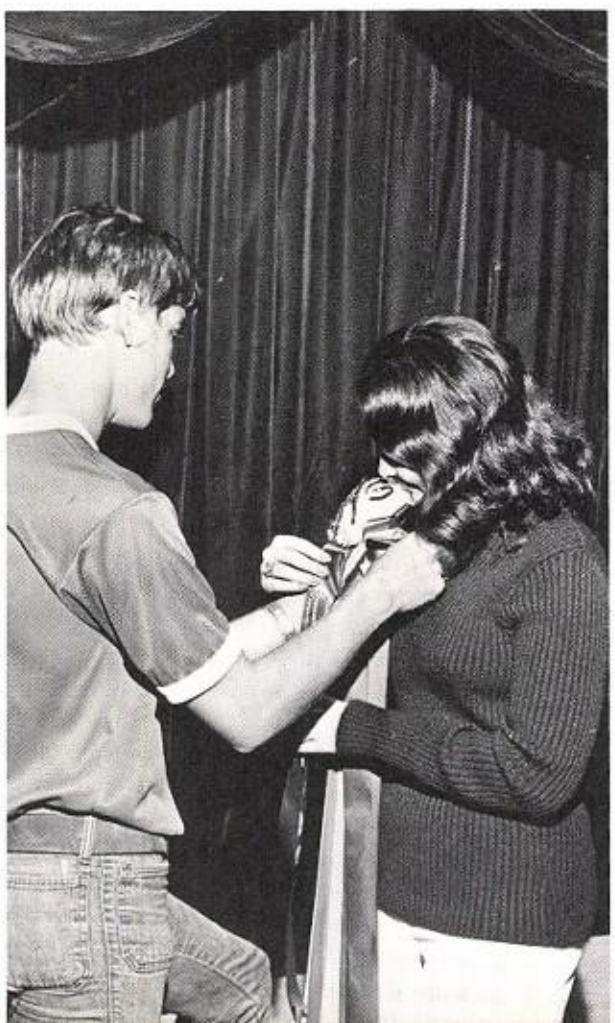
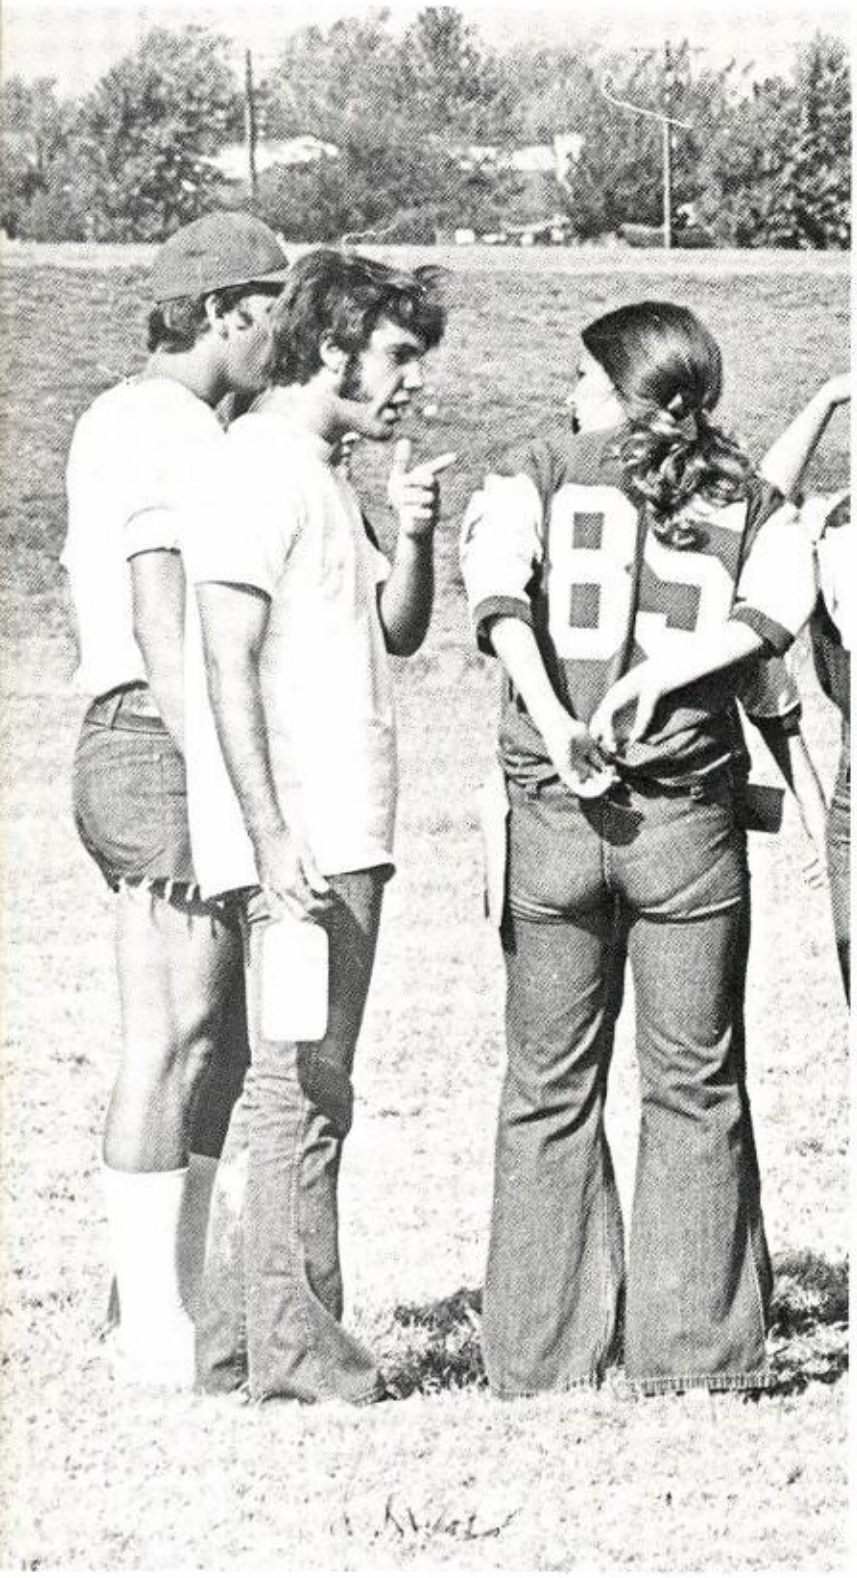
All This, Plus Victory Over Paschal, Too!



Long hours of painting and decorating produce a building glowing with red, white, and blue splendor. Each hall carries out a specific theme — "Rebeland," "This Way to Rebelwood," "Storybookland," and "Rebelot." The students worked diligently to get their decorations finished on time. Each class spent lots of time and effort in preparing the halls. It was a difficult task to decide which was the best, but the judges finally picked the Seniors' hall as the winner.

Homecoming means different things to different people. For a girl, it means getting a beautiful mum (or at least hoping for one). For a guy, it means about $8.00 to pay to the flower shop. For one lucky girl, it means being chosen to represent Southwest as its Homecoming Queen. Spirit abounds at the pep rally and later that night at the game, where the Homecoming Queen and her Court are presented at halftime. Donna Young finds out that happiness is getting a mum; misery is trying to get it pinned on. Rebel Ann points the way to all the Homecoming decorations. (Top to bottom, l.-r.)





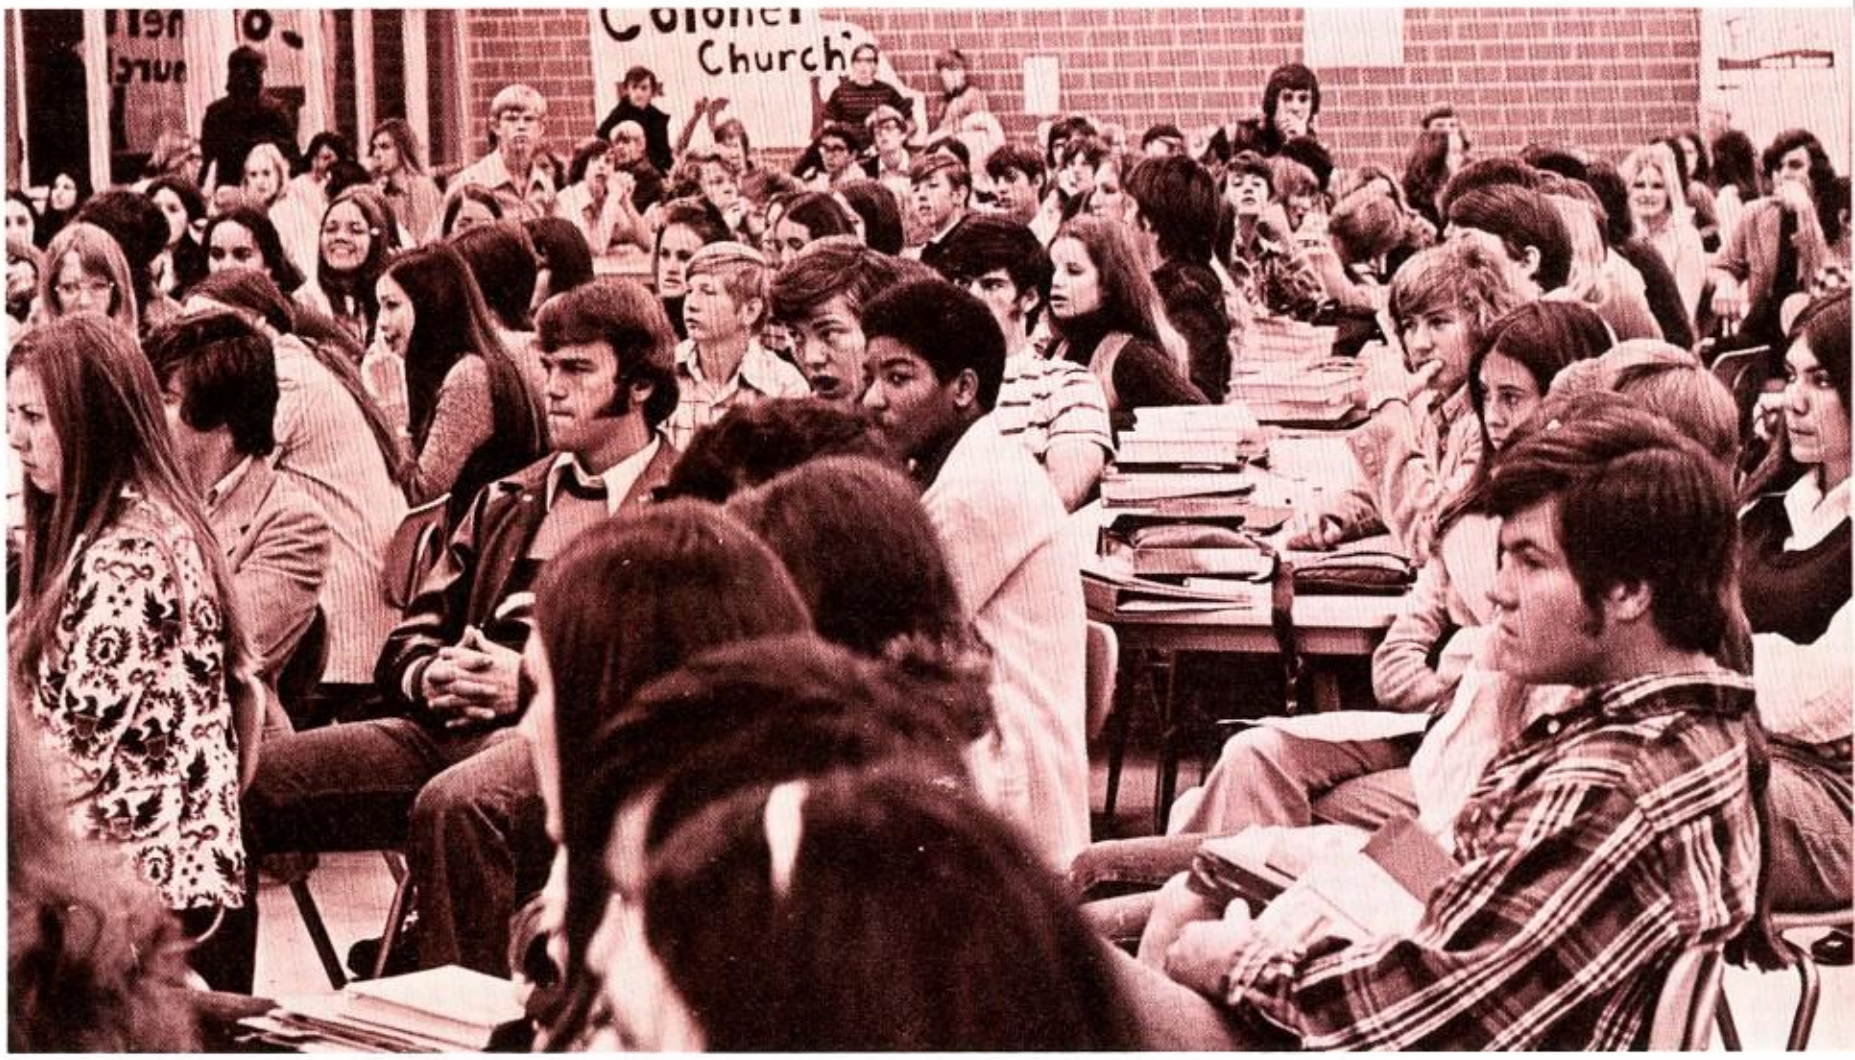
Girls Go Gridiron in Powder Puff

Turn about is fair-play — at least so say the girls — and thus is born the annual Powder Puff Football Game. Girls exchange perfume for jerseys and dates for weekend practices; then the big day arrives. Football boys coach the Senior-Freshman Team to ultimate victory over the Junior-Sophomores, and the girls turn their attention back to things more feminine. "I will not fumble, I will not fumble!" repeats Lecia Lewis. The girls prove to be better at football than the guys thought they would be. Seniors and freshmen run off the field victorious. (Top to bottom, l.-r.)

Opposite page: Coach Tyer offers a little advice to one of his players. Keeping your shirt tucked in is all part of the game. An advertisement for Nair, perhaps? "Don't touch me — my nails aren't dry yet!"

One, Two, Three, Who Are You Voting Four?

If you can't take the students to the candidates, bring the candidates to the students. And so appear Texas Senate Candidates Betty Andujar and Incumbent Mike Moncrief to debate their views for SHS's history and government classes. Old issues come to life, and new issues bite the dust as students' questions are brought before the candidates. Insights gained more than pay for the time missed from class. (Top to bottom, l.-r.)



A Rabbit Named "Harvey" Comes to SHS's Stage

Have you seen a six-foot rabbit around that answers to the name of "Harvey"? You haven't? Well, you're really not supposed to, because only Elwood P. Dowd can see him. Southwest's Drama Department presents the popular play "Harvey," with Barry Waddell in the famous James Stewart role.

It looked as if District 4A-10 would be swallowed alive by a vibrant and talented SHS squad. Potential and enthusiasm overflowed from the Rebel team. Then all watched in wonder as the mighty machine refused to start for the first two out-of-town games. Rebel supporters breathed a sigh of relief when the Rebels took a decisive win over Eastern Hills, then sucked it in again as SHS pulled out a tie over Wyatt.

District play found the Rebels ready to pounce on the unsuspecting teams of Paschal, Carter, and Western Hills, capturing a victory in each case. Then the early season injuries took their toll as a blocked punt during the Northside game took the district championship to the final game of the season against Heights. All was lost in the final game in which the Rebels fell 0-10 to claim a 5-4-1 record for the season.

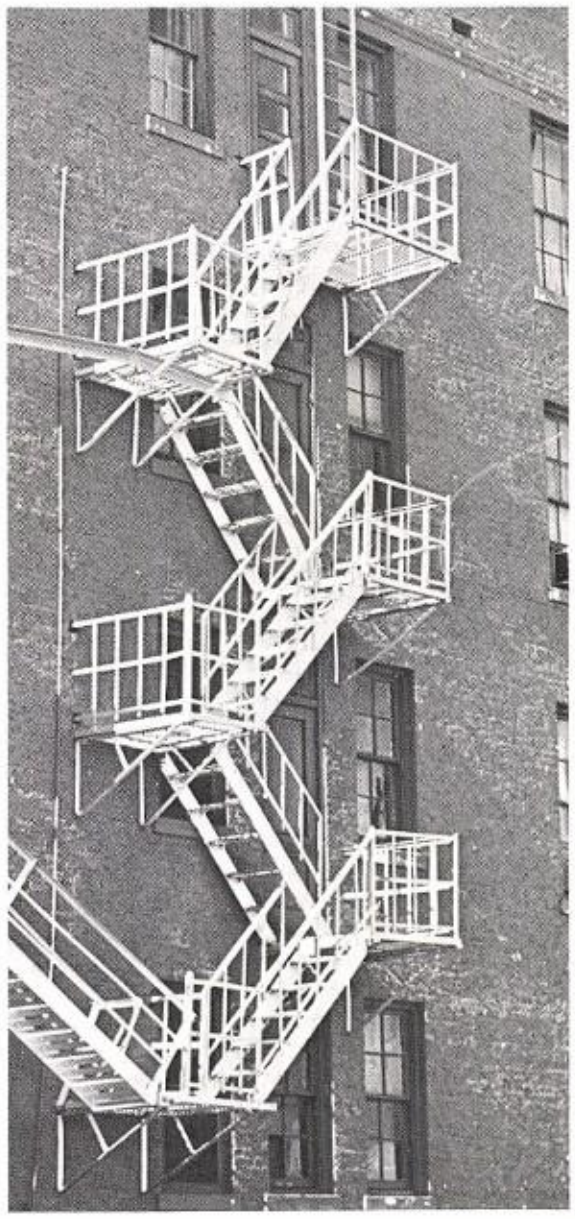
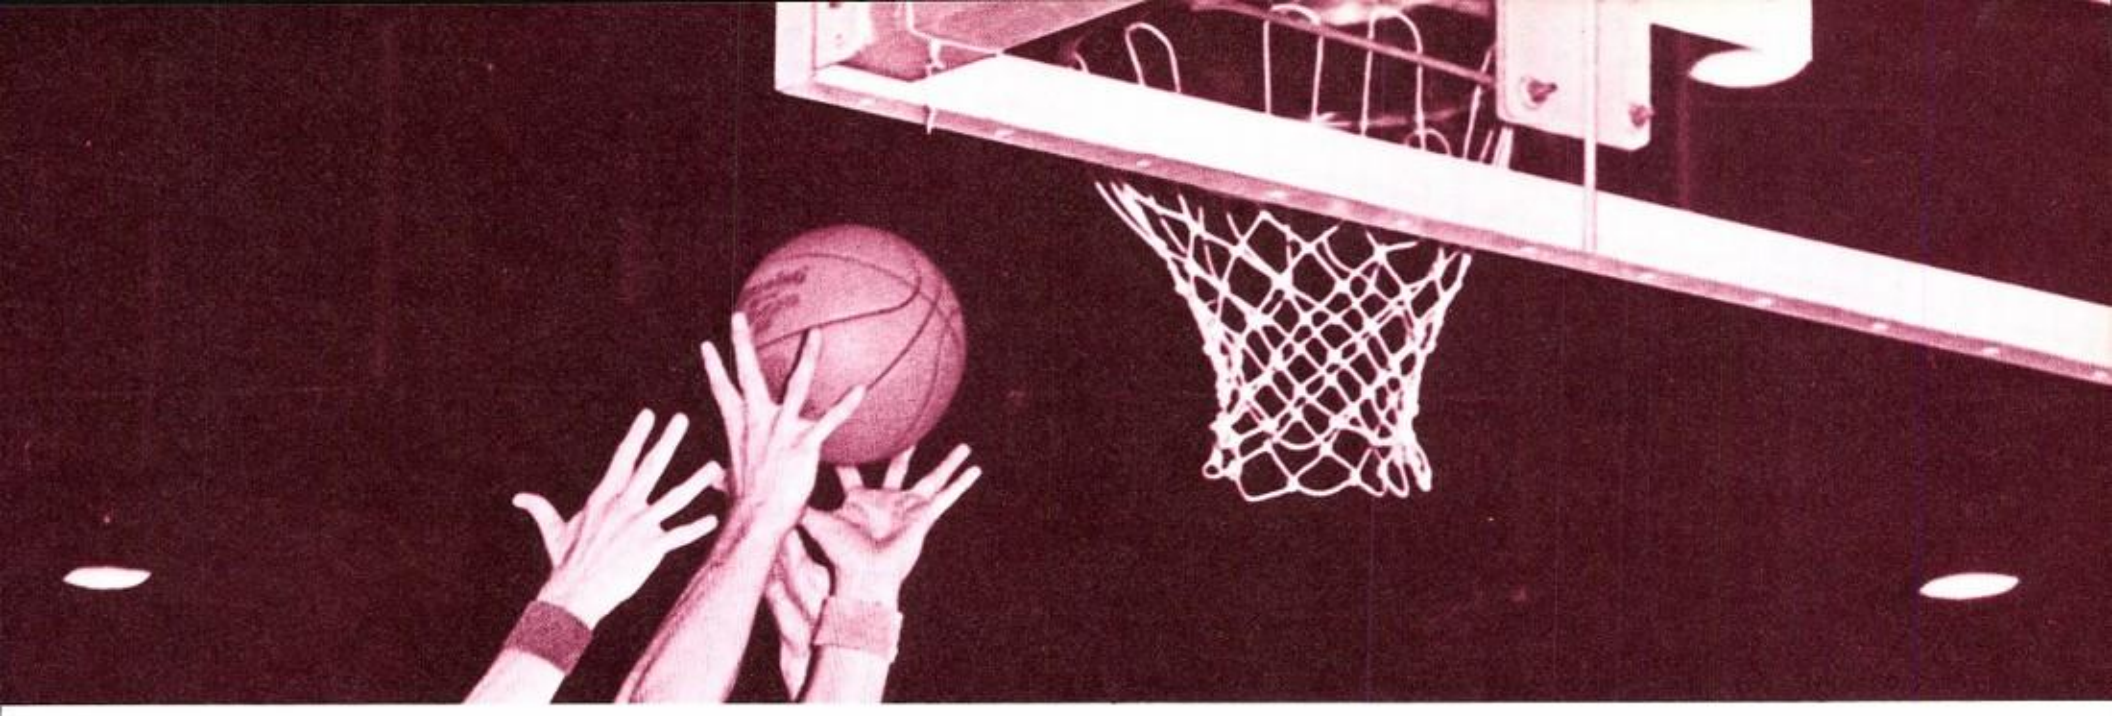
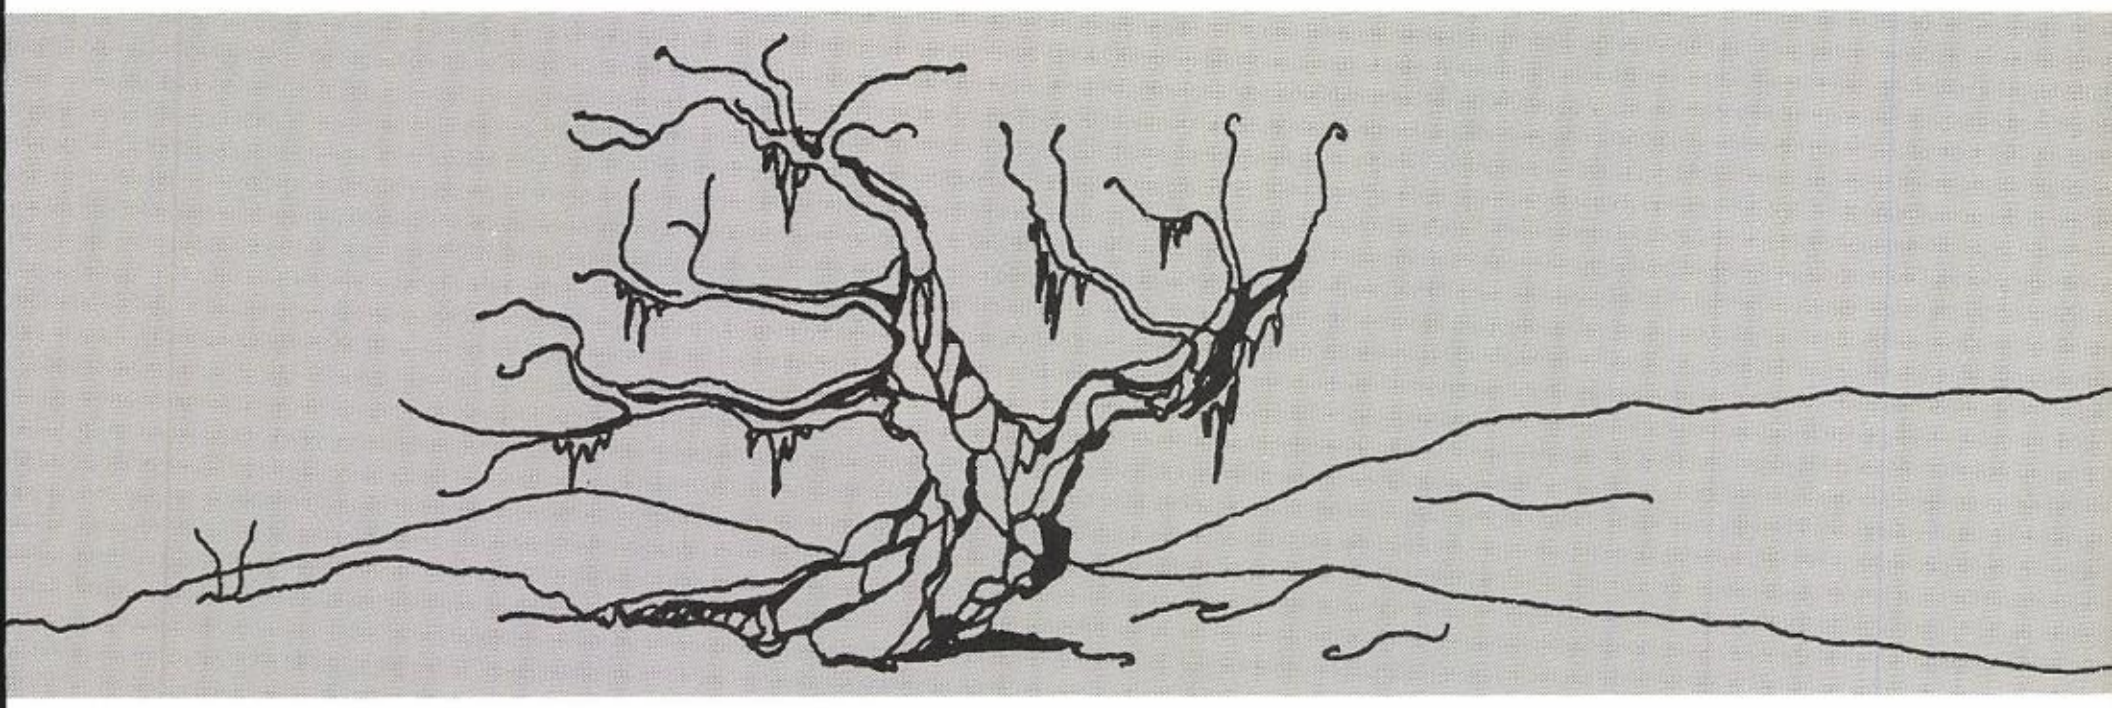
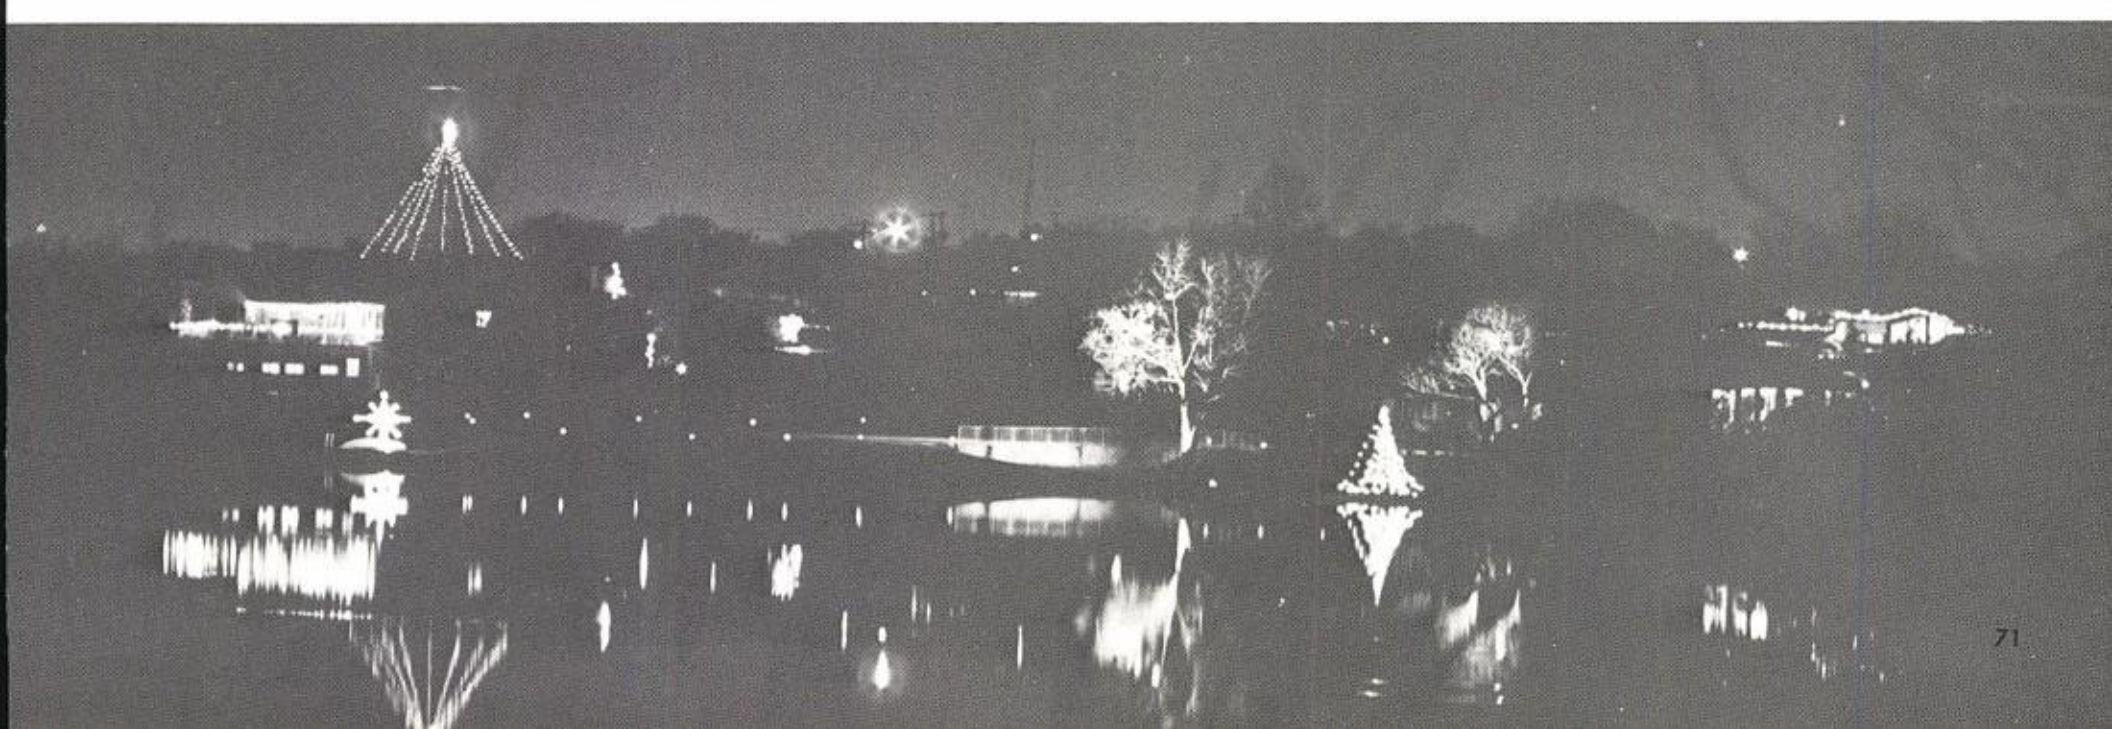
HIGHLIGHTS & SPORTS





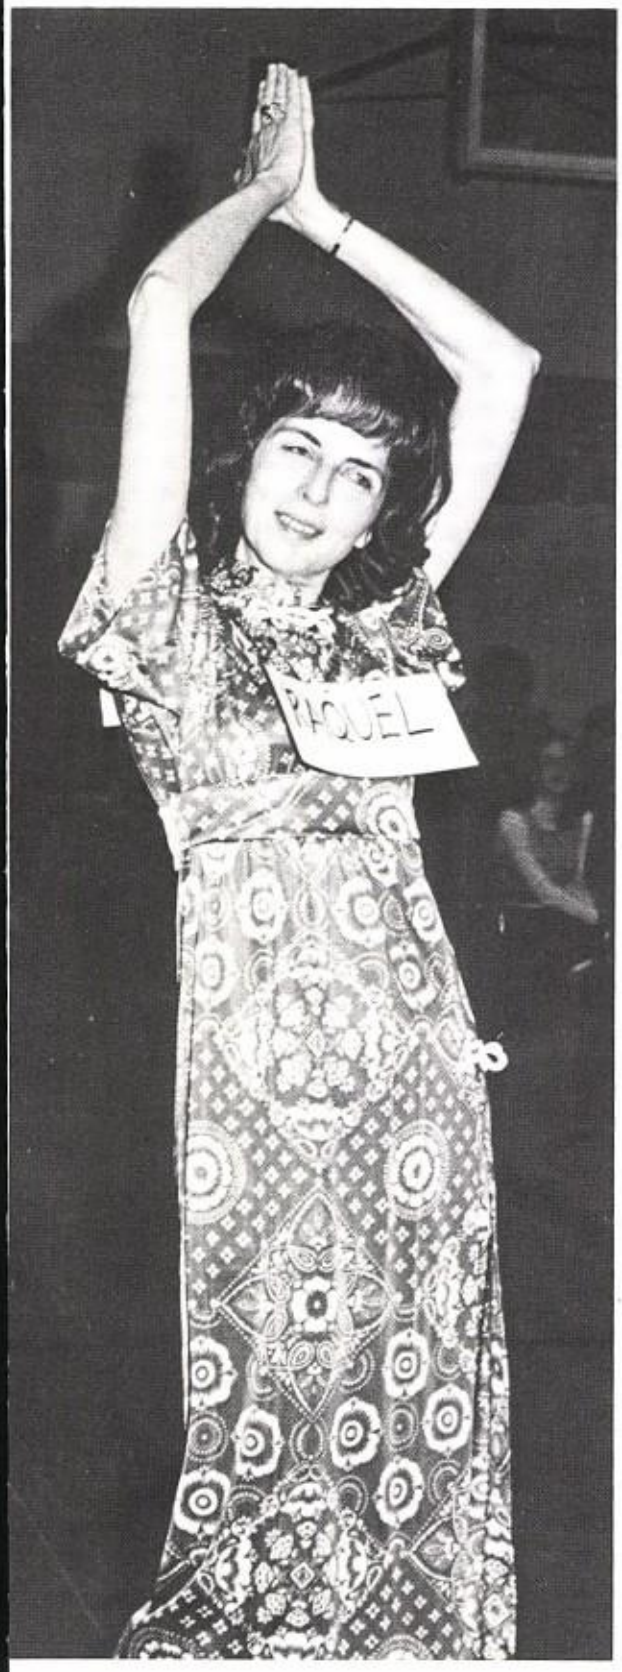




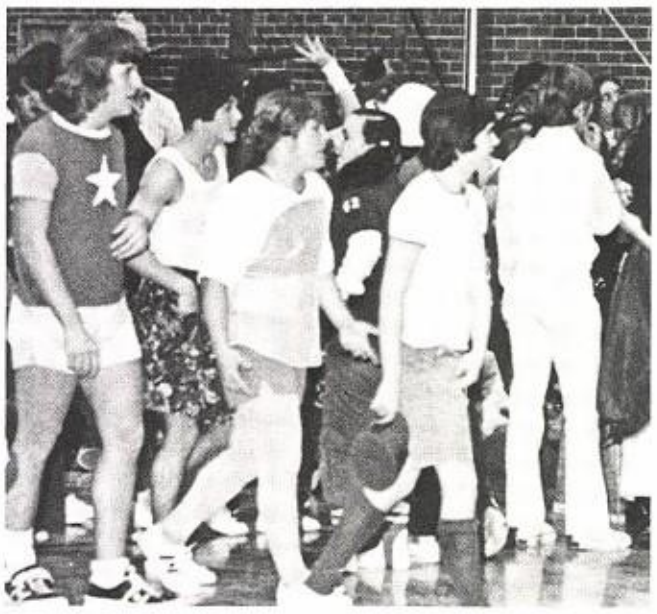
Council + Teachers = Controversy

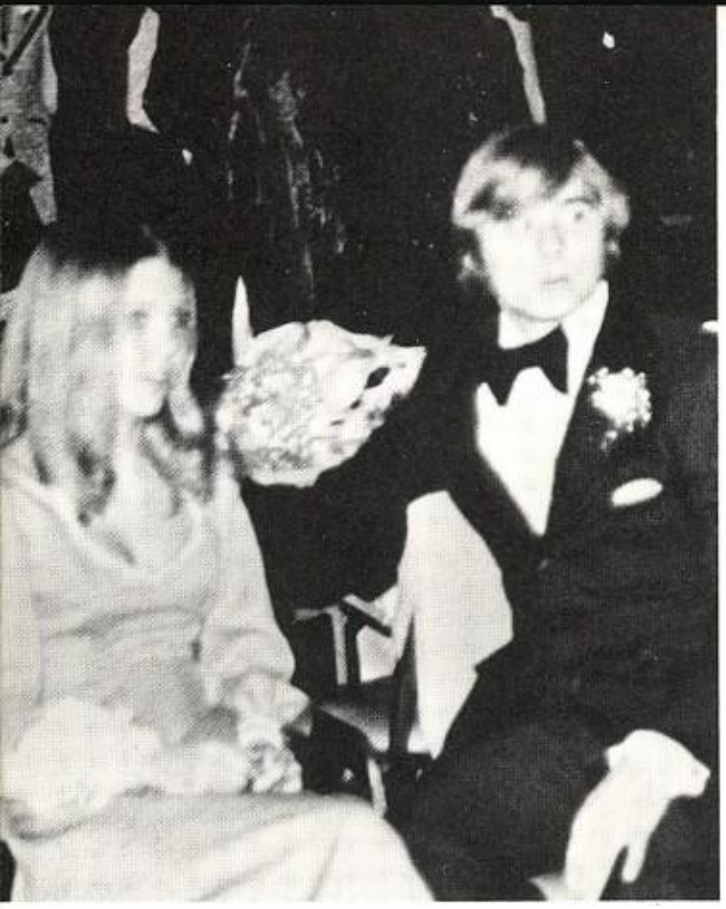
One of the outstanding highlights in sports occurs each year as the faculty challenges the members of the Student Council to a volleyball match. The students are usually the winners, but the teachers always give it "the old college try." The teams may not be Olympic material, but they're prime candidates for next year's Halloween party.

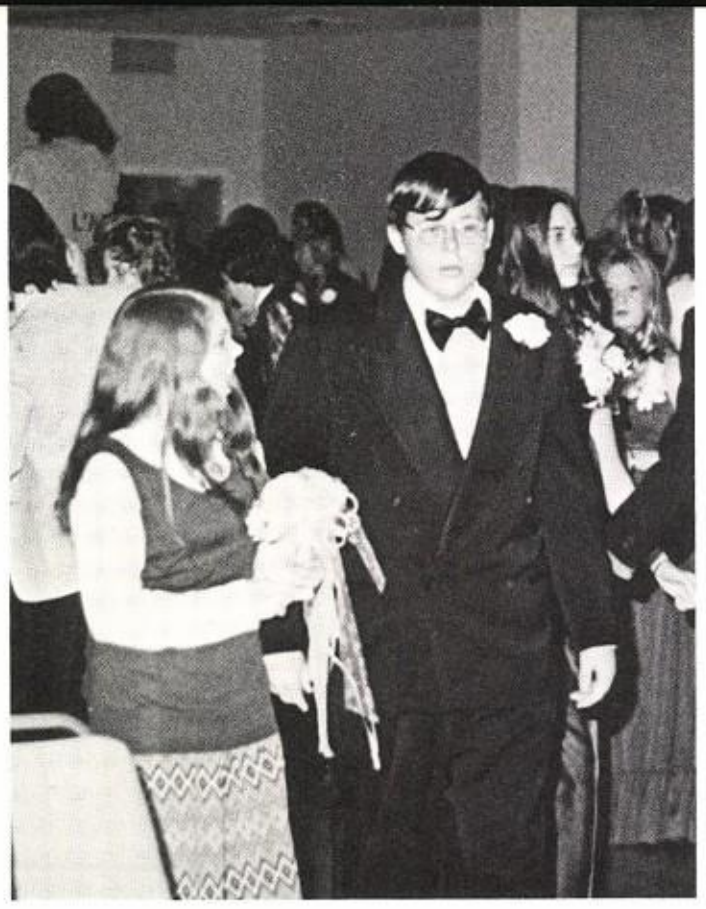
This page: Obviously, all of the Volleyball Queen candidates have read The Sensuous Woman. Mrs. Smith tries desperately to evade the oncoming volleyball. Opposite page: David Bennett regrets telling Mr. Weaver that his mascara is smeared. "Sexy Schuster" dives into the game. "We've got to stop meeting like this!" cries Marshal Harris to Greg Dozier. McCown attempts to lead his team to victory. (Top to bottom, l.-r.)



RAQUEL

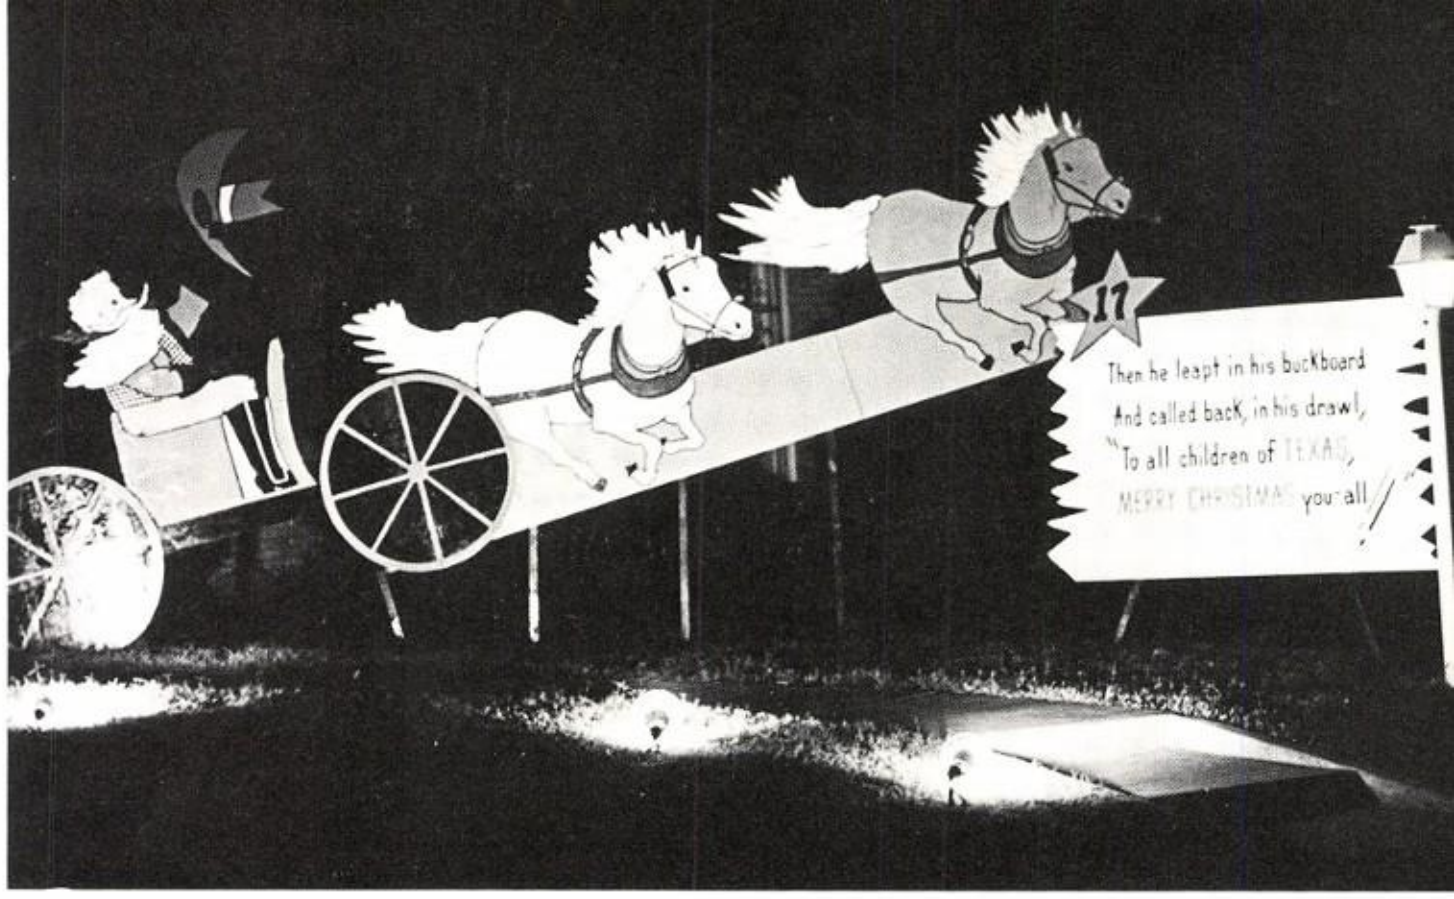


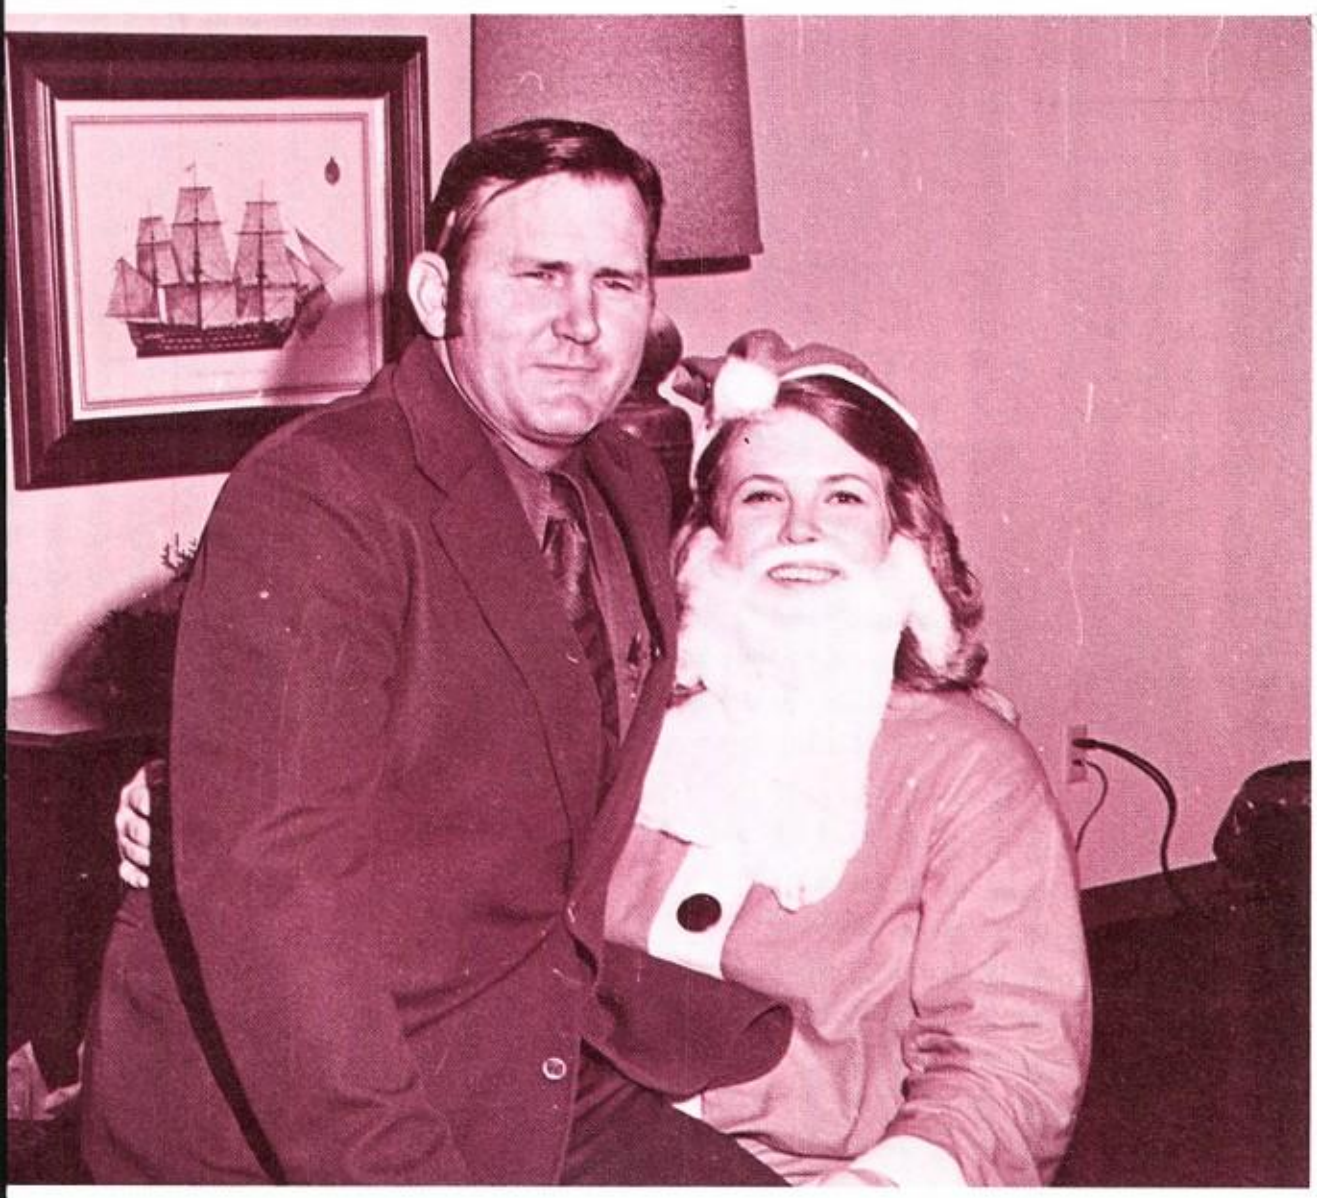




Girls Doing the Asking? Only at the Backwards Bash

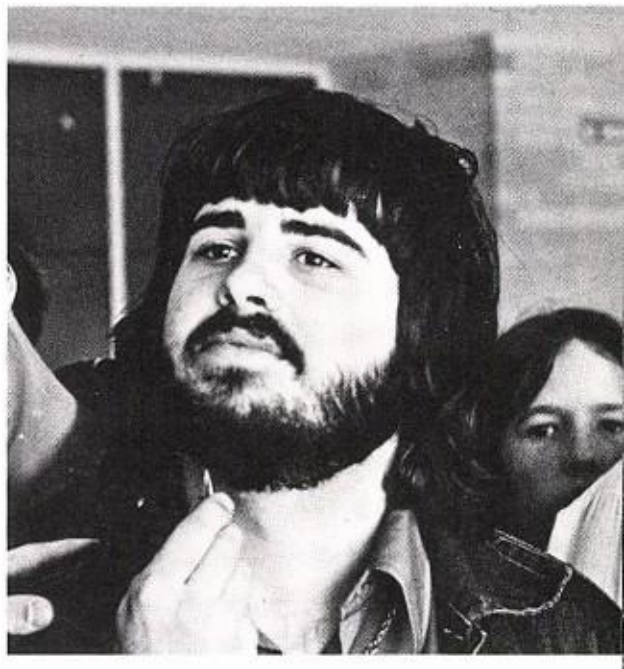
"I'm afraid he won't go with me!" A familiar sound as the girls find out what the guys go through. The occasion is the Backwards Bash, the only time where you'll find the girls doing the driving and opening car doors for their dates. They find out something else the guys have to do is they pay for the tickets and dinner that evening. Paul appears to have seen a ghost (or an old girlfriend). "Just because the dance is backwards doesn't mean you dance backwards, dummy!" John Robertson does his Tom Jones impression at the dance. The TCU Student Center is crowded with Southwest students and their dates. (Top to bottom, l.-r.)





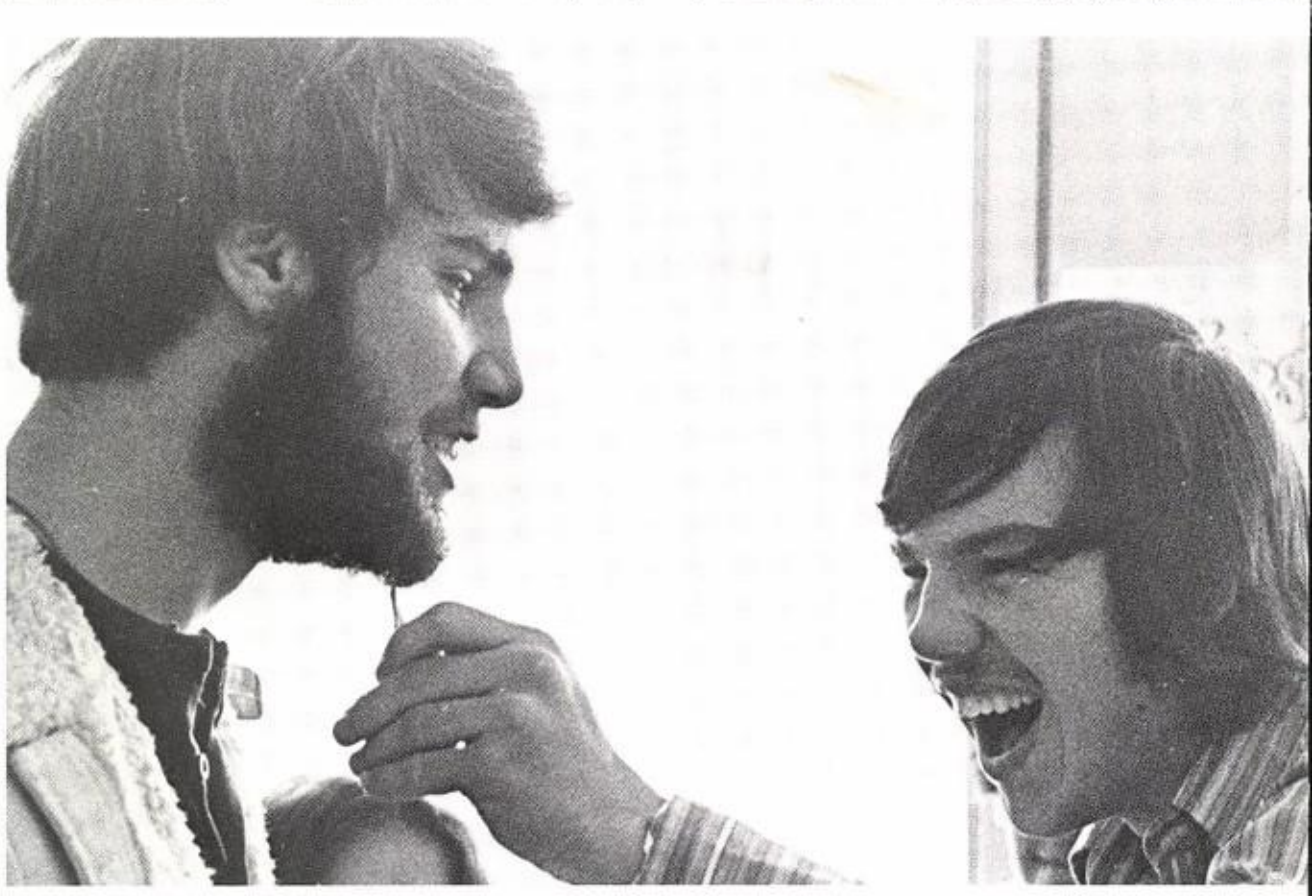
Christmas — a Time for Joy, Counting Blessings

Christmas is a time of beautifully decorated trees and colorfully lighted houses, of Santa Claus, and mounds of gifts underneath the tree. But it is also a time for giving, for loving, for sharing, and most of all, for thanksgiving. This year we have even more to be thankful for — the war that has lasted for so many years may finally be coming to an end, so that soon there may truly be "Peace on earth, good will toward men."



Razors Rest for Hairy Rebels

"Hair today, gone tomorrow" seems to be the theme as the guys at Southwest compete to see who can grow the longest and fullest beard. The competition starts before Christmas and lasts until Stock Show Day, which is an awfully long time to go without a razor. Some of the guys are just "itching" for the judging to begin. David Suggs and Greg Charles show off their prize-winning beards. "Oh, that tickles!" yells Terry Purkey as his beard is cut. (Top to bottom, l.-r.)



Cupid "Hellos" Young Lovers

Love is . . . having your honey send you a Valentine at school. "Sweets for the sweet" are delivered by DECA club members and love letters in the form of Western Union telegrams and scrolls delivered by Latin Club members. Students try to get an interested customer to buy a valentine. Rhonda Griswold and June Kelly find out that they have secret admirers. (Top to bottom, l.-r.)

Rebels Don Their Skates for a "Fun" Evening on Ice

Southwest students take to the ice at Will Rogers during a special evening of skating sponsored by the Student Council. For those who have skated before, it's an evening of fun; but for those who have never skated, it can sometimes be a "painful experience."

This page: Pat Virgets tries to help Julie Riddle up . . . and they both end up in a heap . . . By the way, Pat, where are your skates? Opposite page: Susie Newman apparently slides on the ice more than she skates on it . . . Lisa Lee and Laura Bell giggle as they struggle into their ice skates . . . One skate to another, "The ice of SHS is upon you" . . . Ah-gee isn't that sweet, Linda Robinson and Bert Alarid skating arm and arm . . . And around the bend glides List Neathery with Patricia Gothard a close second.

The mighty Southwest Basketeers placed four players on the 10AAAA All-District team. These were some of the Rebs that led the team to the Championship. David Church was the only first team All-District selection. Richie Wilson and Bill Heuer were second team selections and Randy Crawford received an honorable mention.

This page: Coach Wood says, "Look, I have nothing up my sleeve." Opposite page: "Now listen my players, and you shall hear the sad, sad story of the North Side Steers."

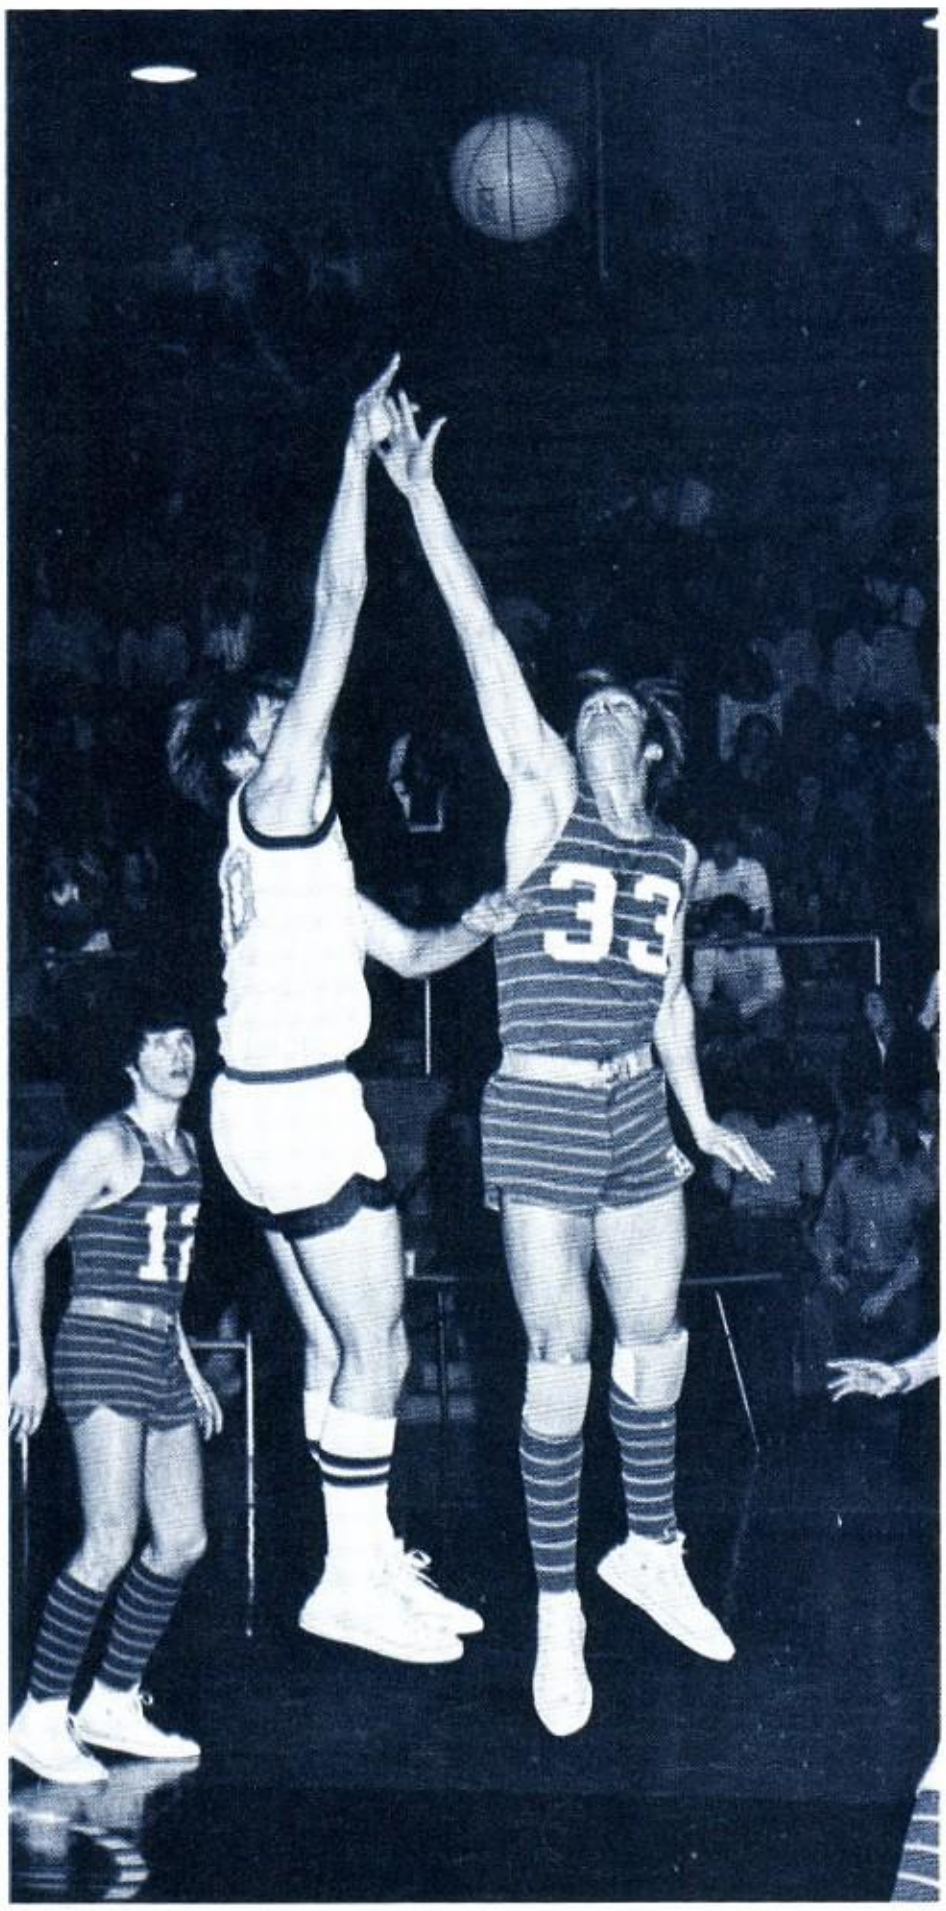
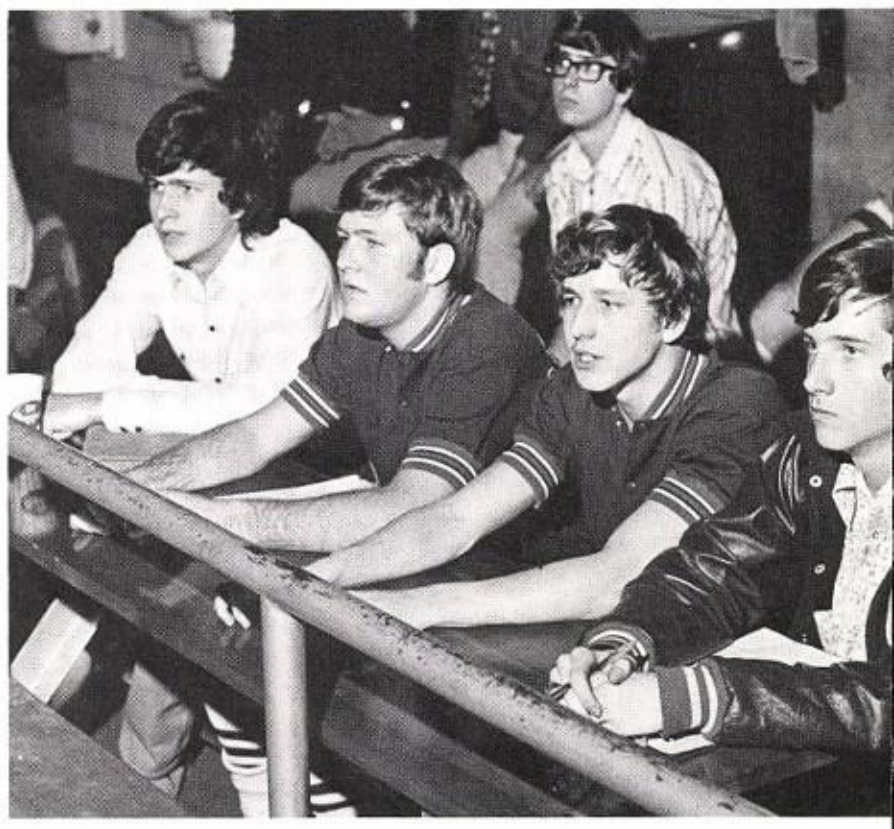
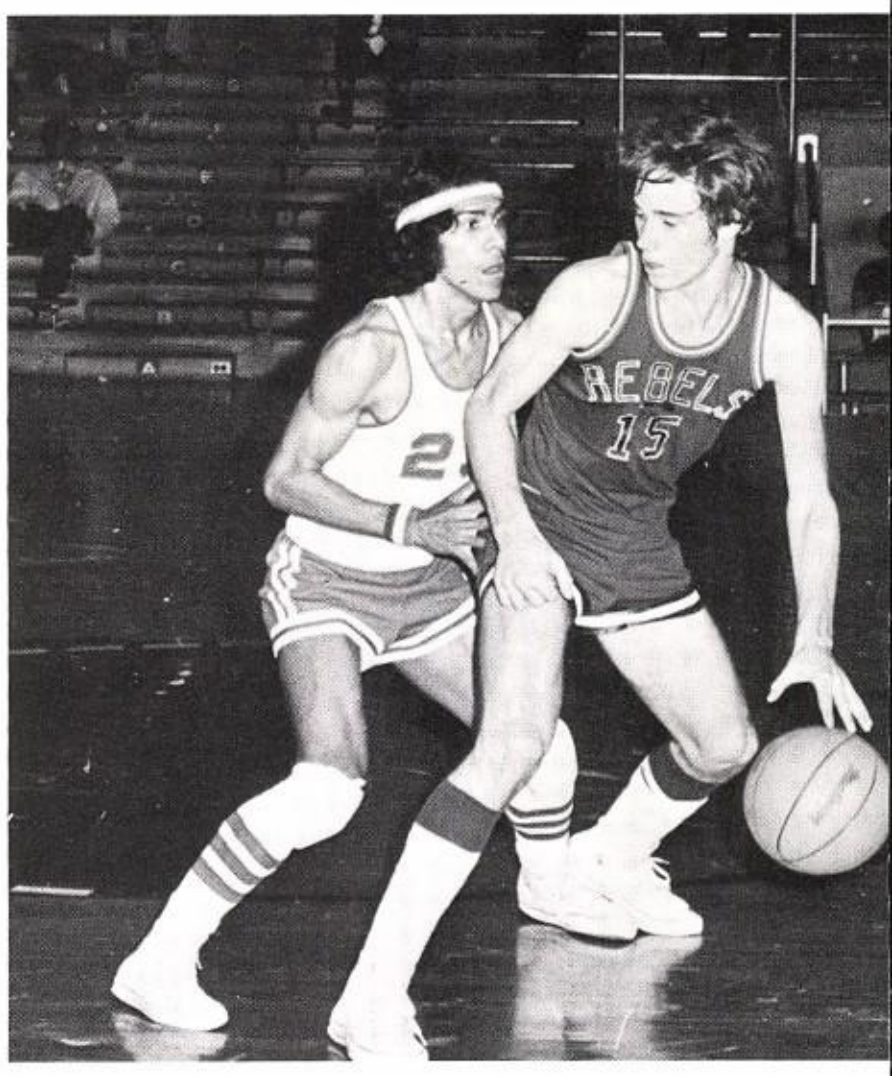
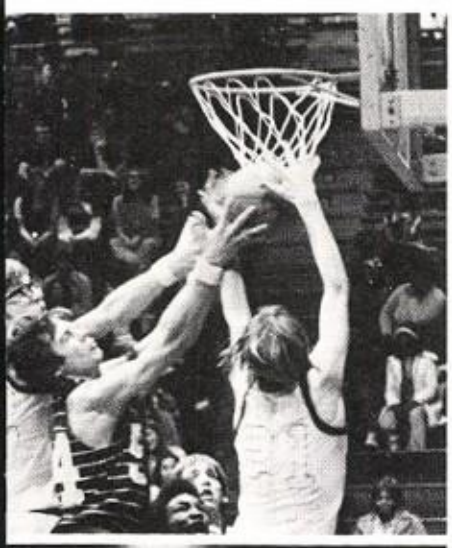
November 16 was the date the Southwest Rebel roundballers, after months of strenuous preparations, walked into the Poly Parrots' gym and challenged the wayward birds to a match. The night ended in a victory for the Rebs, opening the 1972-73 season, which would stack the team against many formidable foes. Wichita Falls Rider, Dallas Lincoln, Arlington Sam Houston, and (the UCLA of Texas basketball) Houston Wheatley are but a few of the teams Southwest met in their pre-season play.

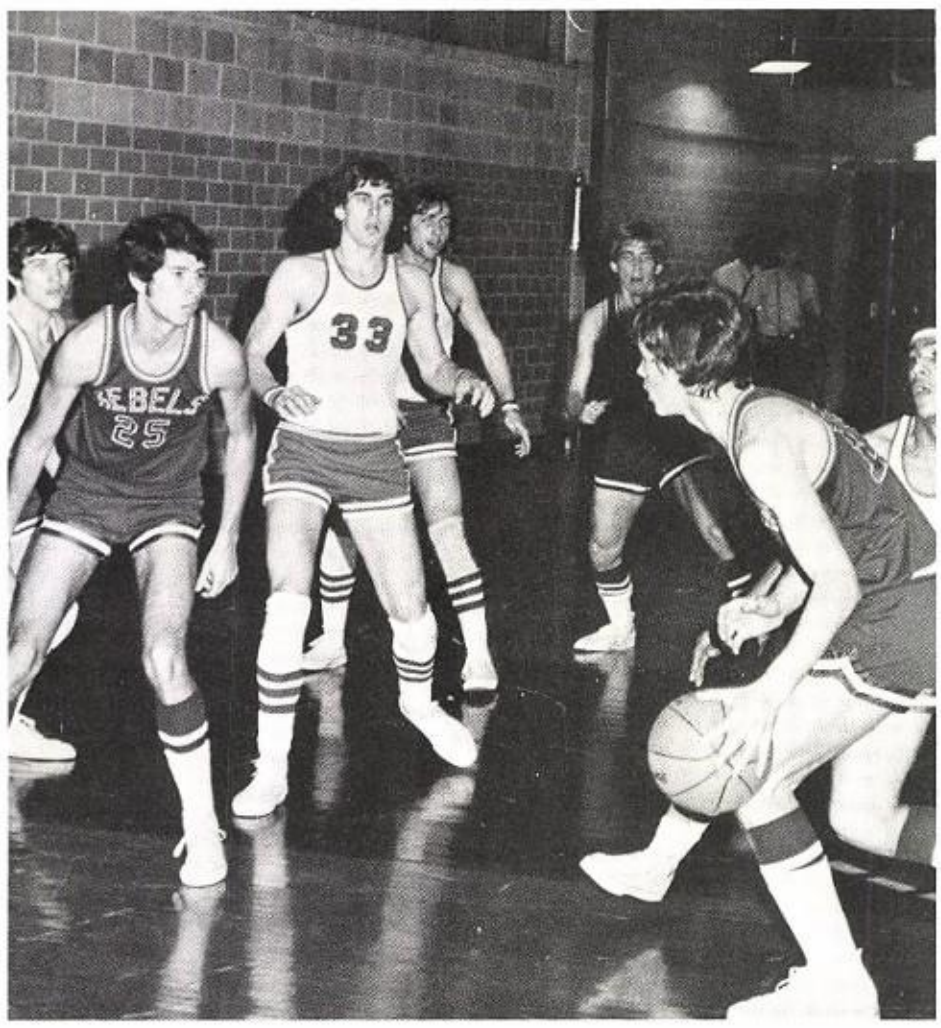






This early action, also, brought the Rebs into three tournaments: Birdville, Optimist, and the Christmas vacation Lion's Club tourney. As the cagers' pre-season action came to an end, the Rebs had mounted an impressive 16 win 5 loss record. Now the Southwesterners put it all together for the district games next on the agenda.





Opposite page: David Church puts it up and over for "two" . . . Keep your eyes on the bouncing ball, Danny, Carl, Cris, and Alan . . . Randy Crawford handles the Reb's floor play. This page: The Rebels grab an all-important rebound . . . Mickey Bowles is set for Randy Crawford's pass . . . Terry Dallas makes it look easy . . . Doug Baucum gets high for "two." (Top to bottom, l.-r.)

Western Hills, Paschal, Carter, and Arlington Heights fell easily to the "scrappy Confederates." Only North Side was left for the first-half championship. But this was not the night for Woody's boys, as the Steers outwrestled the basketeers in the closing minutes and handed the Rebs their only district loss. This loss only served to fire up the already determined Southwest team for the second half contests. Six straight victories, and the district championship was captured by the Rebel cagers, as the crowded bleachers rang out with HEY LOOK AT OUR TEAM!

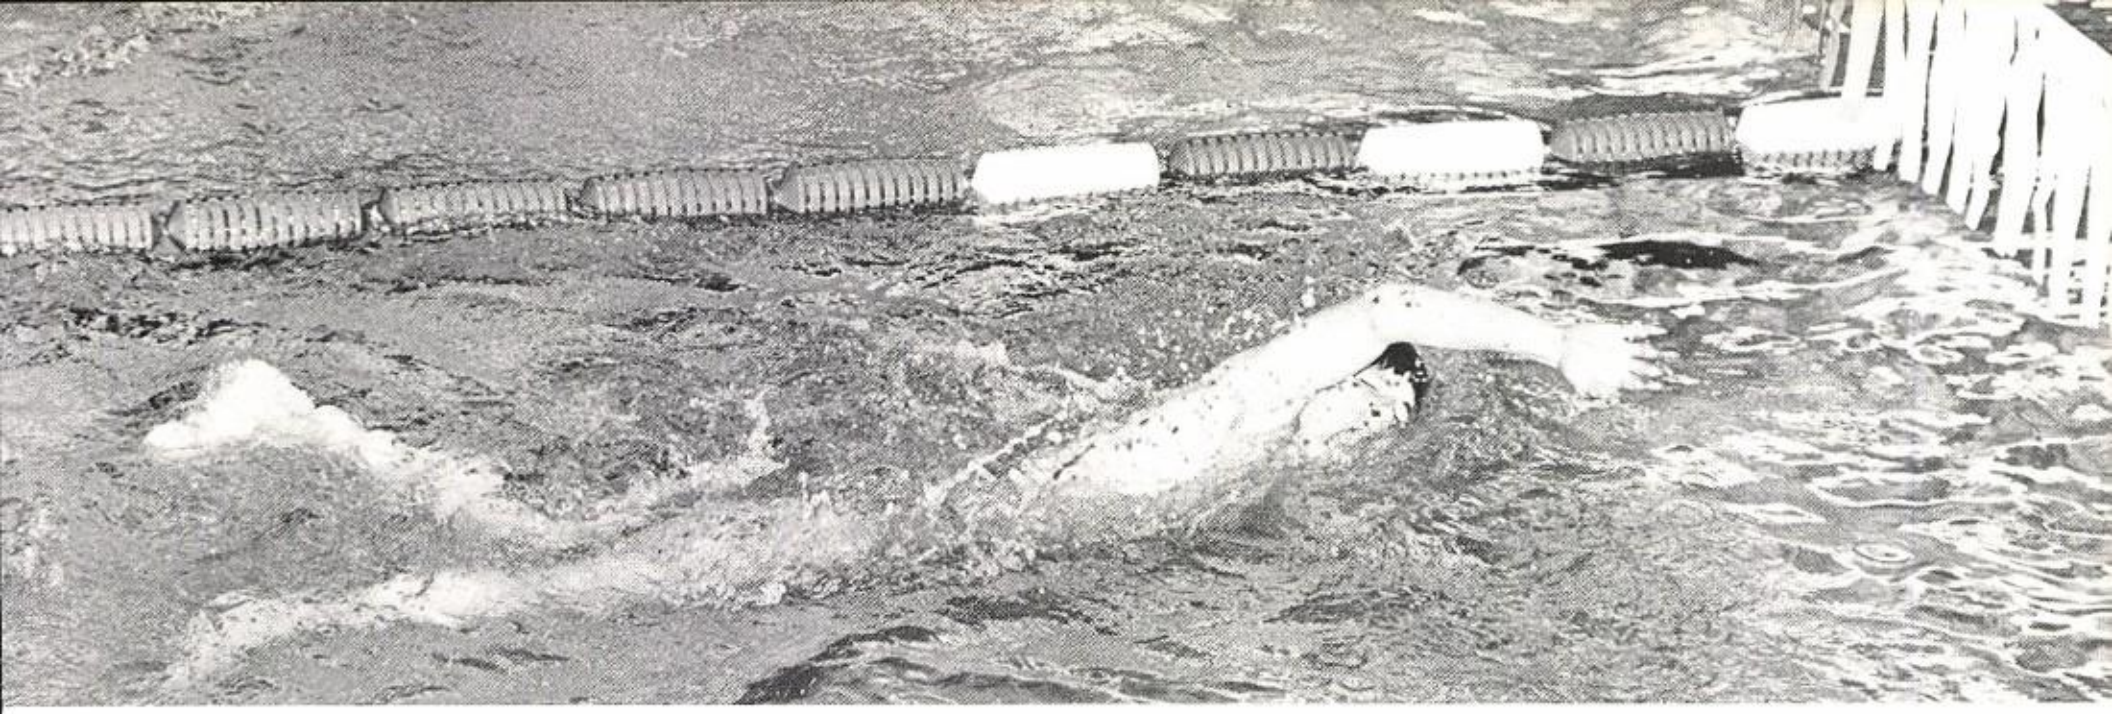
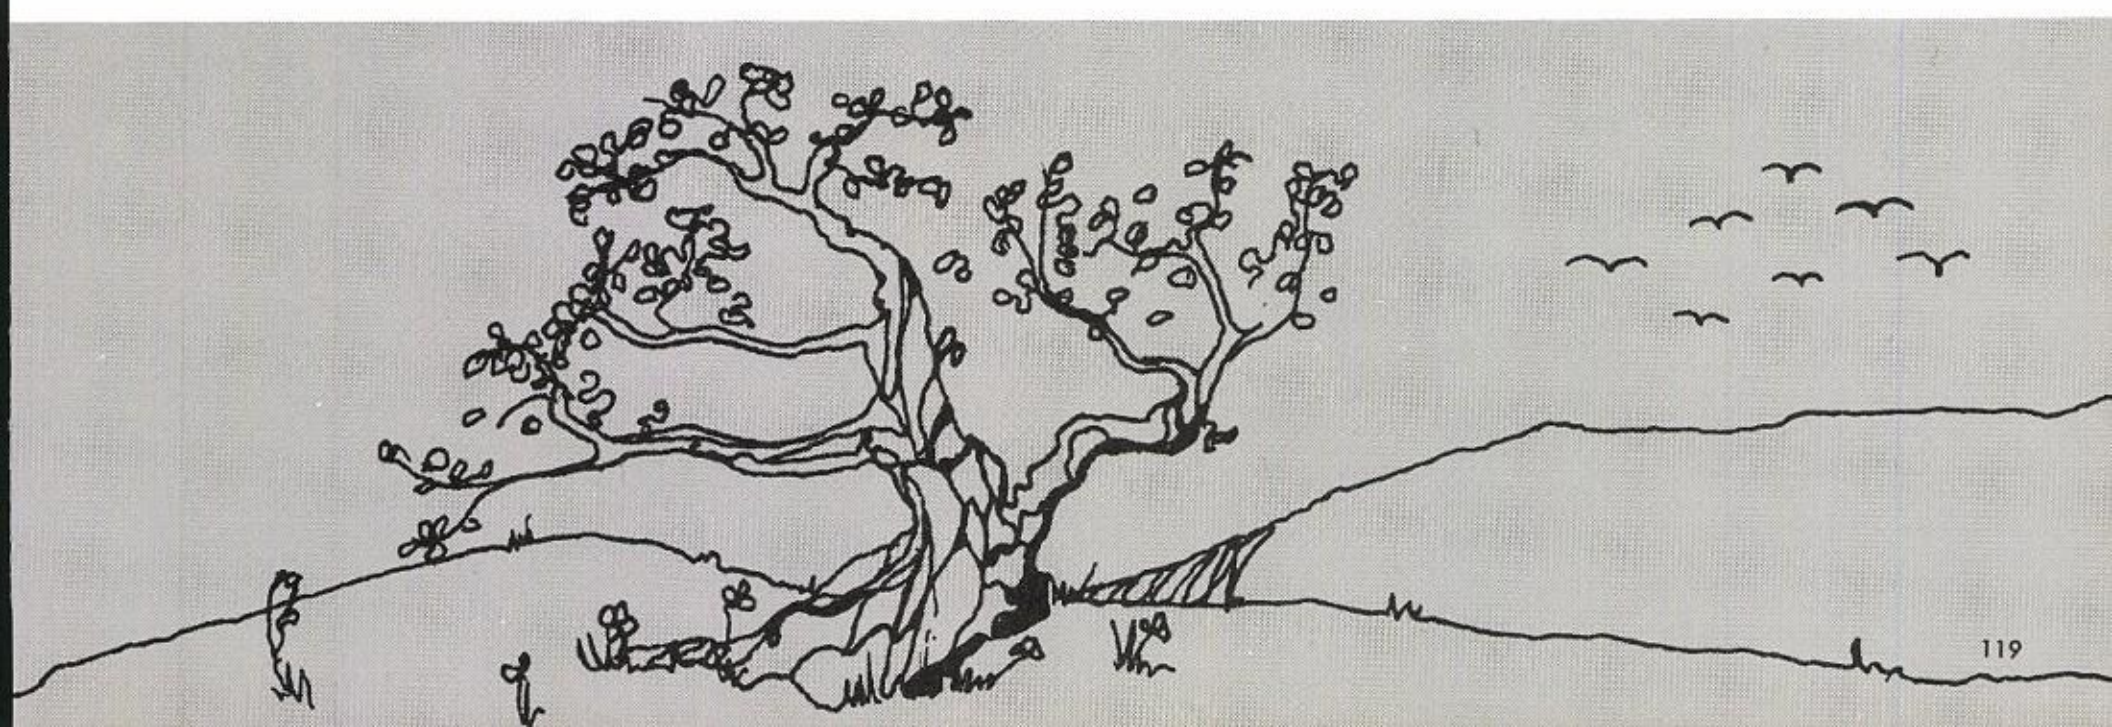
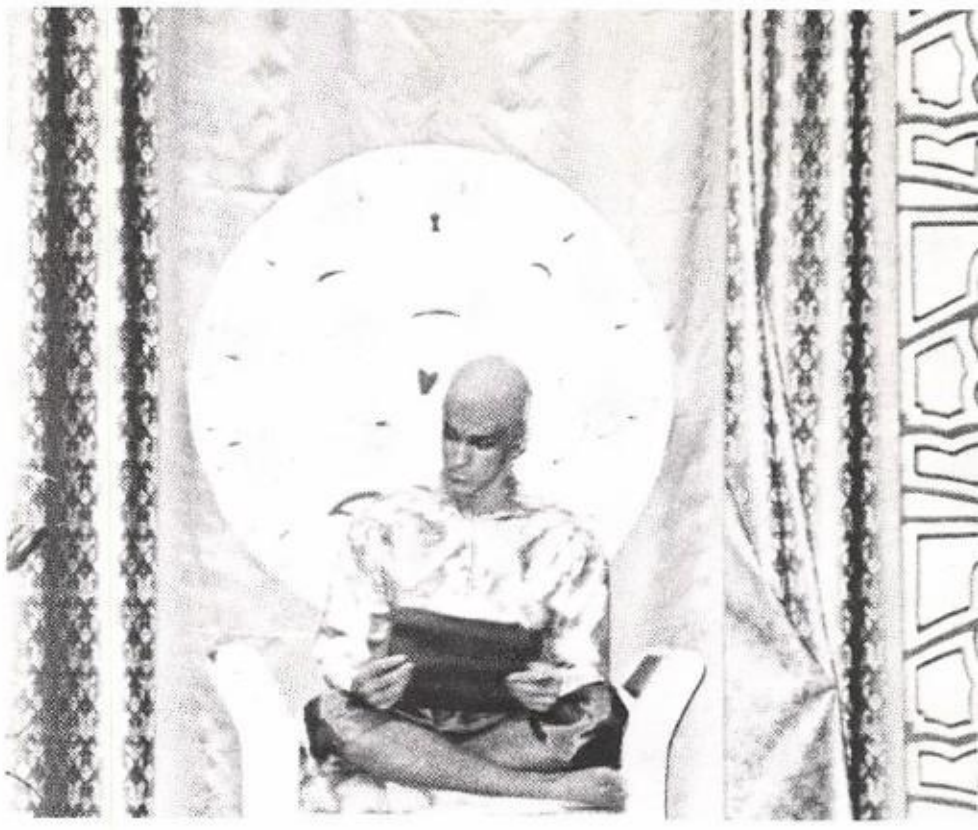
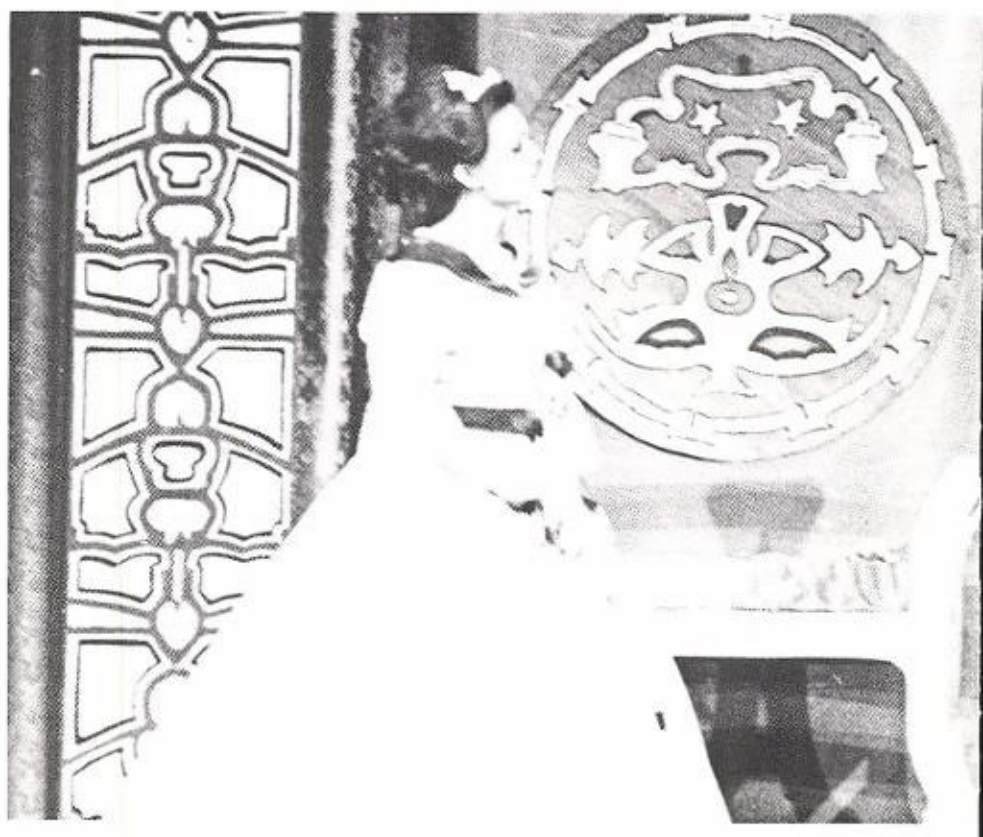
HIGHLIGHTS & SPORTS









"King and I" Brings Oriental Splendor to SHS Stage

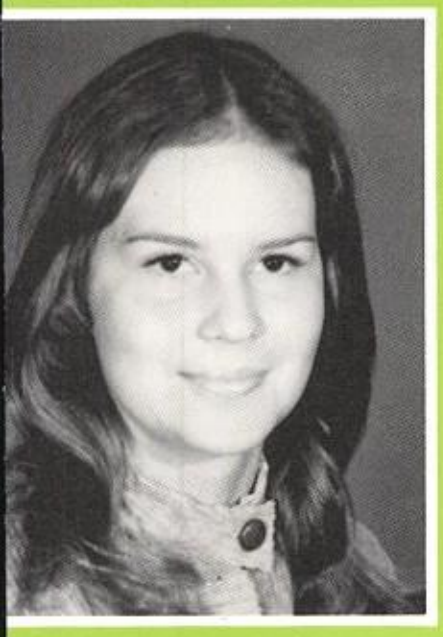
Hours of work and rehearsal come to a climax as the curtain rises on the majesty and mystery of "The King and I." Channeling their various talents toward one spectacular goal, the Performing Arts classes effectively reproduce the famous Rodgers and Hammerstein musical. The theme is oriental — complete with lavish costumes, lilting music, beautifully realistic scenery, and effective stage props. The mood is professional — the direction, choreography, acting, even the children, are all excellent, with Brent Edwards as the stern King of Siam and Karen Kruger as Anna, the English school teacher leading the cast.

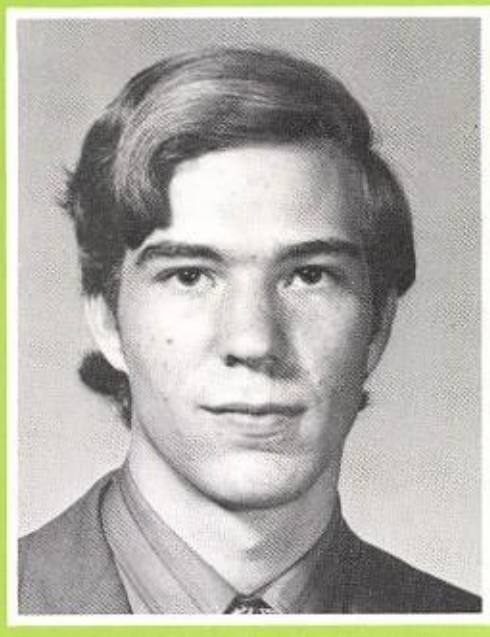
Jobs Teach Students

A survey recently showed that Southwest has more students working part-time than any other high school in Fort Worth. Many students work in neighborhood stores and offices. The part-time job offers a challenge to the student, who has to learn to combine both work and study. Some of these students are: Don Chisholm, who works at Piggly Wiggly; Stephanie Rocher, who works at the Agee Real Estate office; Karen Hodges, who works at Myers Department Store; Becky Vesta, who works at Baskin-Robbins Ice Cream; Susie Green, who works at the Rabyor Reading Schools; and Gary Dozier, who also works at Myers Department Store. (Top to bottom, l.-r.)

From freshman to senior it's four long years . . .

'70 — Heavenly
'71 — Lots of Fun
'72 — Almost Through
'73 — Now We're Free





Years that bring about a definite change in ourselves, not only in how we look, but in how we have matured and how much our outlooks have changed . . .

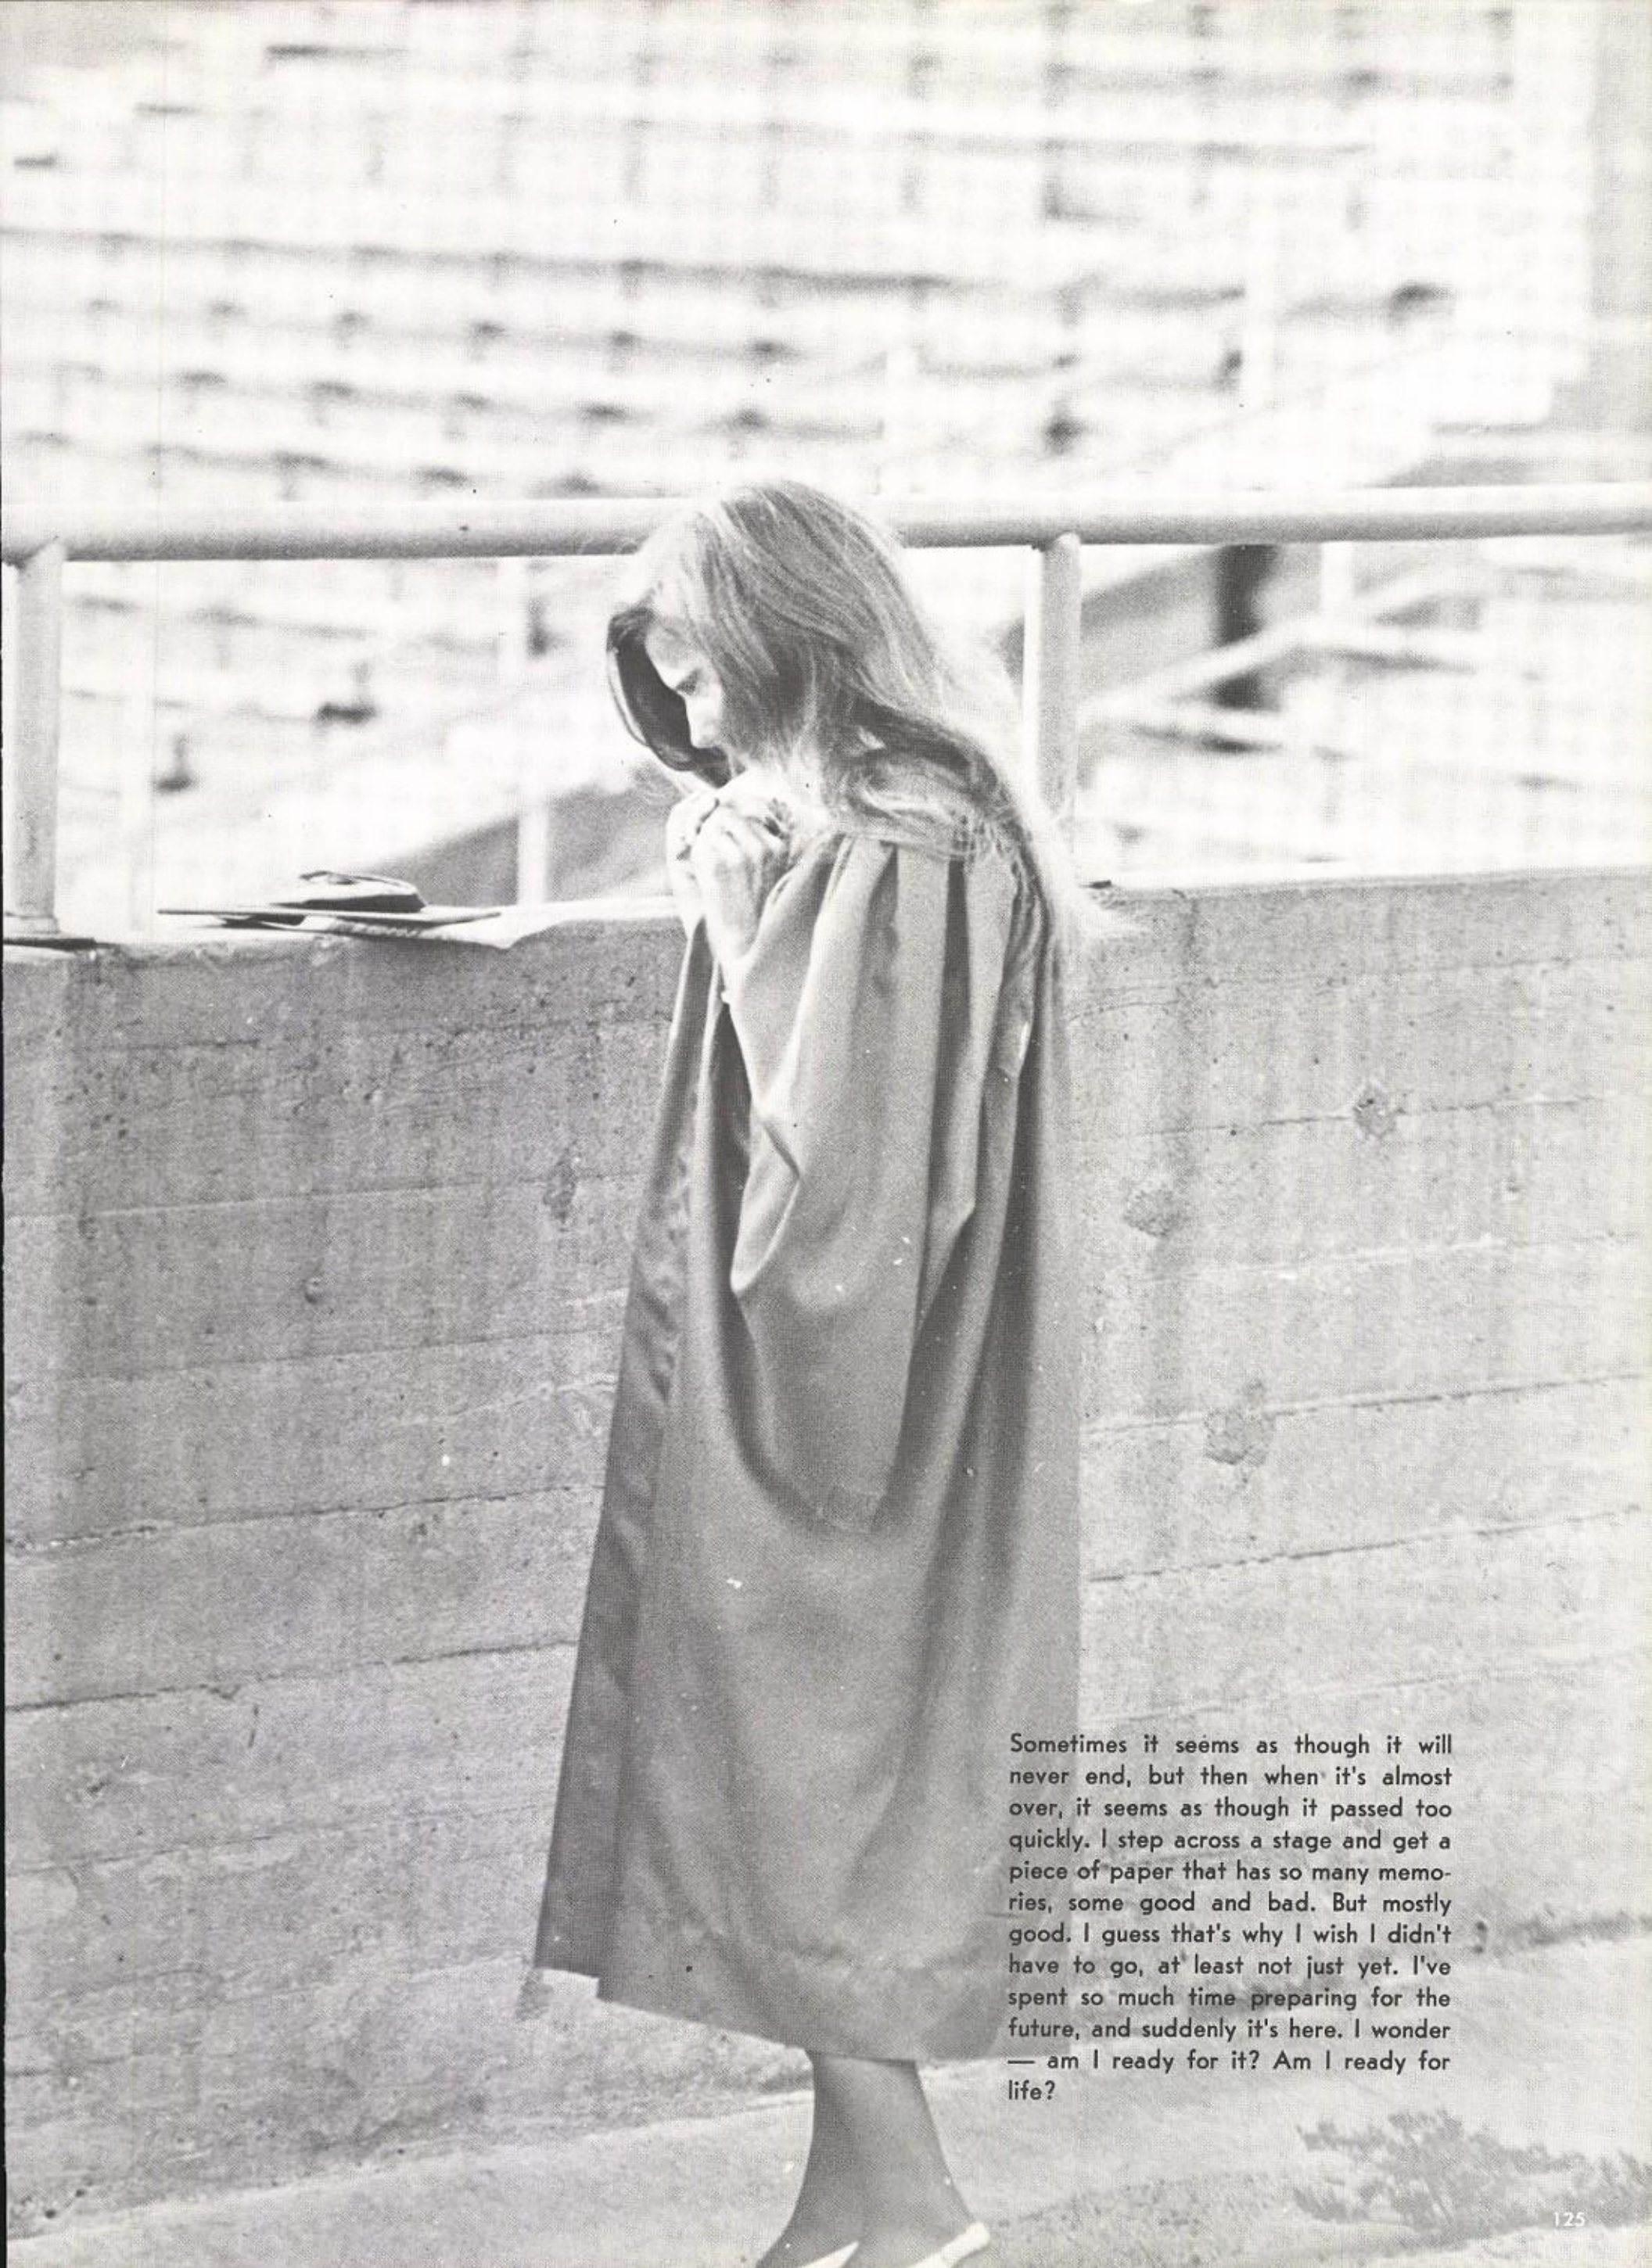
Seniors Find Last Year Filled With Many Activities

Senior year — the time that everyone awaits eagerly. It's a special time for the student, who finds himself in a whirlwind of activities ranging from having senior pictures made to Senior Night at Six Flags to graduation night itself. But it's also a time of decision — "What will I be doing the rest of my life?" Terry Brill tries to decide which one of her pictures should go into the annual. Wes Scoggins finds that sometimes one has to allow magazine customers to "pull his leg" occasionally. Senior Dinner-Dance reveals the true latent talents of some seniors. Commencement — a time to remember and to reflect one's high school years. (Top to bottom, l.-r.)



Sometimes it seems as though it will never end, but then when it's almost over, it seems as though it passed too quickly. I step across a stage and get a piece of paper that has so many memories, some good and bad. But mostly good. I guess that's why I wish I didn't have to go, at least not just yet. I've spent so much time preparing for the future, and suddenly it's here. I wonder — am I ready for it? Am I ready for life?

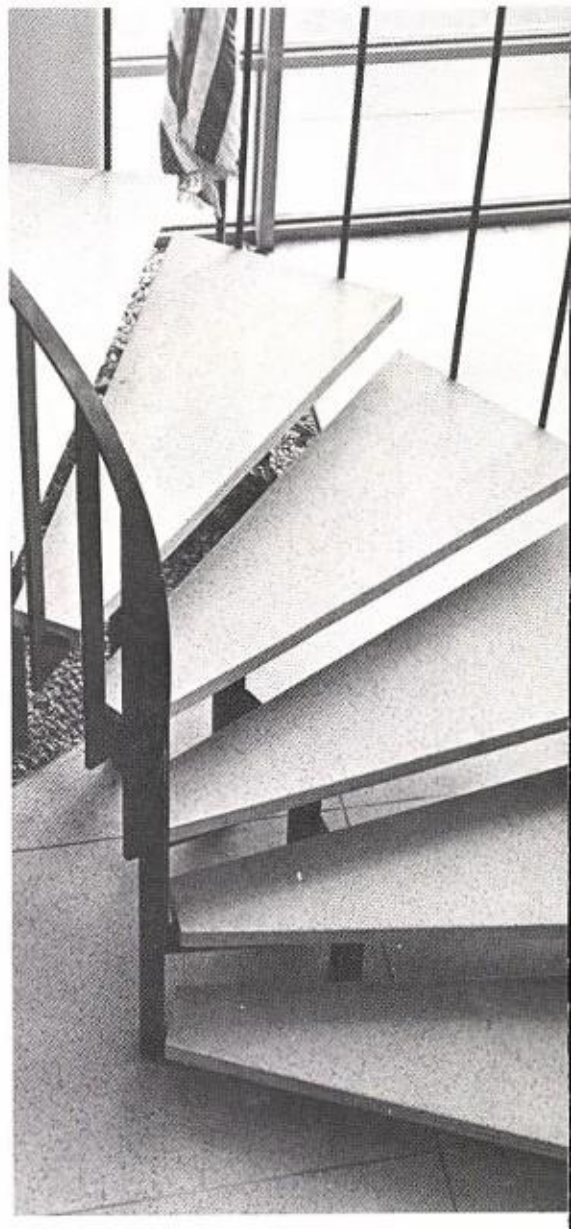
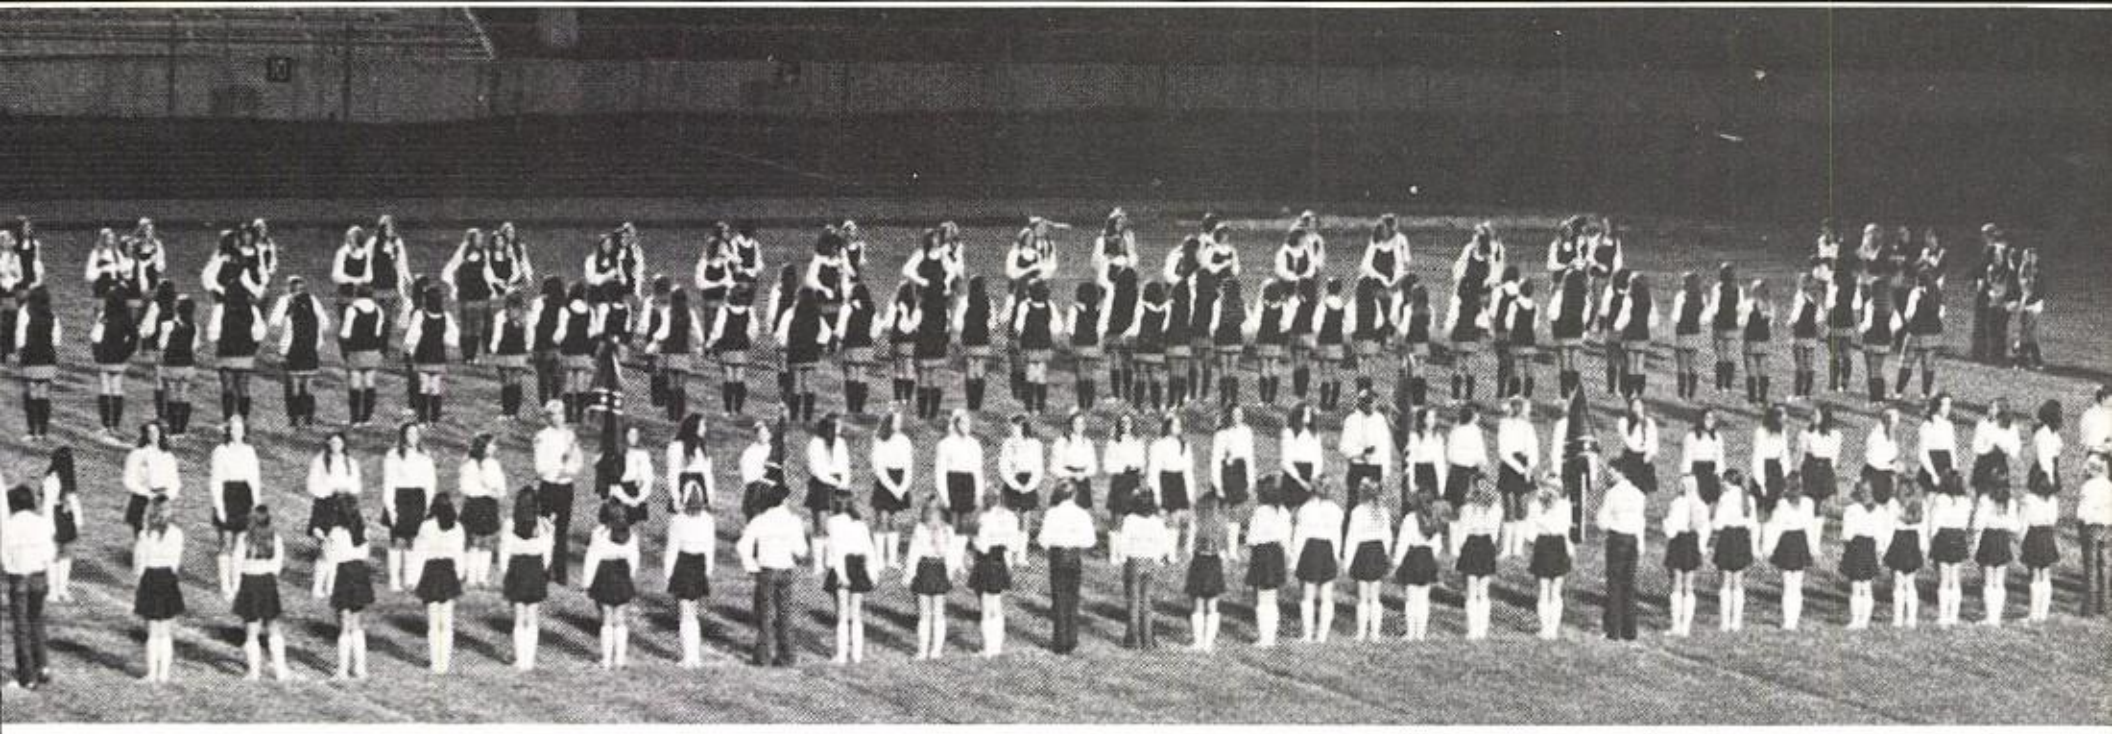
SHS LIFE





Varsity Cheerleaders

Our Varsity Cheerleaders are our Rebel spirit personified. While supporting the team, coach, and student body, they work tirelessly, behind the scenes and after hours, as well as in front of the crowds, cheering and consoling, in victory and defeat.

B Cheerleaders

Looking forward to being varsity next year, B team cheerleaders rally enthusiasm for the junior varsity boys, through all their sports, with lots of hard work and cheers.

C Cheerleaders

Although this is just their first year at Southwest, C team cheerleaders show real Rebel spirit as they back their boys all the way, and help create unity in the Freshman Class.

The voice of Southwest, of the students, is the Student Council. But more than this, these people work together and with sponsors and administrators to give the rest of us an effective exemption plan for tests, good dances, and better ideas.

Student Council

Latin Club

Students of an ancient language which, certainly not dead, lives on through its many descendants, Latin Club members explore the glories of Rome as it rose, fell, and left its indelible stamp on the world's civilizations.

Behind the cheerleaders, building Rebel spirit, unifying the Senior Class, helping out Student Council activities, are Concerned Senior Girls. Industrious and creative, they raise money through bake sales, car washes, and a cupcake sale: concerned and involved, they keep Rebel spirit alive and running high.

Pride of Southwest

They are always there, at every sports event, showing their spirit for all to see . . . Pride of Southwest. Exesfest, Homecoming decorations, and Booster Club membership drive are just some of the projects this active group undertakes, promoting a solid feeling of support in the school and its athletics.

Medical Careers Club

Medical Careers: More than the name of a club, it is a plan for the future. Members learn about others in preparation for service in a health related profession. The human element is stressed by visits to a blood bank, hospital service, and work with retarded children. These people are special — they are working for a better tomorrow for us all.

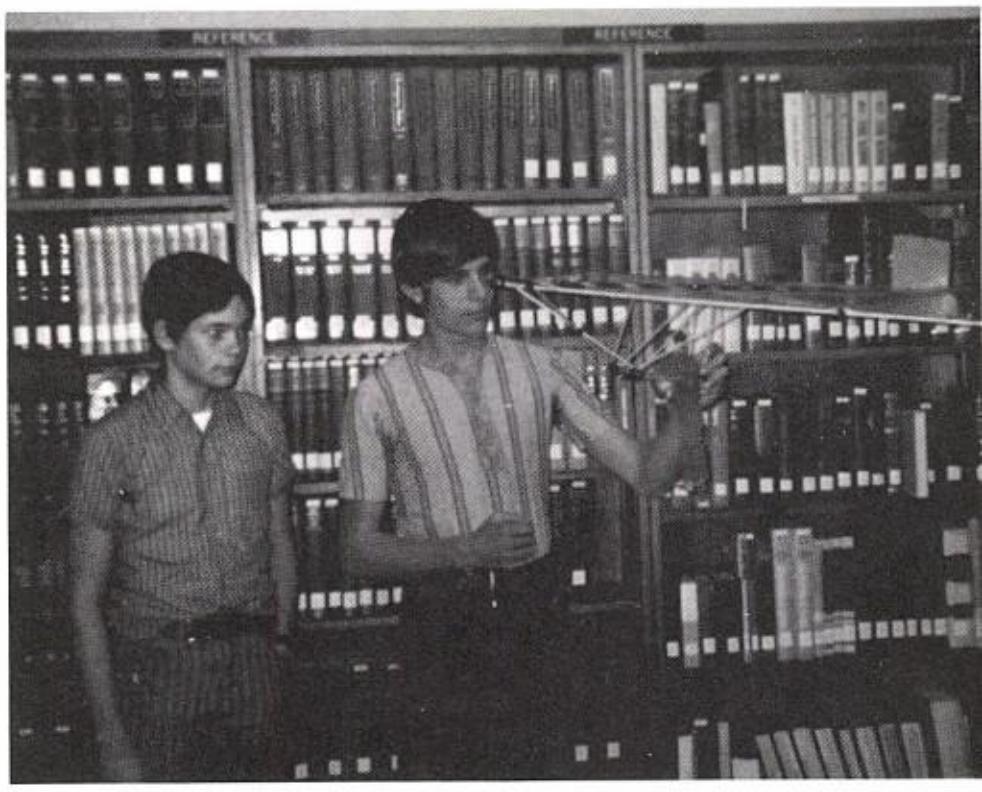
Zorro Air Force



What goes up must come down: The Zorro Air Force learns all about aerodynamics. Through many guest speakers and field trips, they find new facts and possibilities: through building and launching model rockets they give flight to their knowledge.

Charles Crowley, Doug Wright; Billie Chitwood, Ellis Easley, Steve Dawes; Ellis Easley, Randy Coffey, and William Duke work on Zorro zeppelin. (Top to bottom, l.-r.)

Signs of Silence

Speaking to others in a quiet way, the Signs of Silence Club brings music and laughter to deaf adults and children in this area. With their hands and faces, the members express, respond, inquire: they share the joy of communication through appearances at various civic gatherings.

Carol Rouse, Carol Williamson, Sara Hassell, Cynthia Collins,
Leslie Rowe and Janet Ghormely; Donna Beneze, Kathy Benson

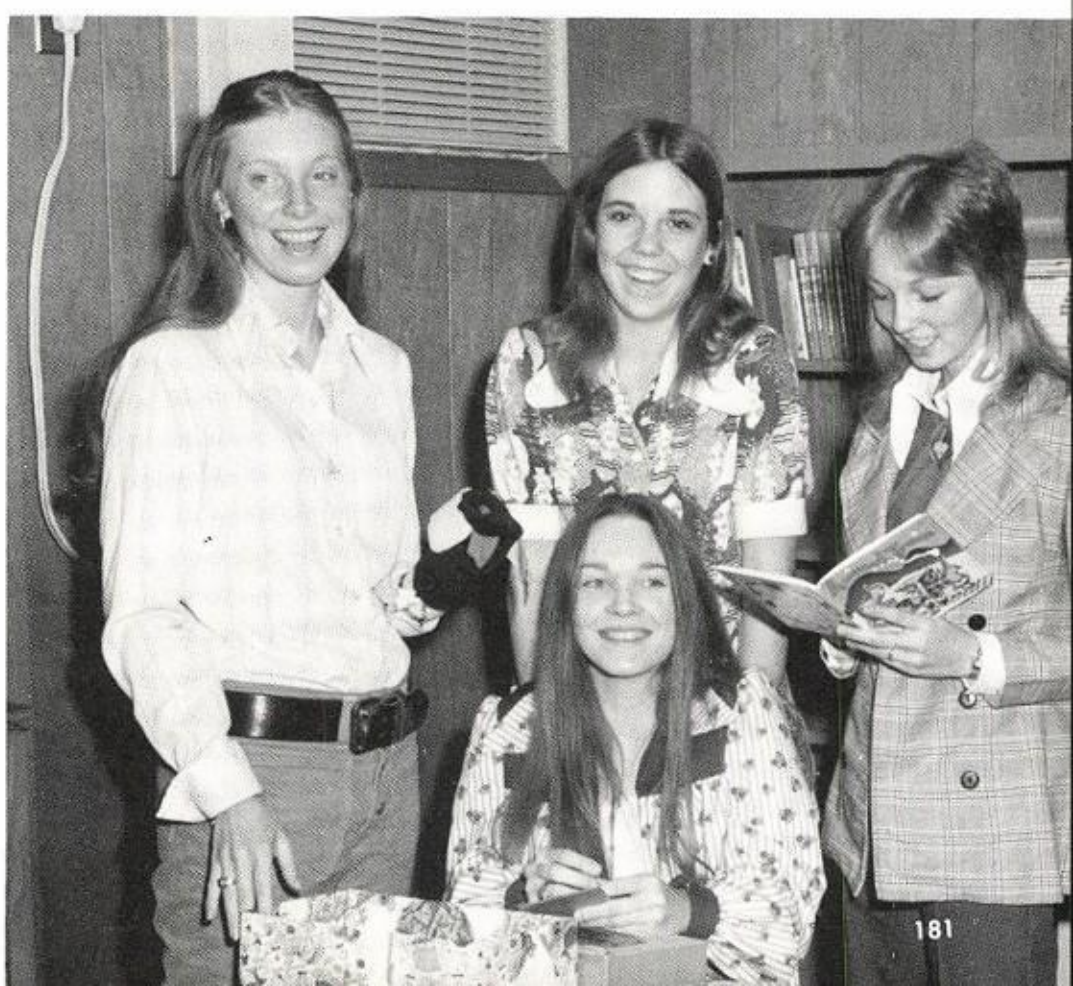
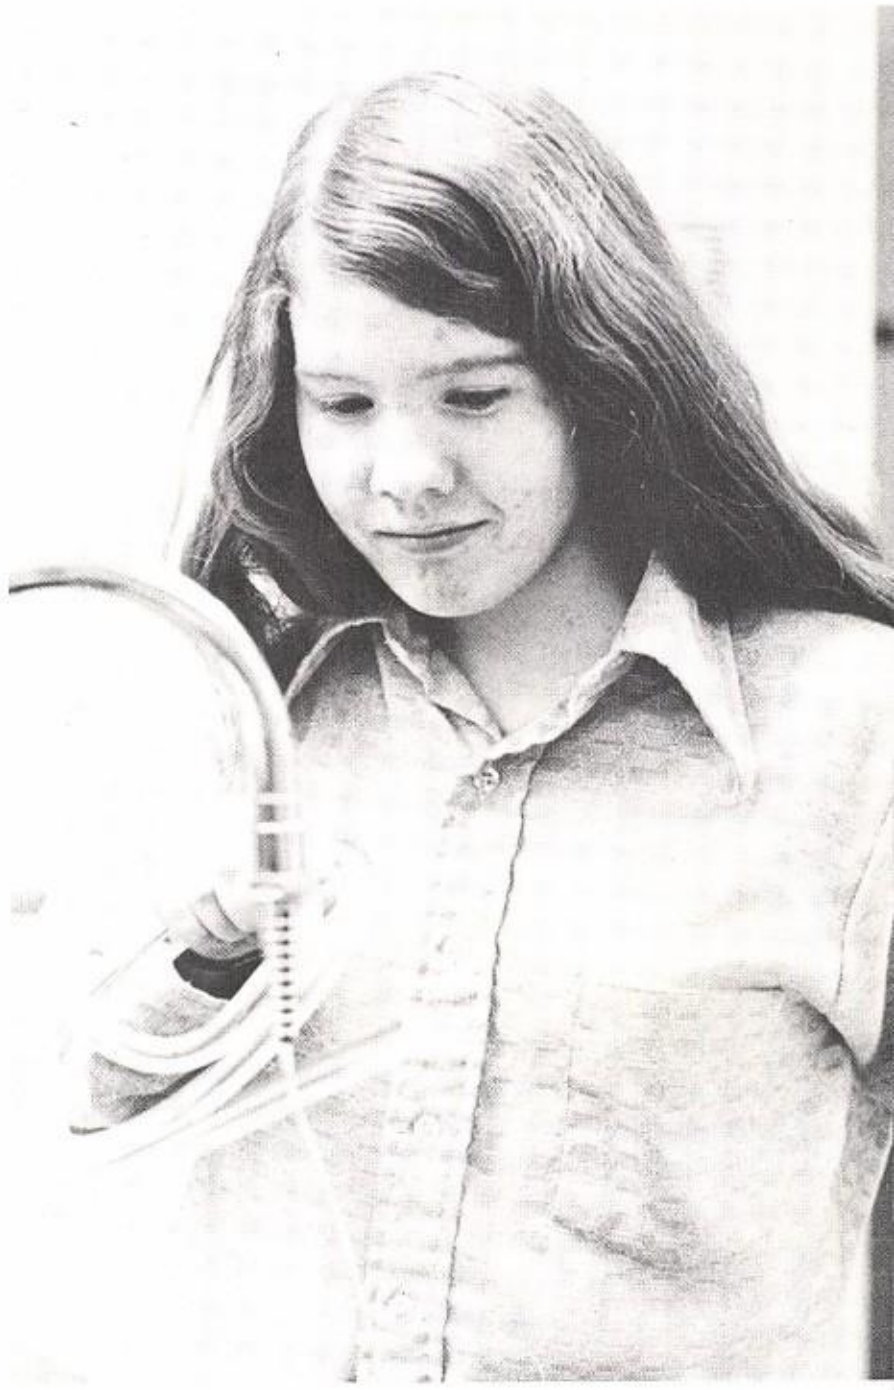
FHA

There are two chapters of Future Homemakers of America at Southwest — Heroes and Abbey — and members in each have many goals and projects to challenge them. They learn about the care, development, and interaction of the family in society. They involve themselves in service projects, and become aware that more fortunate people must lend a hand to less fortunate ones.

Honey Graham, Mary Lynn Darden, Jody Walton, Mrs. Reddout, Sponsor; Students leaving for FHA-Hero project; Sherry Logan, Laurie Brett, Gina Warella, Betsy Griffin. (Top to bottom, l.-r.)





Science Club

Our world would stand still if it were not for scientists and their constant but cautious curiousity, and the aspiring young scientists in our Science Club work diligently on experiments and Science Fair projects to better the environment and the quality of our lives.

HOPE: Help Organize Pollution's End. A big goal, but one this club seeks to bring about through education and their own hard work. They better things now through landscaping and recycling projects and plan for the future by planting trees and teaching children about the earth and its care. We all belong to this club, for the earth belongs to us all; it is ours to love and protect.

International Club

Helping ease the growing pains of a world getting ever smaller, International Club programs and projects are aimed at building understanding between people. Foods, costumes, and customs of different countries are shared at meetings, and our exchange student can go to the club for any kind of help in adjusting to life in America. Members give several parties for the children at St. Teresa's Home, and are now reaching out to support a foster child, showing that love can, and does, break all language barriers.

Debate Club

Communication is vital, and vital to clear communication is logical, orderly thinking and the ability to use words. The Debate Club seeks to develop in its members the skills and attitudes necessary to communicate their opinions and ideas, testing these skills at frequent tournaments.

Chess Club

The ancient and intriguing art of chess has suddenly become very popular, and endorsing it here at Southwest is our own Chess Club. Learning strategy and playing practice games, members prepare for and compete in interscholastic and city tournaments, bringing more honors to the Rebels in a different kind of competition.

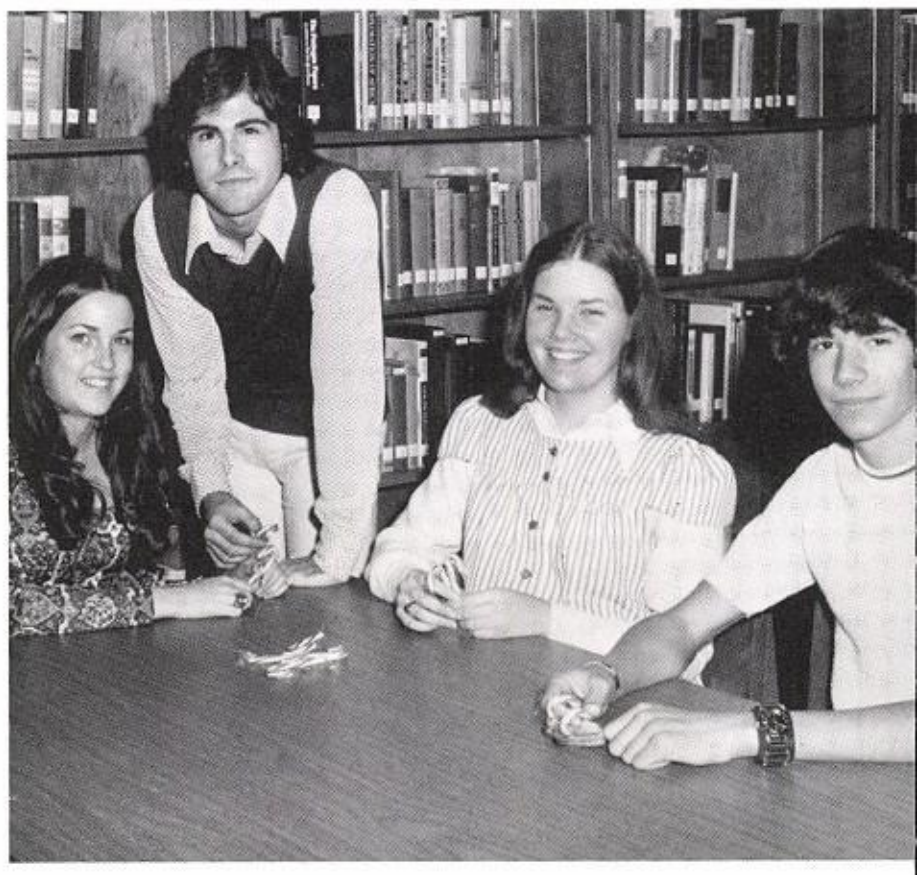
National Honor Society



A challenge and a privilege to belong to, the National Honor Society requires of its members outstanding scholarship, character, leadership ability, and service, and returns them the satisfaction of achievement and self-respect. New ideas to serve the school and community take shape as the year progresses and needs are found.

Starting a new tradition at Southwest is the opening of a chapter of Delta Epsilon Phi, the National German Honor Society. Through a sharing of culture and language members seek to close the gap between different peoples and make the world a warm place to live.

Officers: Lisa Prince, Gina Marriott, Betsy Friauf; Lynn Grosgebauer, Lisa Prince, Betsy Friauf, Sharon West, Gina Marriott, Mrs. Bungarz. (Top to bottom, l.-r.)

Getting to know students from other countries, and making them feel at home here, American Field Service members carry on a tradition of international good will and wish that they, too, might one day be an exchange student.

Art Club

Sketching and painting, hammering and welding, tying knots in string, the Art Club is forever creating or constructing something pleasant to look at or, at least, interesting. Their displays throughout the school brighten Southwest and make us appreciate people with talent.

Math Club

Equations and problems, computers and slide rules — all these are basic to the Math Club. Man's understanding and control of these tools are vital for the progress in a technical world, and club members, who compete in Slide Rule and Number Sense contests, are people caught up in the fascination and endless possibilities of numbers.

Drama Club

Through the magic of the theatre, Drama Club members escape to new worlds, learning to better express themselves. They create, becoming different characters in different situations: they share their creations with us in self-produced plays presented throughout the year.

Mrs. Rhodes, Barry Waddell, Sid Wooster, Judy Bacon, Valerie Elam, Mike Early; Lori Palmer, Jocef Walters, Lane Story, Joni Harris, Leslie Brown, Sheryl Atchley; Jeri Robinson, Debbie Oxford, Renee Shelton, Janet Lacey, Jeri Hubbard, Laura Brownlee; Dawn Douglas, Sherry Green, Rick Dykes, Sara Warren. Stage Band

A group of dedicated musicians who know how to swing and do it well together, the Southwest Stage Band earns its place at the top everywhere it goes. The many moods of jazz are explored in a most enjoyable way by these guys and girls who know how it ought to sound and then play it, with a special beat all their own.

Rebel Band

"That Big Red Band from Rebel Land!" Winning contest, after competition, after festival, honors pile up for the marching Rebels — and we are proud of them. Hours of early morning, late night, and everytime-in-between practice pays off as our band sounds sweeter than ever. Showing and sounding their spirit wherever they go, the members of the band support Southwest all the way.

From the mellow strains of classical music to the lilting score of "The King and I," Southwest's orchestra finds just the right moods, hits all the right notes, to create a sound of beauty and harmony. An outstanding group, it brings us many honors throughout the year.

Madrigals and Choir

Echoes of the past are brought to life now through the madrigals, chants, and folk songs sung by the Madrigals. Singing and learning at the same time, they explore the historical backgrounds of their music, and pass their knowledge on to humanities and history classes.

Lane Story, Patty Dana, Will Crutchfield, Judy Bacon, Becky Parris, John Sweitzer, Liz Paule, Sherry Barfield, Mr. Potts.

Still learning how and when, Choir members look forward to the day when they may step up to the A Cappella Choir. We note their progress and appreciate their effort as they sing for the student body in various programs.

OEA

To students who are getting ready for a career in business, the Office Education Association provides an opportunity to increase their skills and knowledge in typing, filing, and bookkeeping. To enrich their learning experiences, they raise money for several special club activities, and look for ways to serve the community.

Insight

The reason for and result of the Creative Writing Contest is the publication of Insight, Southwest's literary magazine. Now for the fourth year students have entered their short stories, poems, essays, and plays to be judged. Outstanding entries are printed, along with original Rebel artwork, so that we may enjoy the genius of our classmates.

Rebelation

Organizing, writing, and publishing the school newspaper is the special project of the Rebelation staff, a multi-talented group of students interested in the world of journalism. They seek out and report news, comment on current events, review movies, and conduct surveys, all so that we, the student body, may be enlightened and entertained.

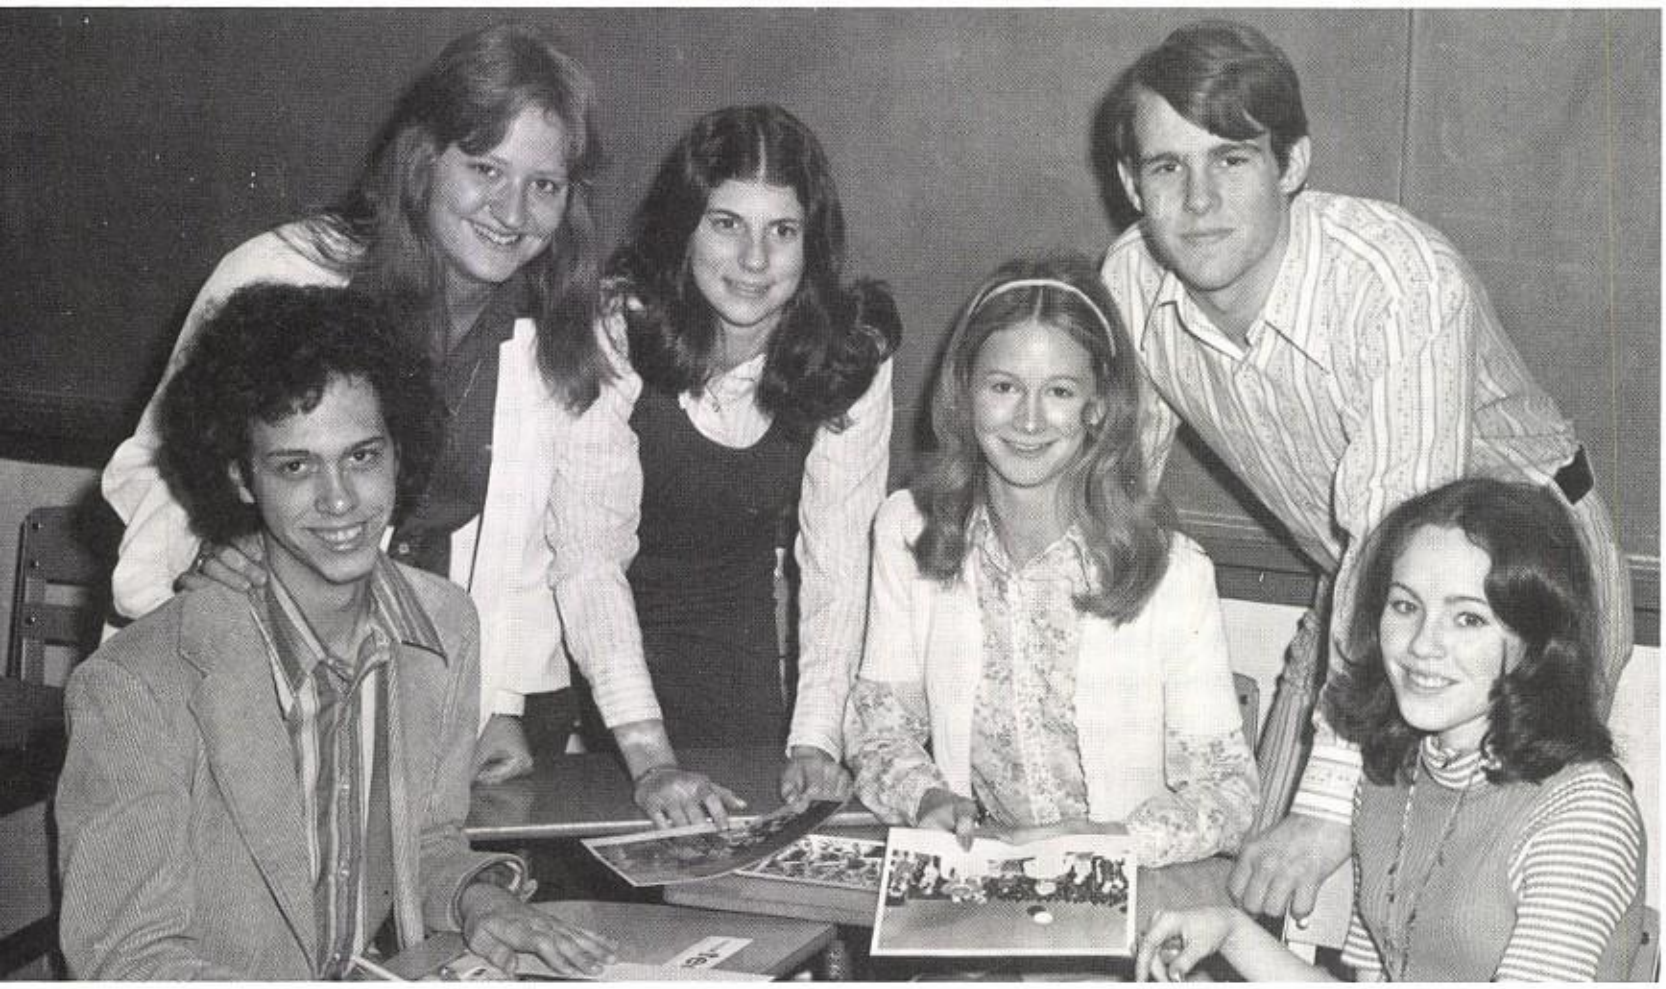
Yee-Haw Staff



The composition of a yearbook is a very special task, requiring dedication, an experienced sponsor, a little imagination, and lots of love. Yee-Haw staffers live up to these requirements and more, combining their varied talents to produce a book which will some day be priceless. Why the smiles, the birth of a yearbook or the birth of a grandson?

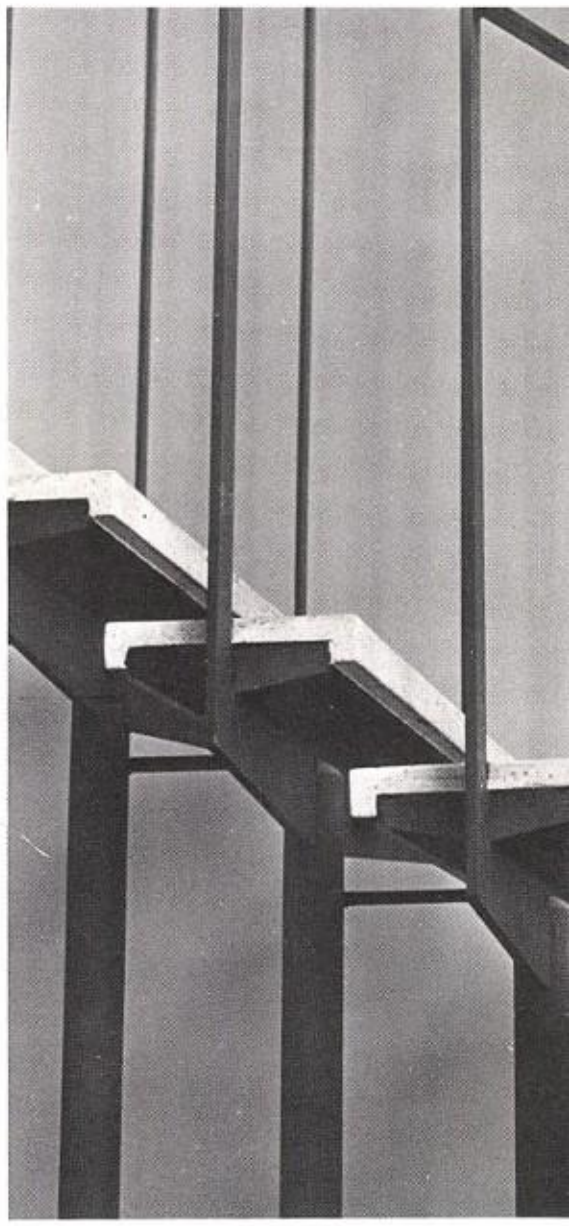
FACULTY



THWEST REBELS

Dedication

Opening in 1967-1968, SHS shared quarters with Paschal — in "temporary cottages," a polite term for "shacks" or "annexes." Among its teachers and administrative and office personnel dedicated to serving some 800 students — mostly tenth and eleventh graders — were 12 members of Southwest's present faculty and staff.

To those veteran Rebel educators who've seen student enrollment grow to this year's 2500-plus, the Yee-Haw dedicates its 1973 edition.

Like the initial student body, they helped move into our new school location in the spring of '68, also assisting in adding finishing touches to the building. Later, like the student body, they willingly piloted the "Extended Day" for city high schools. Like the student body, they welcomed the addition of ninth graders to SHS when junior highs became "middle schools." Not one but two "new" classes arrived in 1969-1970: sophomores plus those freshmen who in 1972-1973 make up Southwest's first graduating class of four-year Rebels. Like the student body, these twelve original SHS teachers have worked to make piloting of the "Quarter System" operable in Fort Worth and Texas.

Thus we honor them with special thanks, hoping their service has been as pleasurable and significant to them as it has been to us.

Initial pages of the Senior Class section are dedicated to those individuals who have proved themselves to be worthy of special recognition.

Belles and Beaux are chosen by their respective classes on the basis of personality and popularity. They introduce each class section — Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, Senior.

"All-Southwest" is an honor accorded to Seniors only. These are selected by the faculty each year as what the teachers, counselors, and administrators feel to be the personification of the Southwest High School student. These selections are based on the individual's overall citizenship, scholastic records, extra-curricular achievements, and service to the school.

Likewise, Mr. and Miss Southwest are the embodiment of the Southwest tradition as seen through the eyes of the students at SHS. By being nominated to the Royal Rebel Court, nominees receive the school's highest honor from their fellow seniors and the entire student body.

MR. SOUTHWEST,
we, the students, your peers, have elected you because we are proud of you.
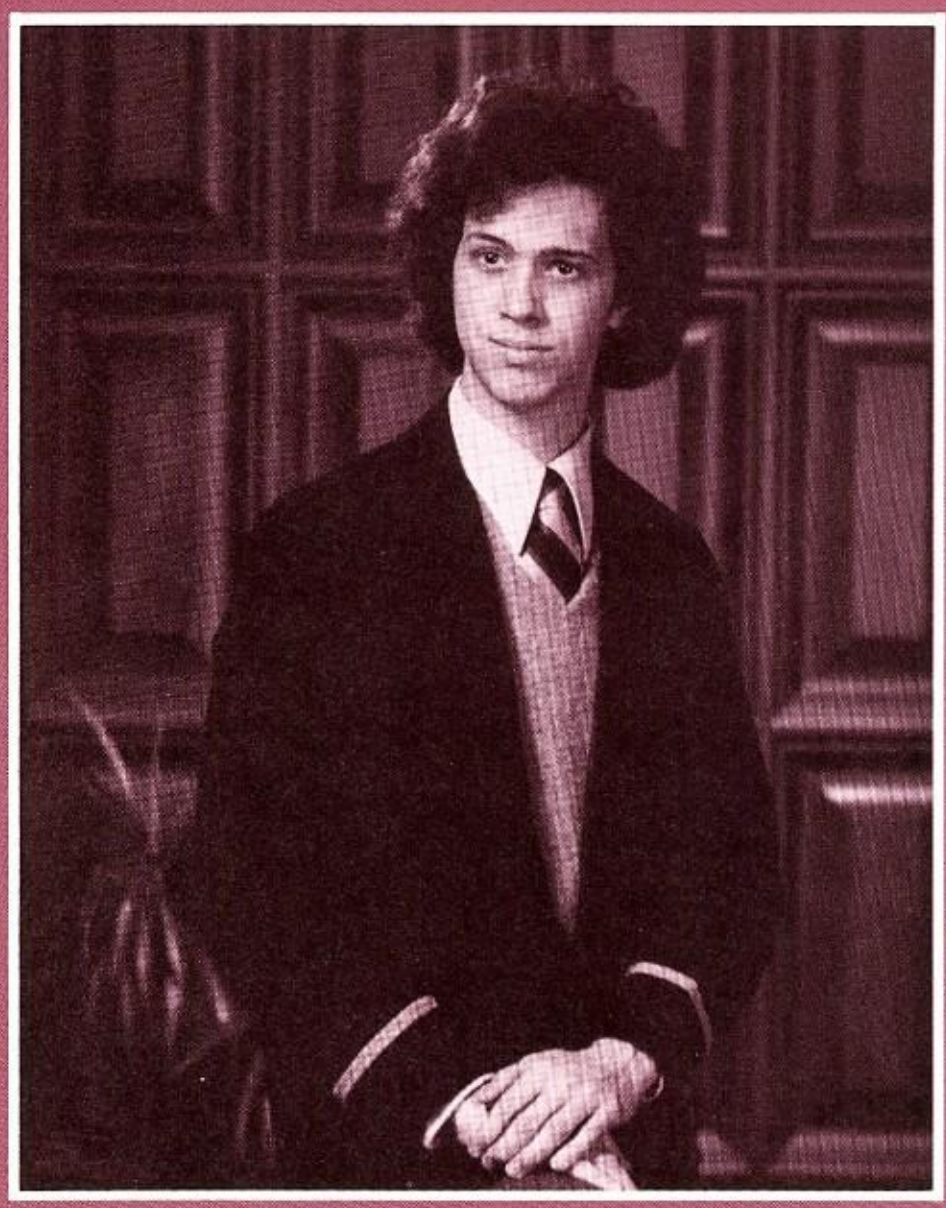
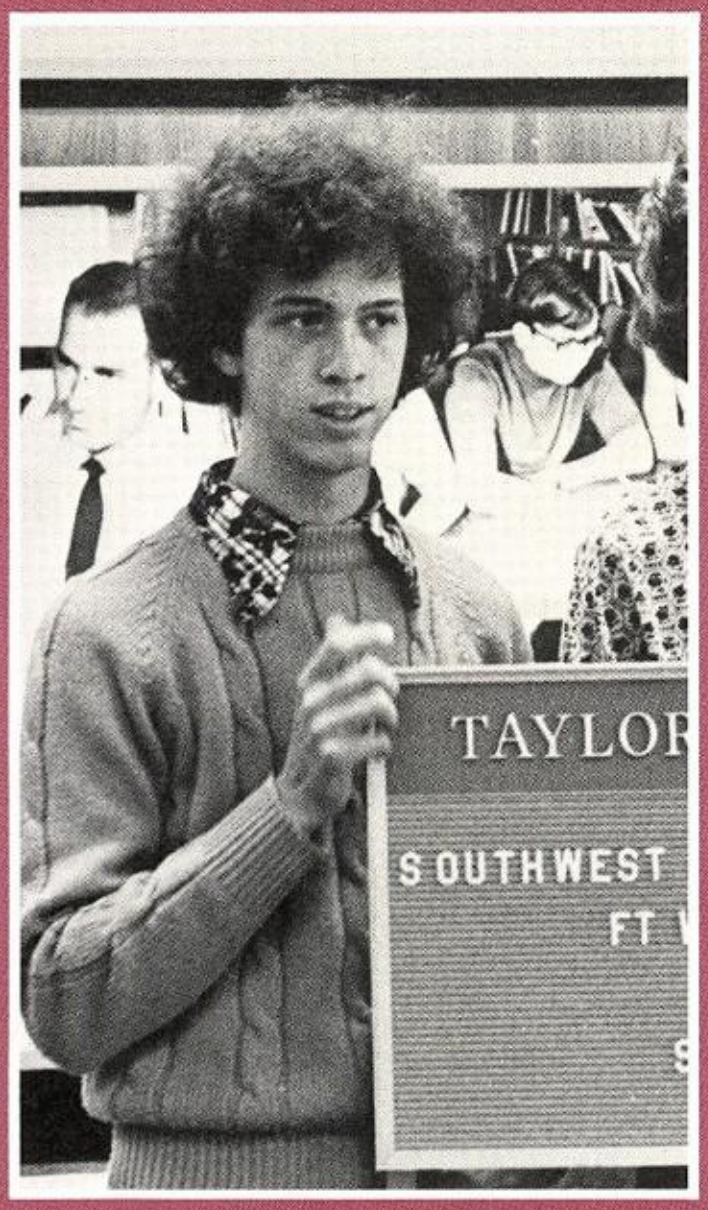
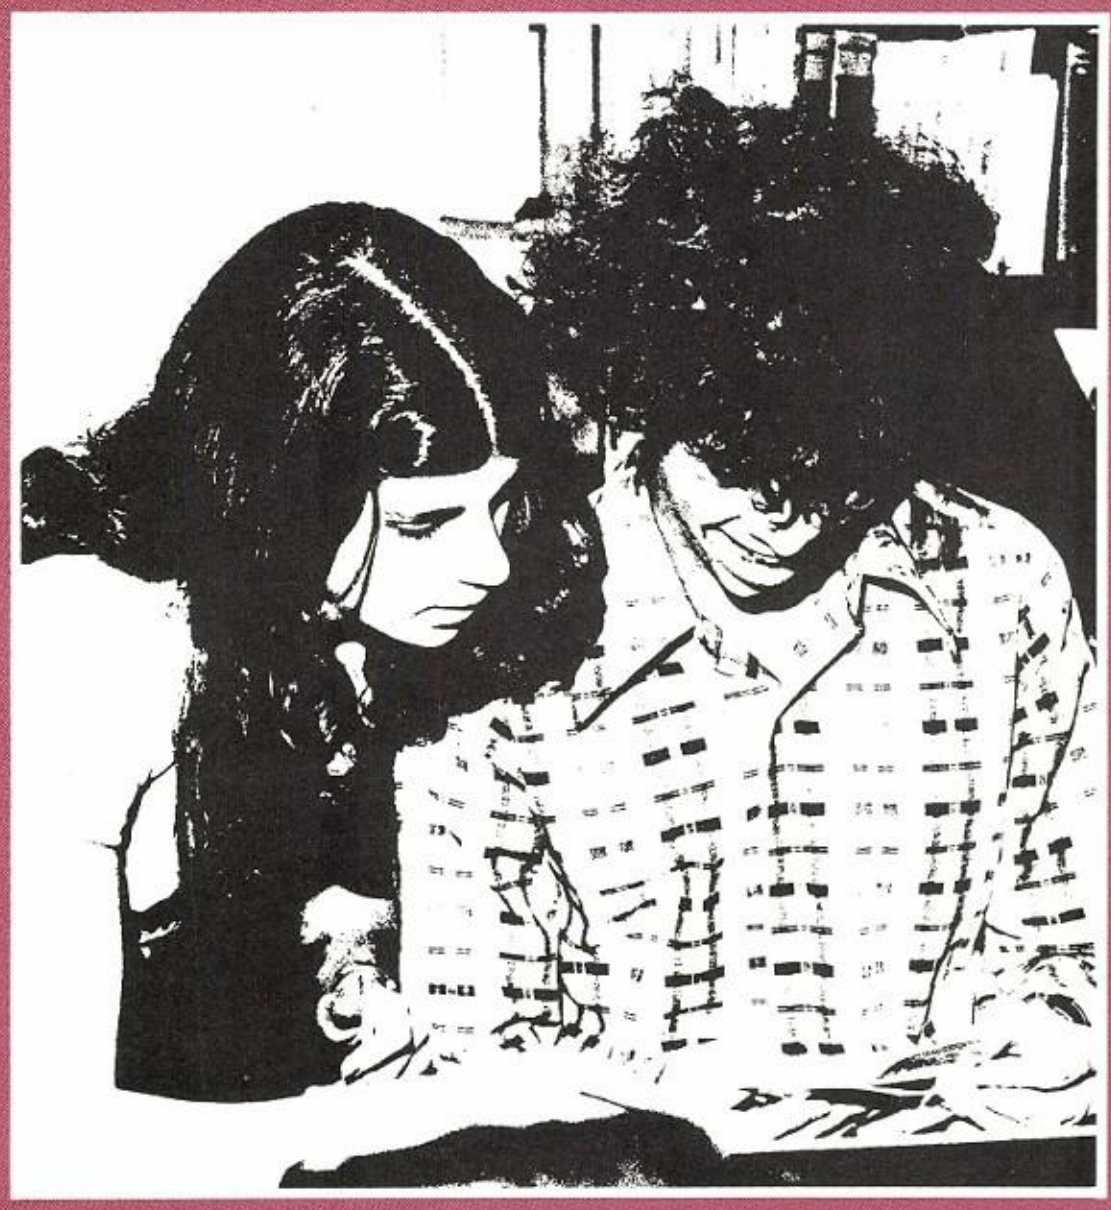
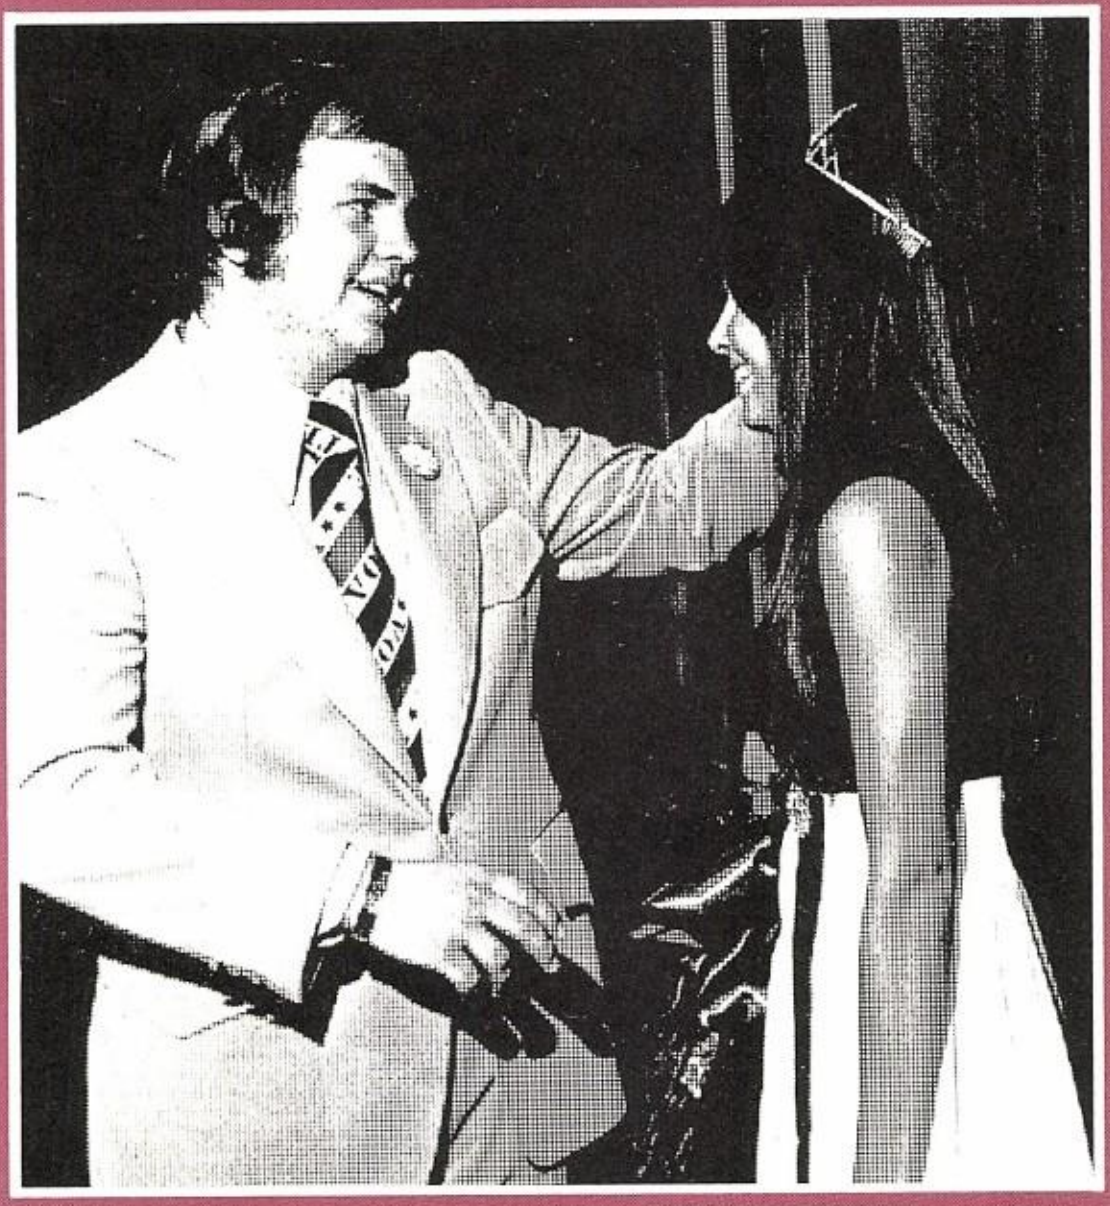
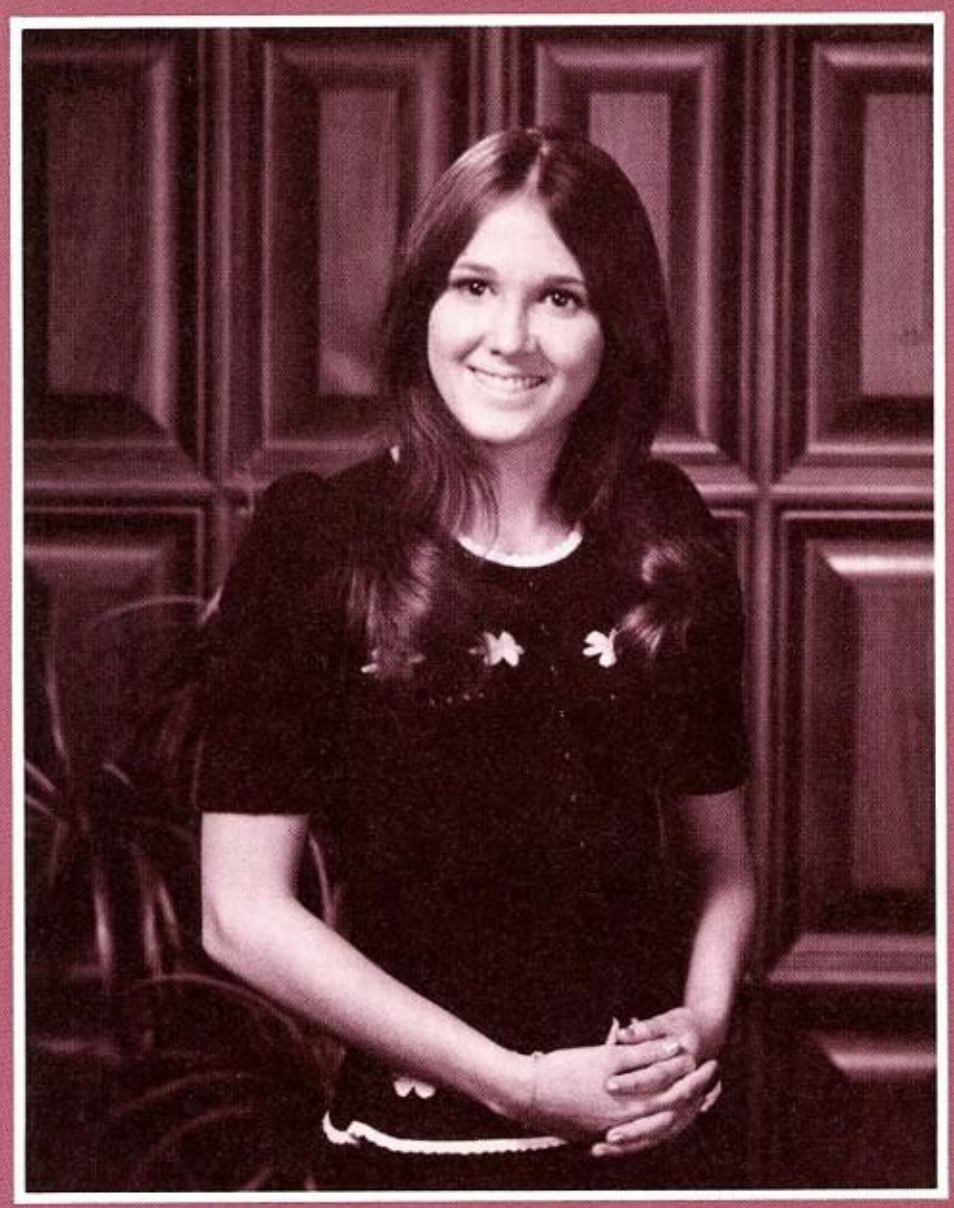
You are a leader;
you are loyal;
you are our friend;
and, we love you.











We Rebels look to you,
as MISS SOUTHWEST,
for spirit,
for scholarship,
for beauty.
We want you to know that we think - you are Something Special!

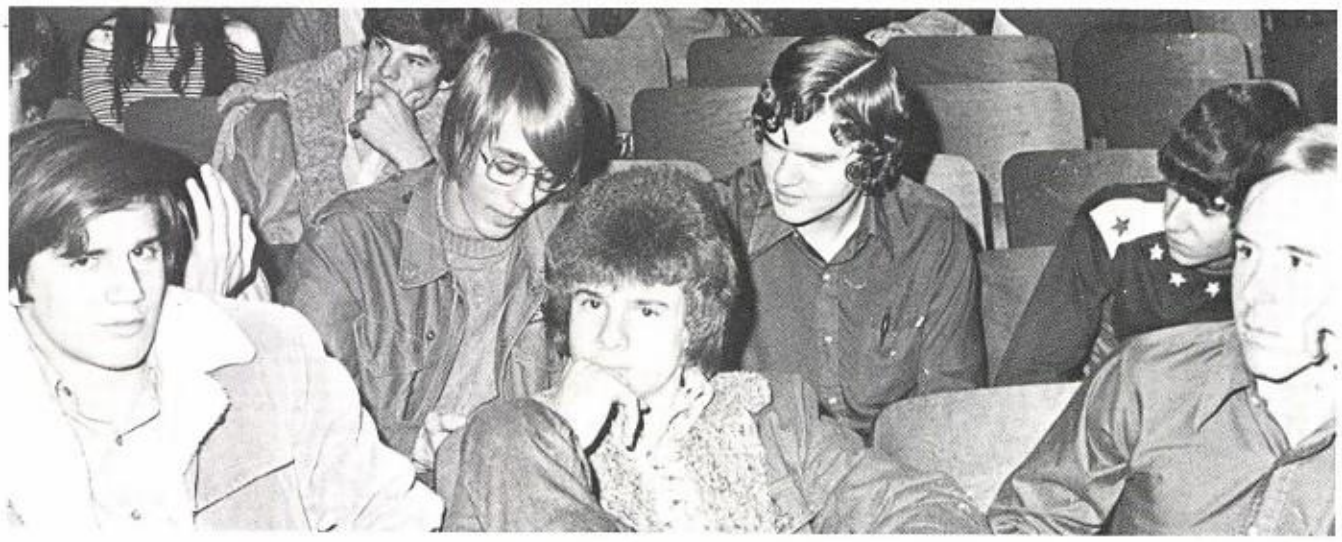
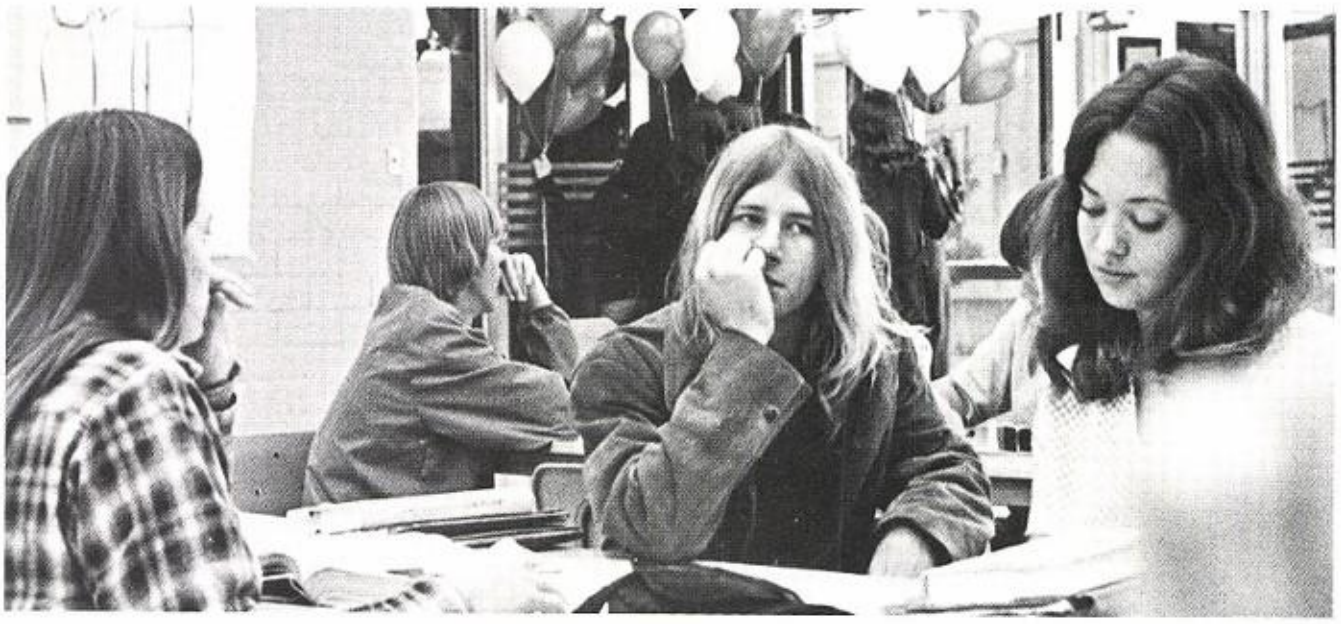
DIANNE RAGSDALE
GAIL RAINWATER





Lu bragged she turned in a stack of notecards this high. "I am the God of Hellfire." Darryl cannot decide between the Leithner sisters. James doubts that the bell will ever ring. "Was it car trouble, or did you oversleep, Vince?" (Top to bottom, l.-r.)

"They'll never get me to confess,", replies Don. "Do you think I'll get caught?" asked Linda. In my opinion . . . I'm telling you, the food in this cafeteria is something else! Gayle, don't you think you're too old to be doing that kind of thing? (Top to bottom, l.-r.)

"Four" appears to us to be the magic number that has governed the year 1973. In our climb up the staircase of life, then, it is not surprising that we should continually meet and eventually become united through this number. Consider, for example, that this year marks the graduation of the first four-year graduating class from SHS. Likewise, our four class levels have pioneered for the first time the four-quarter plan. The four seasons of this year, therefore, have been not only lived, but experienced by the students of Southwest High School this year, and will be relived and reexperienced, we hope, through this annual in years to come.

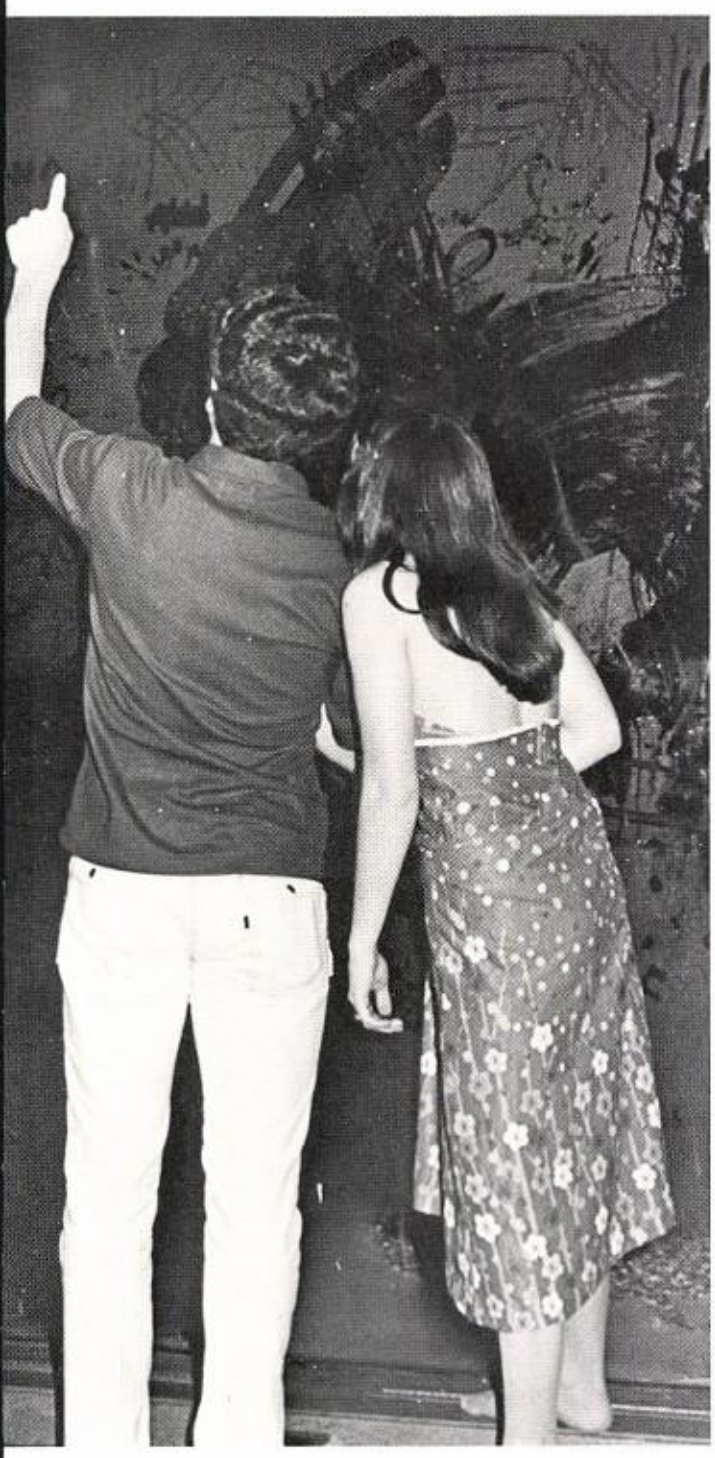
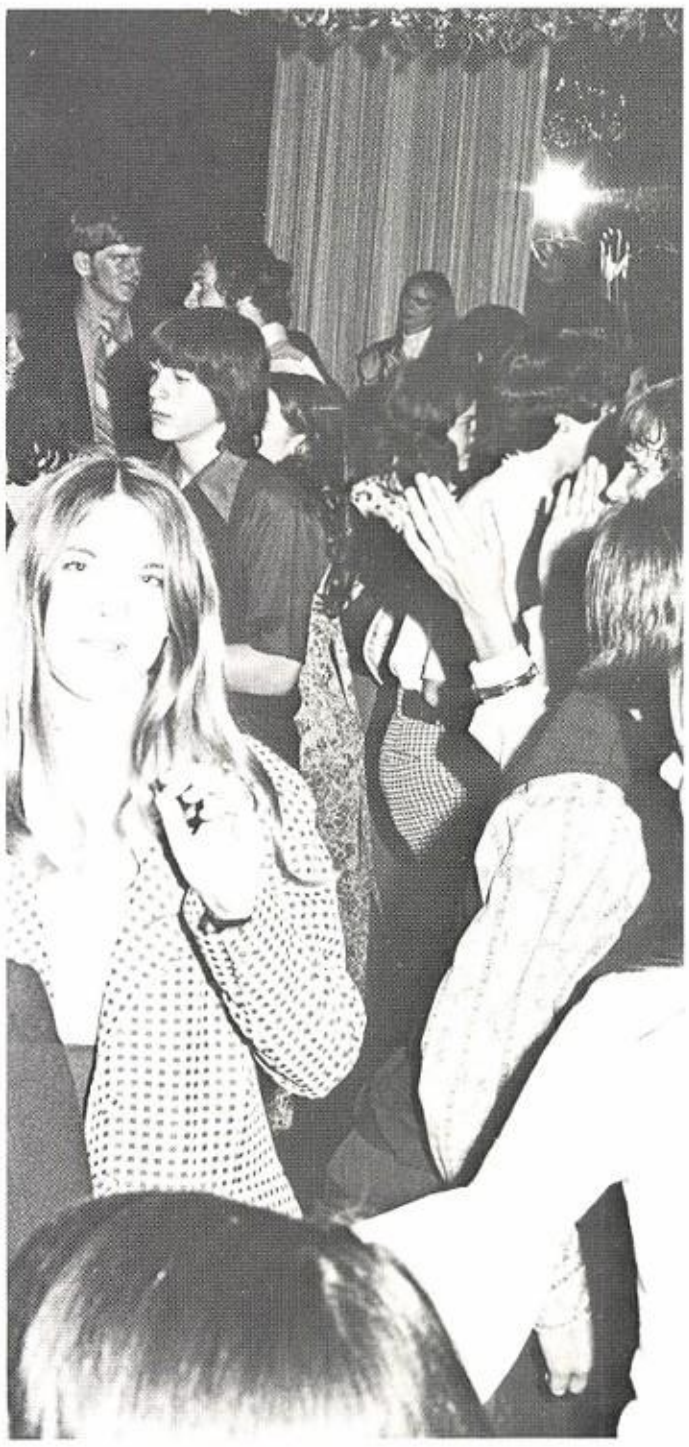
Backwards Boogie Ball Pleases Crowd





The girls had their big chance to ask that special boy out — to the Spring Backwards Boogie Ball, held at Shady Oaks Country Club. "Stymie" made the music, and a swell time was had by all . . . Greg Johnson appears to agree, or is he playing patty-cake? Those who didn't dance played tic-tac-toe on the nearest window . . . Was the dance fun? Just ask the crowd. (Top to bottom, l.-r.)

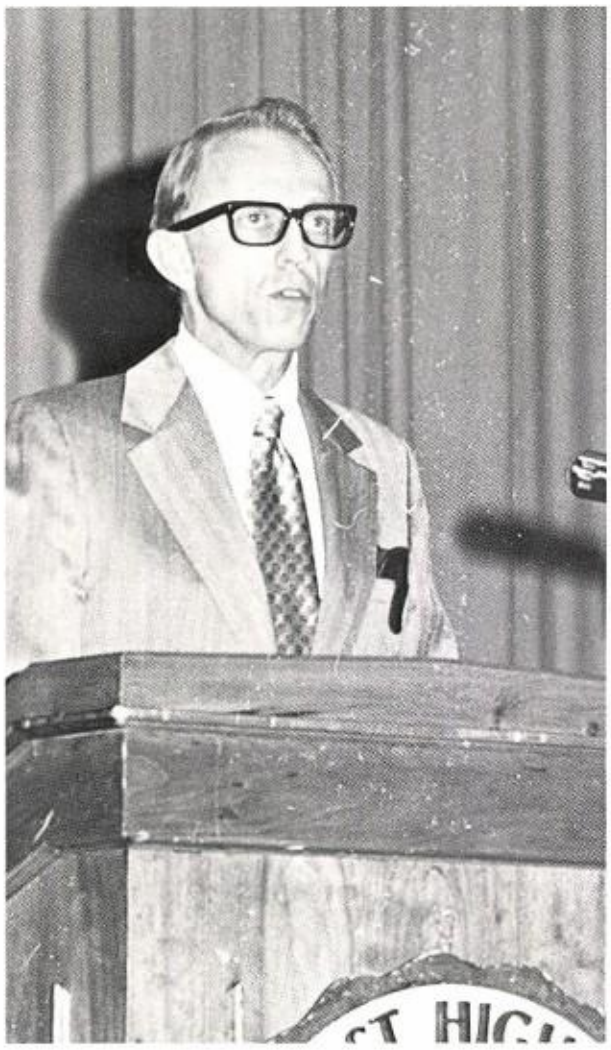
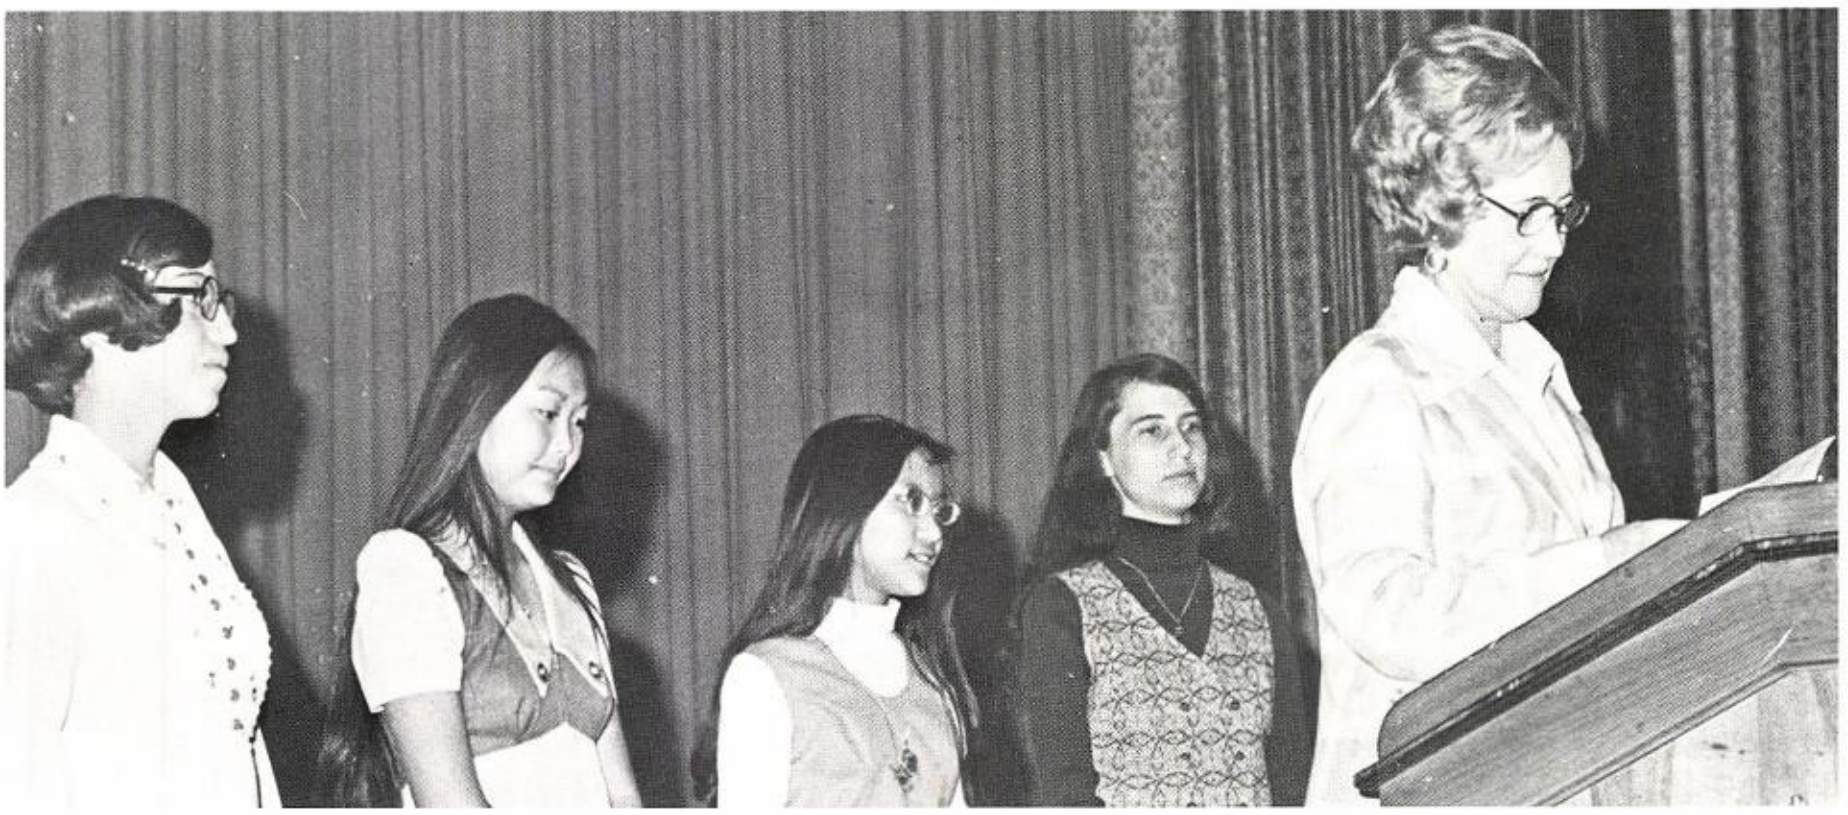
Students Reap Honors on Awards Night





The night when all the stars shine, Awards Night is a big event for students, parents, teachers, and administrators — when new landings in life's stairsteps of learning and achievement are acknowledged. Booster Club President Vaughan Roberson addressed the audience . . . Mark Alexander receives his third year Leonard Star Award from Mr. Roberts . . . while finalists for the Outstanding Sophomore Award await the announcement by Mrs. Catherine Thomas. Rebels Rank Second in 4-A Baseball

Varsity baseballers played to an outstanding 17-7 season, carrying a district record of 11-4 and shutting out Paschal 5-0 in the last round of 10-AAAA play.

B & C Teams Give Their All for the Red, White, 'n' Blue

"B" is for baseball, and the B-team did its best to play the game the way it ought to be played with runs, hits and as few errors as possible. Coming through for the freshmen, the C-team sluggers raised the dust on the diamond to create excitement with their winning ways out at the ole ball game.

Runners Race Through Rewarding Season

Southwest tracksters ran, threw, hurdled, jumped, and leaped to many individual and meet awards, though they failed to show in district. Individual goals were met, however, that could seem more rewarding to the team members than a title.

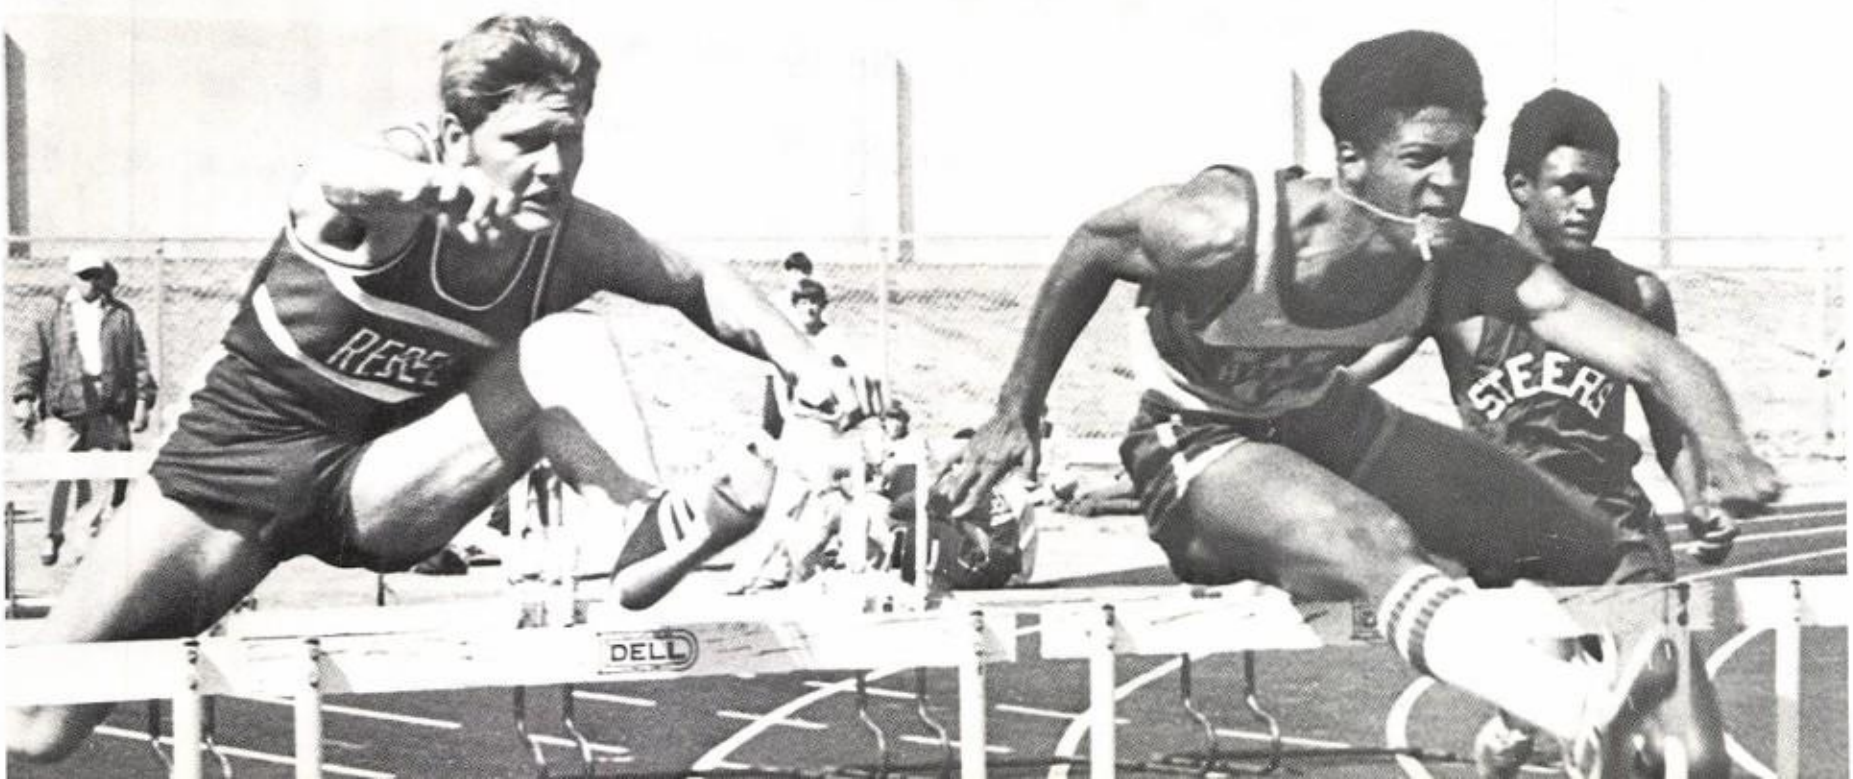
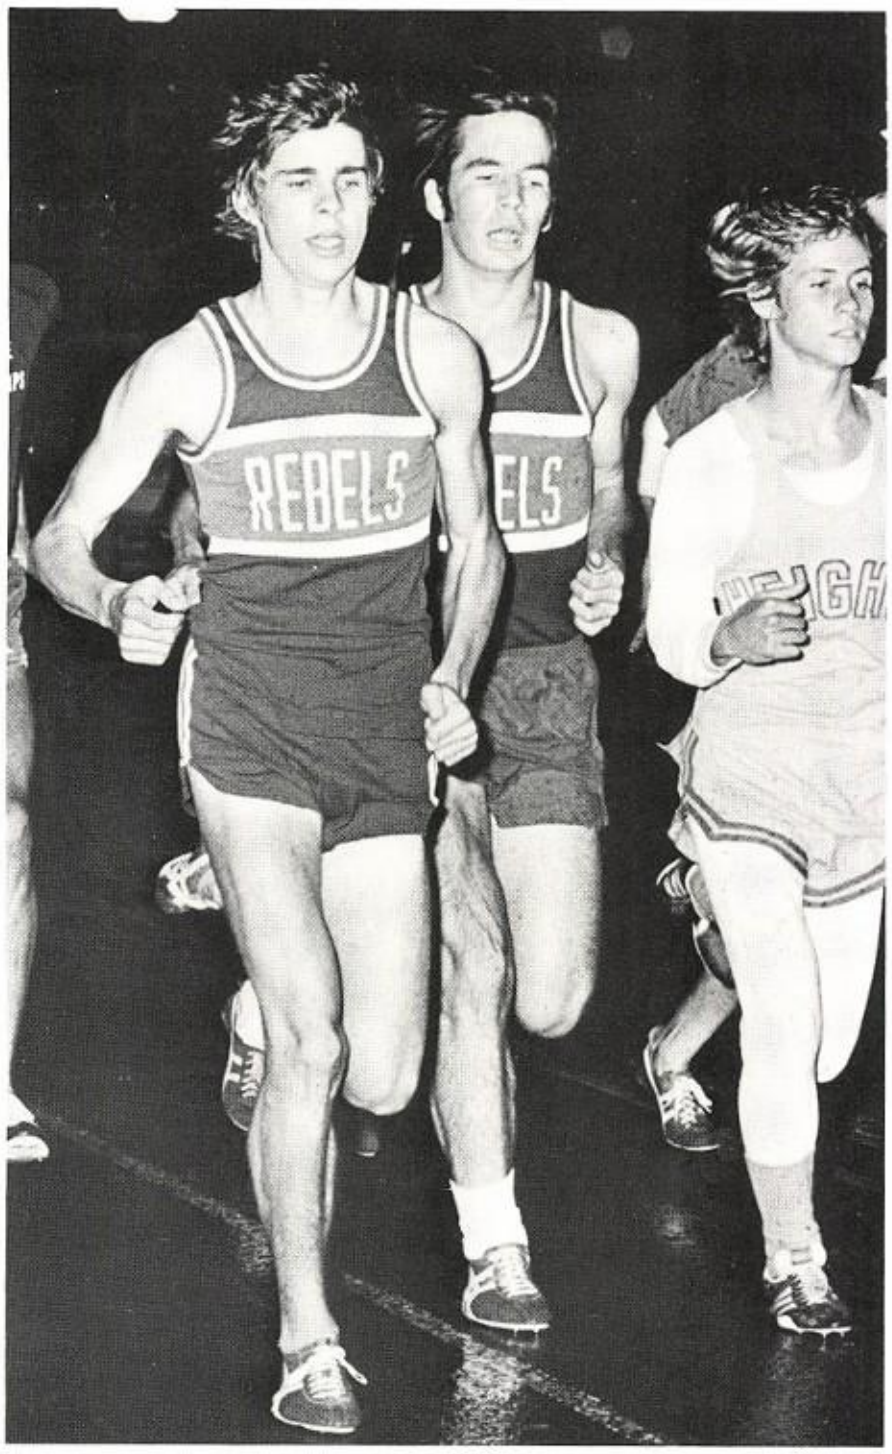
Yes, folks, David Piland is back at the high jump . . . Paul Fuchs, Gerald Beckham, and Mike Morris move out past a Paschal runner . . . David Daniels demonstrates that all races are equal . . . Carl McCormack closes in on a Western Hills runner in the high hurdles. (Top to bottom, l.-r.)





Doug Wright and Cliff Neumann move up in the mile . . . It may be unorthodox, but it sent Ronnie Wilson to a new J.V. record of 5-10 in the high jump. (Top to bottom, l.-r.)

Frosh Trackmen Win, Place, Show

John Ashworth cleared the heights to win the frosh high jump . . . Bob Robinson leaps into the sport in the long jump. (Top to bottom, l.-r.)

Swimmers Make Big Splash in City Competition

Winning firsts in city meets, placing high in district, sending candidates to state competition, the boys' and girls' swim teams made quite a splash in spring sports.

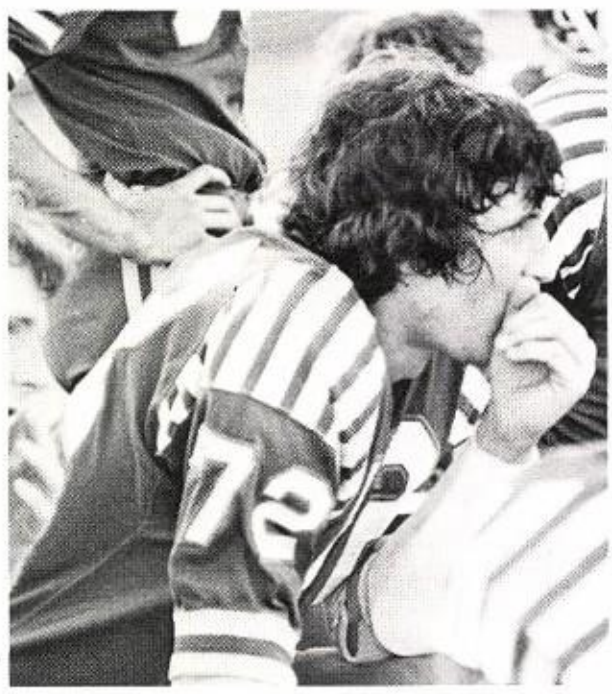
Picnic Kicks Off Senior Activities

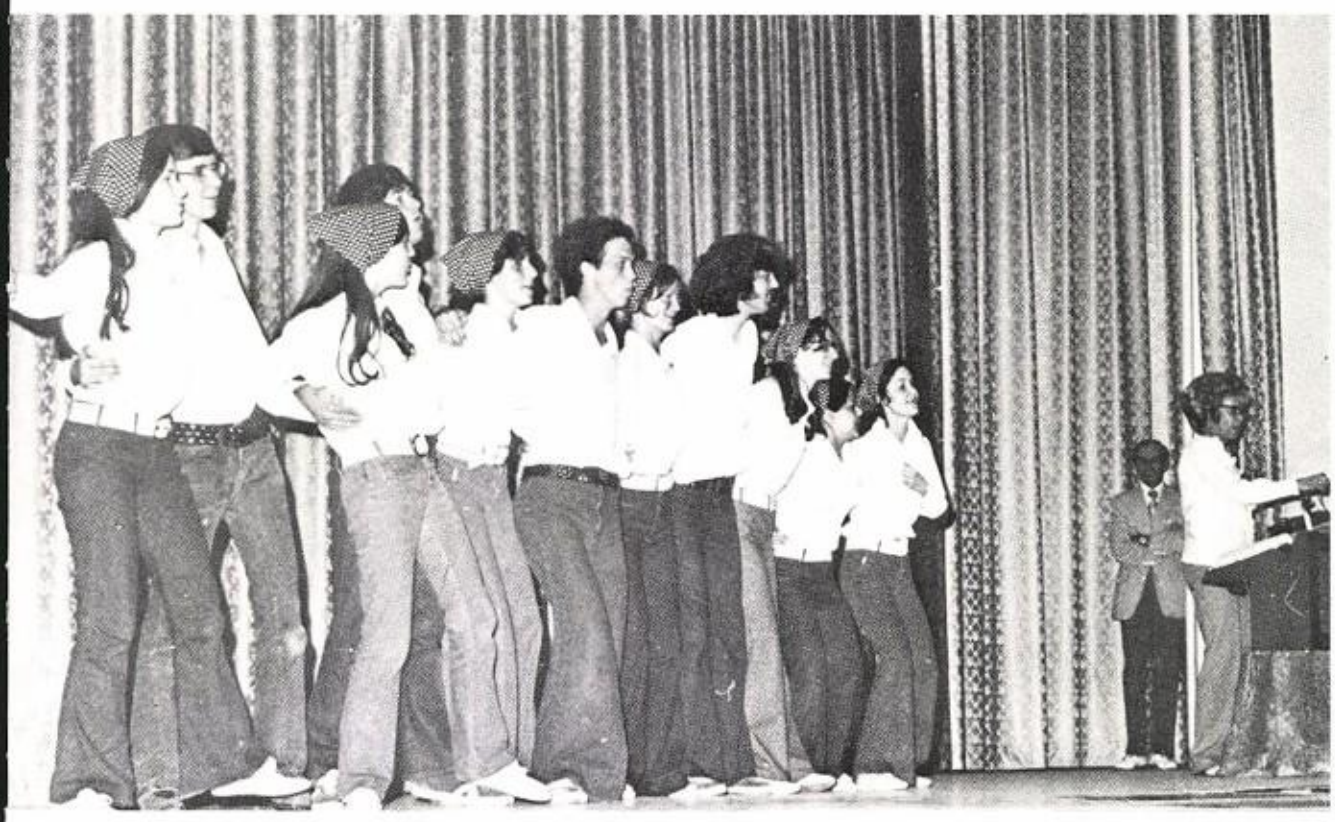
May 4th marked a special kind of craziness: a warm afternoon spent frolicking with friends for, perhaps, the last time ever . . . Volleyball — or was it bubble gumblowing? — provided fun, while horseback riding proved the favorite sport for others . . . Many seniors found the picnic a good time for relaxing and singing . . . Too, there was ping-pong, after which riding piggyback in the pool was a popular way to cool off. (Top to bottom, l.-r.)

Reds, Whites Clash in SHS's Spring Football Preview

Football an exclusively fall sport? Don't bet your sweet bippie. The Rebs get an early start on what's to come at the annual spring Red and White game, with a barbecue preceeding the ferocious battle . . . After the kick-off at Clark Field, Sterling Johnson and Marshall Harris study the situation as a White player sneaks through the Red's defense. At the final gun, though, the Reds proved victorious, with students, parents, and faculty alike convinced that both the Reds and Whites should put SHS at the top in 10-AAAA competition come fall. (Top to bottom, l.-r.)



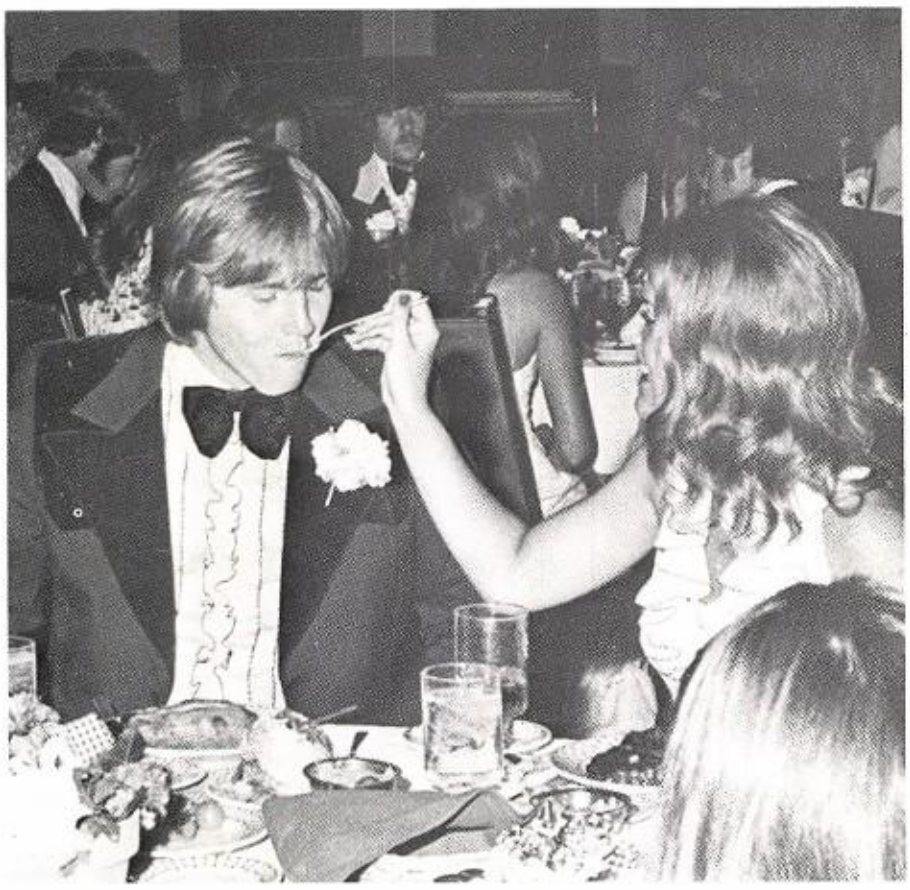
At Last Subscribers Get Their Animals . . . Er, 73 Annuals

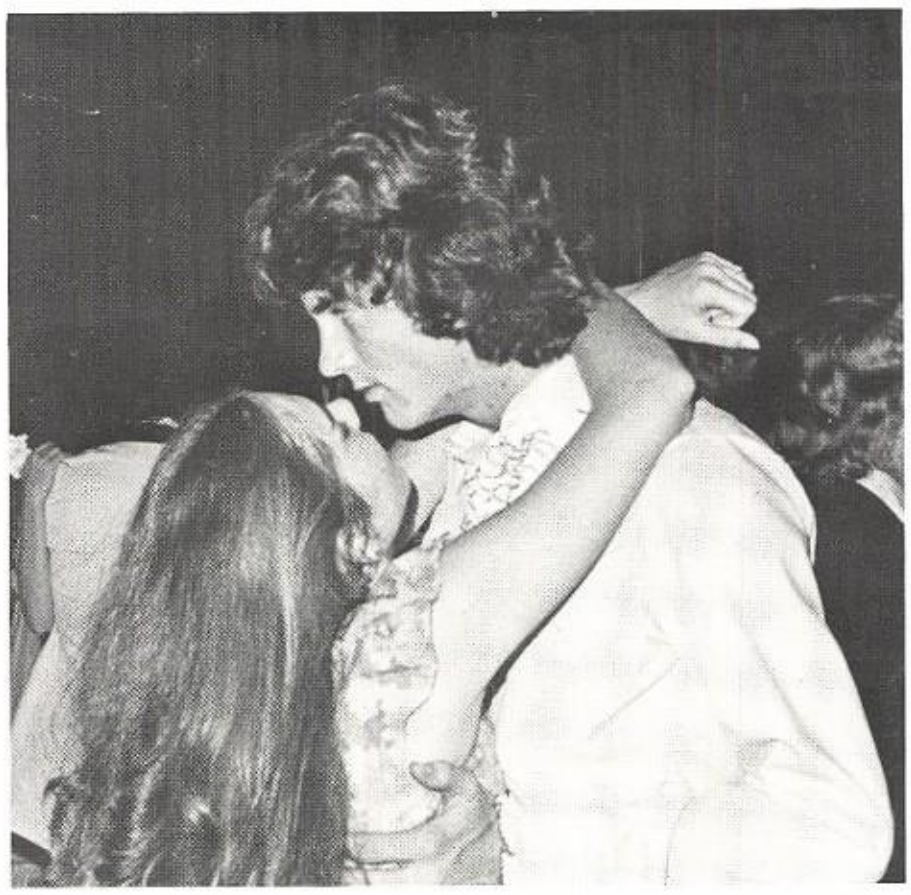


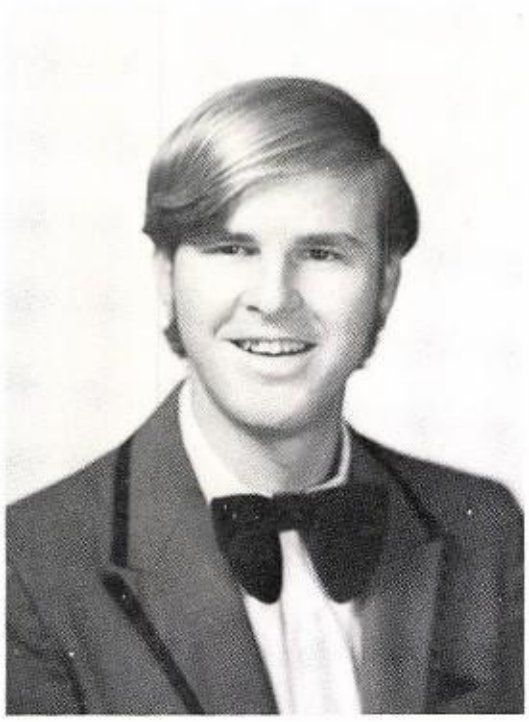
For students who remembered last year's great put-on — when Yee-Haw staffers half way convinced everyone the cover featured a smile face, it was happening again, only with animals this time, complete with an animal parade. Could "Talk to the Animals" really be the theme? The suspense ended with an Annual Day assembly for seniors, relieved to learn "Stairsteps" and the Quarter System combined a simple but fitting theme. . . . Honored teachers were presented their yearbooks as they left the stage, and then the big delivery was underway. (Top to bottom, l.-r.)

Grads Say "So Long Dixie" at Senior Dinner-Dance

A sweetheart and a song, a dinner and a dance form memories forever treasured by the Class of 73 . . . Sweetheart Nancy Kisler received roses after being applauded . . . Then the crowd ate on, though apparently some seniors must still be spoon fed. After which at least one couple proved dancing cheek to cheek, well, almost never's out of style. (Top to bottom, l.-r.)

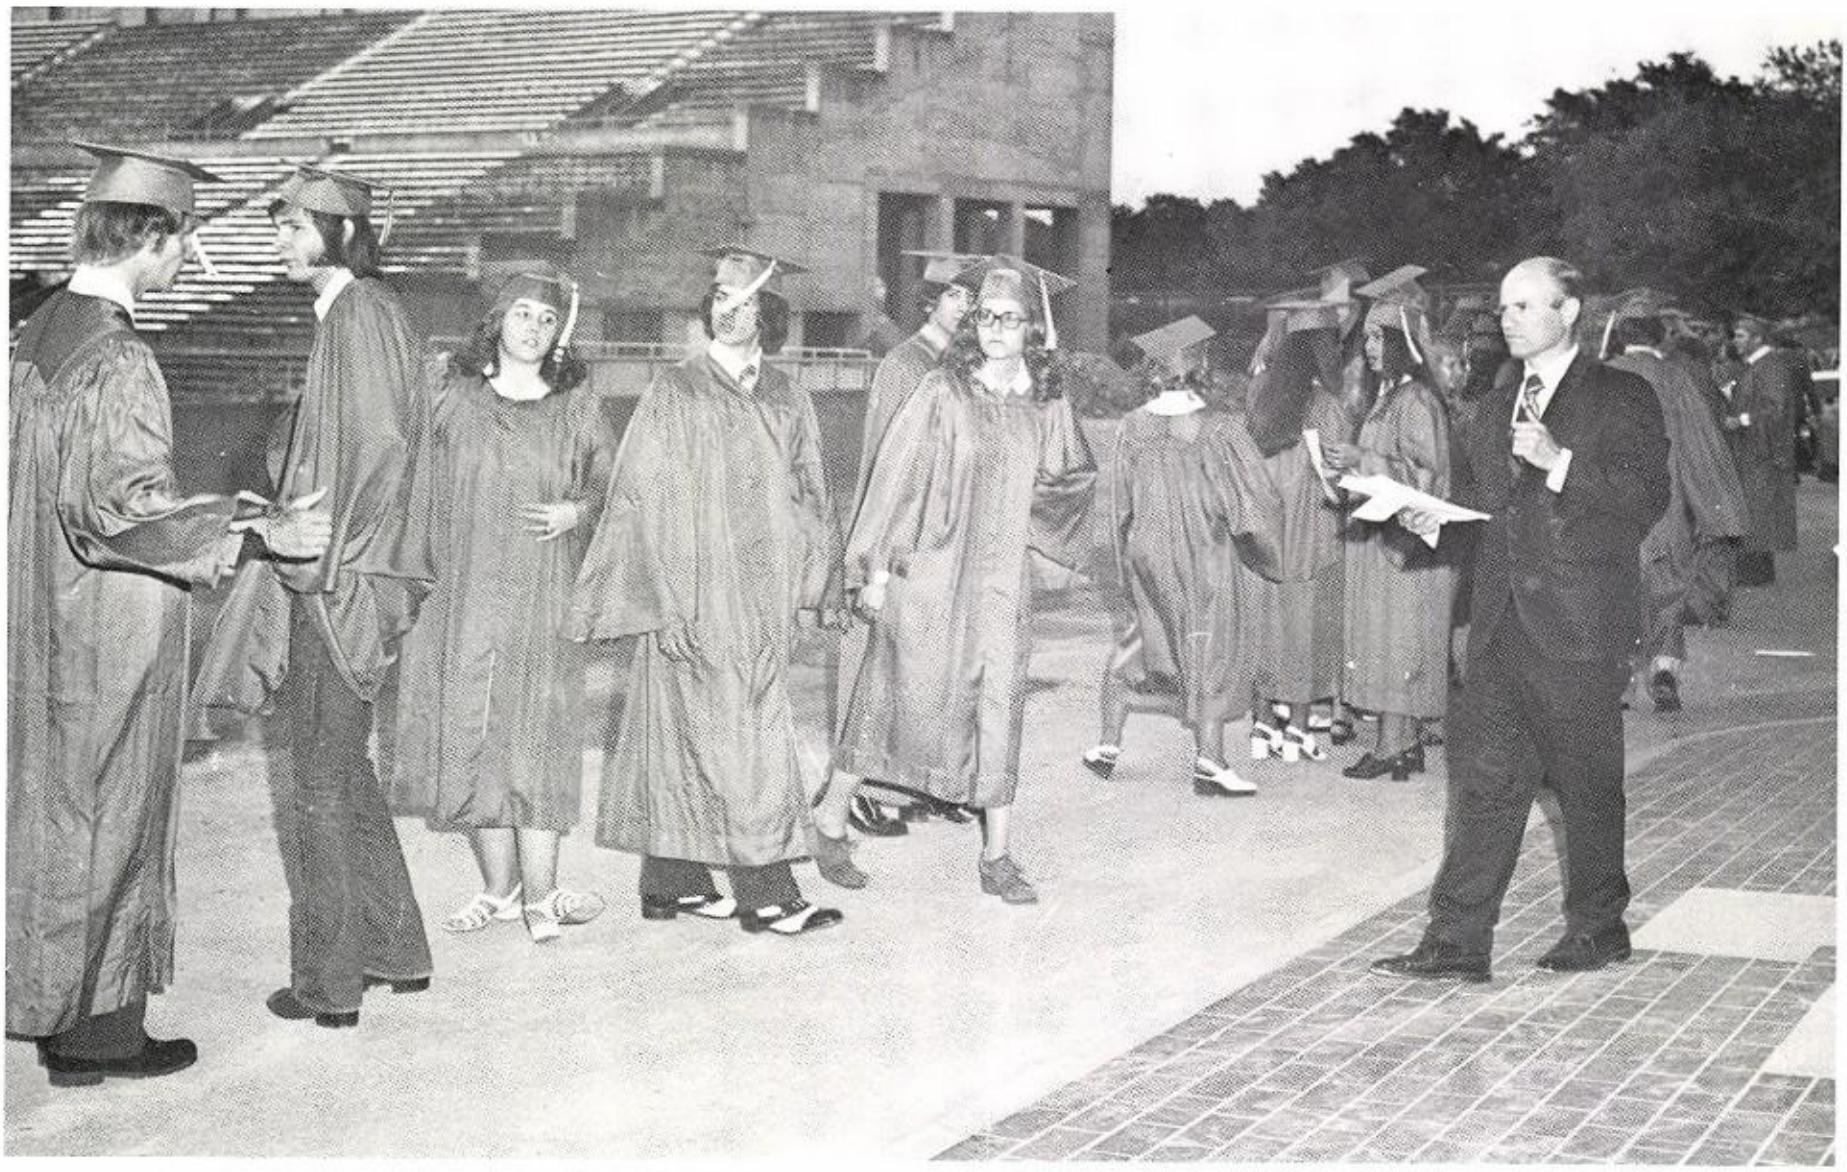






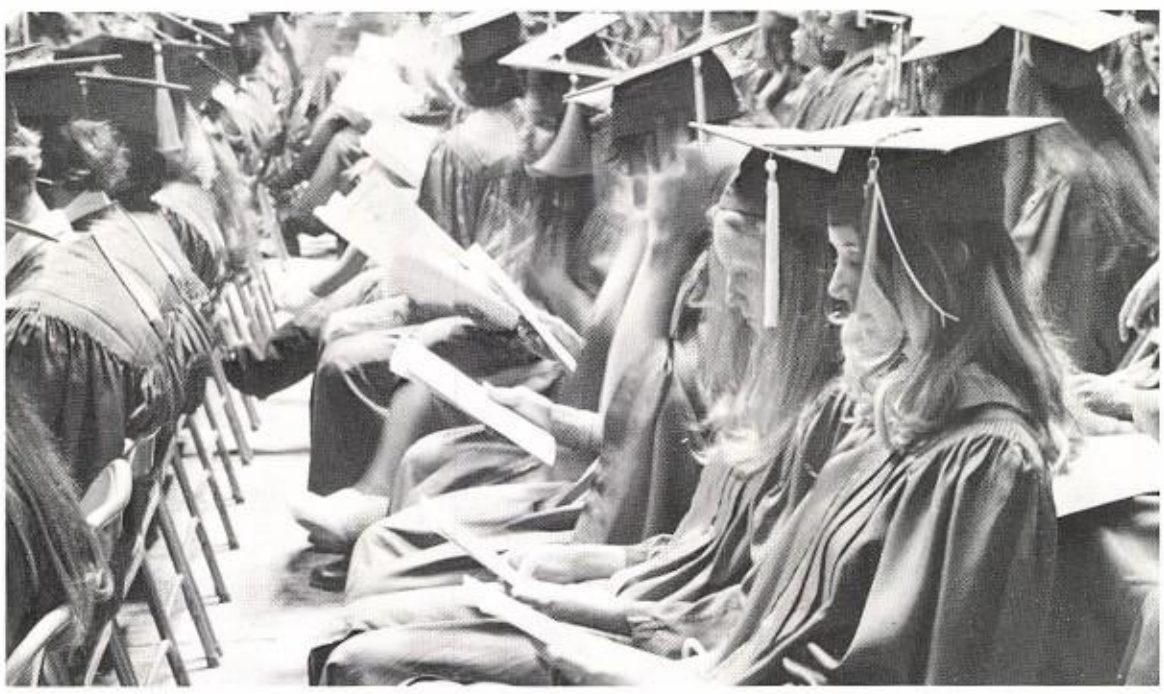
FWPS Seniors Observe Citywide Baccalaureate Services

From all Fort Worth high schools, seniors like Southwest's RANDY GORDON gathered together Sunday, May 27, for baccalaureate services held in the Tarrant County Convention Center — a time to reflect on the past, to look ahead to the future with hope.



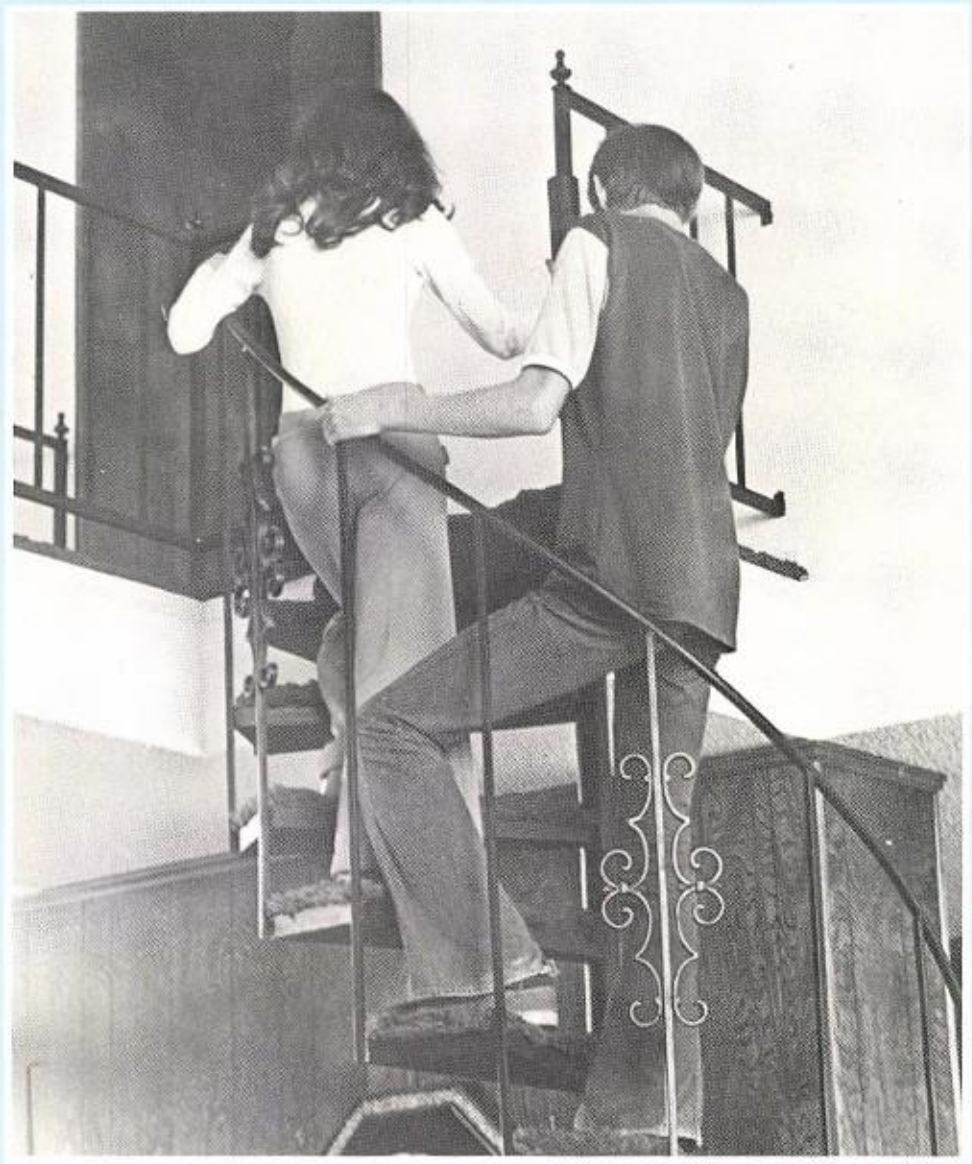
Commencement Comes at Long Last for SHS Class of 73

Finally it's here — the occasion seniors have been working toward and doubting would ever come! After a quick morning rehearsal, commencement May 30th is over all too quickly, with brief speeches from the faculty and the class's top scholars: LINDA MacGORMAN and JOE BLACKBURN. Looking at their diplomas, departing Rebels must be thinking, "I can't believe it's all over." Now we're on our own, and we see before us many different stairways to lead us to the stars.



Seniors Gather for One More Fling at Six Flags All-night Finale

The rain sprinkled, then poured, but it didn't dampen spirits as Southwest grads celebrated into the small hours of the morning at Six Flags, along with seniors from all over North Texas and Oklahoma . . . Richard Strickland and date stop for something to eat and drink . . . As for Logan Tyer, he's making sure he does the driving. (Top to bottom, l.-r.)



Your personal philosophy of life will eventually consume your existence, whether it be the desire of glory and material gain, or the desire of joy and happiness.

Peace be with you throughout your life.
